Reds Repulsed In Furious Fighting On Central Front

SEOUL, Sunday, May 31 (AP)—Chinese Reds threw fresh pre-dawn attacks at the Korean Central Front in cold, drizzling rain today. South Korean troops beat them off in two and one-half hours of heavy fighting.

The U. N. Command said a reinforced Communist battalion—about 800 men—struck a U. N. position north of Kumhwa at 1 a.m. It said some 200 hit another Allied position nearby at the same time. The Reds broke off both attacks before daylight.

Chinese knocked South Koreans off several outposts on a 20-mile sector of the Central Front in a 6,500-man attack Wednesday night. The Republic of Korea troops quickly grabbed back all but a few of the positions. Hand-to-hand fighting has raged over the disputed outposts since.

Infantry fighting dwindled on the Western Front but Allied big guns and warplanes kept up their heavy blasting at three outpost hills captured by Reds from American and Turkish soldiers in the year's heaviest attacks Thursday and Friday nights.

Allied ground troops nevertheless braced for more of what some regard as "bargaining power" attacks in the west.

Many officers saw a close tie between the abruptly powerful Red assaults that captured Carson, Elko and Vegas outposts and the truce talks due to resume Monday at Panmunjom.

They believed the Reds might be

Tem Theater Building Sold To M. Shuster

One of the biggest DeSiard street real estate transactions in recent years was announced Saturday by H. L. Rosenhein, realtor, who disclosed the sale of the building occupied by the Tem Theater at 129 DeSiard.

This building was bought by Morris Shuster of Shreveport from Jackson and Deas, Inc., of Shreveport. Shuster is owner of the Peacock Jewelry Stores, including the one located at the corner of DeSiard and St. John Streets in Monroe.

It was stated that in the early fall the building will be converted into retail store space. Details on the particular type of business that will occupy the store were not disclosed.

The building is 50 feet wide and 140 long and is completely air-conditioned. It is twice as wide as a large number of the downtown DeSiard Street stores. The site is considered one of the best business locations in Monroe, as it is surrounded by a large number of important business establishments.

Churchill Plans Meeting With 8 Heads Of State

LONDON, May 30 (AP)—Winston Churchill will ask eight fellow prime ministers in the British Commonwealth here next week to back his project for an early East-West parley, British sources said today.

Churchill thus hopes to strengthen his hand, these informants said, at his June conference in Bermuda with President Eisenhower and the new, still unchosen premier of France.

The coronation of Queen Elizabeth II has brought the leaders of the Commonwealth Nations to London. They will meet immediately after the Queen is crowned Tuesday for a region-by-region survey of the world situation and a close discussion of their own defense, economic and constitutional relationships.

The British Prime Minister's campaign for a meeting of the Big Western chiefs with Russia's Premier Georgi Malenkov undoubtedly would be reinforced if it had the unqualified support of the spokesmen for the globe-girdling Commonwealth's 550 million people.

Their world survey will range from the strains and stresses in the British-American partnership, through Europe and the uneasy Middle East to Pacific defense and the Korean truce.

Mercury Dips Here, But Outlook Is Warm

The high mark recorded by the CAA office at Selman Field here Saturday was 92 degrees as compared to a maximum reading Friday of 95 degrees. The low Saturday was 70.

The outlook for Sunday and Monday is for clear to partly cloudy skies, and warm mercury readings in the area.

CECIL JARVIS HILL

Rites Today For Victim Of Accident

Funeral services for Cecil Jarvis Hill, 35, Monroe man who was killed in an automobile accident near Gibsland late Friday, will be held in the Mulhearn Funeral Chapel at 4 p.m. today. The Rev. R. B. Kitchingham will officiate.

Interment will follow in the Riverview Burial Park with a Masonic burial service at the grave.

Traveling to Shreveport where he was to participate in the Fair Ground stock car races, he was reported to have been in a pick-up truck which he was driving when it struck a bridge abutment. The truck went out of control and turned over several times, it was reported.

Hill was the owner of the A-1 Upholstery, 203 Plum Street.

Born in Forest, Miss., Hill had lived in Monroe for about 30 years. He was connected with the Missouri Pacific Railroad Company before going into the service of the United States Infantry. Discharged in 1948, he returned to the railroad as traffic clerk, and opened his auto upholstery shortly afterwards.

Until time for the funeral the body will remain at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Hill, 1900 Railroad Avenue.

Hill is survived by his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Hayton Hill; two children, Ray Hill, aged 12 and Jeanne Hill, aged eight years; his parents; a brother F. Marzelle Hill; three sisters, Mrs. Charles Copeland, Orange, Tex.; Mrs. D. P. Whitmore, Fort Worth, Tex. and Mrs. Walter Powell, Silver Springs, Maryland.

Hill was a Mason, a Shriner, veteran of World War Two; belonged to the L. B. Faulk Post No. 13 American Legion, and also was member of Faith Baptist Church.

Members of Graham Surghnor Lodge of Masons, to which Mr. Hill belonged, will meet at the Masonic Temple in Monroe Sunday at 3:45 p.m. and proceed in a body to the funeral chapel.

Big Stepup In Delivery Of Warplanes Due

WASHINGTON, May 30—UP—The Defense Department, striking out at critics of proposed air power budget cuts, announced Saturday that 3,100 more Air Force and Navy planes will be delivered in fiscal 1954 than in fiscal 1953.

Of the planes— to be paid for with appropriations made under the Truman administration—2,300 will go to the Air Force and 800 to the Navy, officials said.

Department spokesmen made the disclosure in an official explanation of how Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson plans to strengthen air force combat units while cutting the air arm's overall spending by $2.4 billion in the 1954 fiscal year beginning July 1.

They also outlined planned economies underlying Wilson's proposal that Congress slash $5.09 billion from former President Truman's request for "new money" for the Air Force in fiscal 1954. This new money is largely for spending in future years but enables contracts to be placed during the year it is appropriated.

Wilson's spokesmen disclosed that he plans to reduce by 1,150 the number of so called "non-combat" aircraft previously scheduled for Air Force operation. Reductions will be made in a 30-month period starting July 1 and will cover trainer planes, transports, Helicopters and Liaison craft.

Purchase of transports for VIPs (very important persons) is to be eliminated.

Soldier Drowns In Rescue Try

PLATTSMOUTH, Neb., May 30 (AP)—A young Louisiana soldier, who went to the aid of a buddy, drowned early today in Holman Sandpit, north of here.

Cass County Sheriff Tom Solomon identified the victim as Cpl. William Chavious 22, of New Orleans. He was stationed at Fort Crook, near Omaha.

Solomon said Leo Kaderly, a soldier friend of Chavious, decided to go for a swim. He apparently developed cramps on the far side of the pit and called for help.

President Pays His Tribute To Military Dead

Visits Tomb Of Unknown Soldier In Virginia

WASHINGTON, May 30—(UP)—President Eisenhower, himself an old warrior, paid homage Saturday to dead of conflicts past—but he was preoccupied with a war of the present, half a world away in Korea.

On a placid hilltop overlooking the green sweep of Arlington National Cemetery, hallowed resting place for many American war heroes, the President and Mrs. Eisenhower led the nation in observance of Memorial Day.

Mr. Eisenhower applauded warmly a speech in which Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.) asserted sternly that America of this decade can no more "go it alone" than could America of the decade just past, when the President, as supreme Allied commander, led into European combat an army—assembled from many nations—that was the greatest in history under a single command.

Wiley's speech had more timeliness than is usual in such a ceremonial. Only this week, Senate Republican Leader Robert A. Taft had suggested that America be prepared to "go it alone" in the Korean war if current truce talks fail. Mr. Eisenhower already had flatly said "no" to the idea.

As Wiley spoke Saturday, The President listened intently.

"On this Memorial Day I do not believe that we could pay more fitting tribute to the honored dead than to reaffirm our faith in the UN as an instrument for working out the ills of a sick world," Wiley said.

Again, he said, "We did not 'go it alone' in the 1940s. We are not going to go it alone in the 1950s. The danger to us is far greater now than it was then."

House Chairman Plans More Cuts In Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON, May 30—UP—Chairman Robert B. Chiperfield of the House Foreign Affairs committee, said Saturday he expects to make "substantial" cuts in the administration's already trimmed foreign aid request.

But the Illinois Republican, who usually supports moves to reduce foreign aid, said in an interview that he can't see how the committee can slice off $2 billion as proposed by Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-N.Y.).

Reed, chairman of the tax-writing Ways and Means committee, said earlier in the week that foreign aid should be clipped by $2 billion to guarantee the taxpayers a tax cut.

Rep. John M. Vorys (R-Ohio), a key member of the Foreign Affairs committee, said he doubted his committee would slash that deeply into the administration's $5,475,000,000 request.

Vorys said, however, that a $2 billion cut "might be possible" by the time the actual appropriations are voted.

Chairman John M. Taber (R-N.Y.) of the House Appropriations committee, has said he believes at least $1.5 billion can be pared away without hurting the program by using accumulated, unspent funds from previous years.

But Vorys said the $2 billion cut would not be made "in our committee—not right now."

"I think that in addition to the cuts the administration has made," Chiperfield told a reporter, "the committee will make additional cuts of a substantial nature."

But he added that until hearings are finished, "I would not hazard a guess as to the amount of those cuts."

Senate To Act On Offshore Oil Measure Soon

WASHINGTON, May 30 —UP—Acting chairman Guy Cordon (R-Ore.) predicted Saturday the Senate Interior committee next week will approve a bill creating a federal leasing authority over the outer Continental Shelf.

Cordon indicated he expects the bill will be debated on the Senate floor week after next. He declined to predict the final form of the measure but said he believes it will not create much controversy.

However, a heated floor fight seemed inevitable on the legislation— a companion piece for the recently-enacted tidelands bill giving coastal states title to offshore lands out to their historic boundaries.

The states rights bill, signed into law by President Eisenhower last week, covered only the portion of the Continental Shelf immediately adjacent to the coastline — three miles for most states, 10½ for western Florida and Texas.

'Surprise' Atomic Blast Scheduled For Monday

LAS VEGAS, Nev., May 30 —UP—The atomic energy commission announced Saturday it will detonate a previously unscheduled atomic device at its proving grounds near here Monday morning "to confirm at once certain research and development results."

No details were released on the "surprise" test, but there were indications the blast might be the most powerful of the 31 nuclear explosions set off within the U.S.

The blast, which will be detonated before dawn, will conclude the spring series of tests carried out on the southern Nevada desert. Original plans called for 10 "shots" in the series, climaxed by the firing of the world's first atomic artillery shell last Monday.

Informed sources indicated next Monday's explosion would be equal in violence to at least two of the A-bombs dropped on Japan during World War II. Each was equal to approximately 20,000 tons of TNT.

The AEC said no further tests were planned for the proving grounds here after Monday. The new test was decided upon, a spokesman said, "to confirm at once certain research and development results just obtained at the Los Alamos, N. M., scientific laboratory."

Norris and H. Y. Johnson, a West Monroe carpenter have announced their candidacy for mayor.

Tornadoes Kill Two Persons In North Dakota

MANDAN, N. D., May 30—UP—Tornado warnings were issued for upper Wisconsin Saturday on the heels of twisters which killed two persons and injured 15 in the Dakotas.

In North Dakota, the rain-swollen Red River of the North spilled over its banks at several spots and threatened to rise higher. Warnings were issued to lowland residents.

U. S. weather forecasters warned of general thunderstorms over North and Central Wisconsin and said "There is some chance of a tornado or two in the area bounded by Madison, Green Bay, Park Falls and Eau Claire."

Twisters hit the Dakotas late Friday. They all but wiped out the village of Fort Rice, N. D., hurled the body of a Solon, N. D. farm hand a half mile, and ripped off the roof of a gymnasium at McLaughlin, S. D.

At Solon, N. D., Mrs. John Kuntz, 23, was killed, and her husband and three sons were injured seriously. The second tornado fatality was Mrs. John Rebenitsch Sr. who was killed at Fort Rice.

Truman Leads Memorial Day Procession

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., May 30 —UP—Former President Harry Truman led a Memorial Day procession to Woodlawn Cemetery Saturday, then settled down to a day of relaxation.

Walter Angel, president of the Independence Patriotic Council, introduced the former chief executive, who said he was "here to pay tribute to those men who through the history of the republic gave their lives to make it possible for the nation to exist."

Lone Pine Youth Ends Life After Row With Father

WINNSBORO, May 30, (Special) —Funeral services will be held here today for 19 - year - old William Wesley Price, who was said to have shot himself late Friday with a 32-30 repeater rifle after he and his father, John Wesley Price, had had an argument over use of the family pick-up truck.

Investigating officers, deputy sheriff's Travis Bass and John L. Waller, said that the reported suicide took place on the family farm ten miles northeast of Winnsboro in the Lone Pine community.

Deputy Sheriff Bass said that the youth went to the field where his father was plowing on a tractor, placed the stock of the gun on the ground and placed the barrel in his mouth. Bass asserted that young Price then pulled the trigger and died instantly.

The youth and his father had a quarrel over use of the truck, Bass said, and the boy refused to go to the field with the family to work. Later they returned to the house, the deputy asserted, and John Price told his son it was "not right for him to sit at home while the rest worked."

After the father left the house young Price went to a trunk, got bullets for the repeater rifle, and started to the field where his father was working, Bass said. At that time the mother and a 14-year-old brother were in the house and attempted to get the gun.

Upon arriving in the field where his father was working the son made a statement which was not heard and then fired the fatal blast, said Bass.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. in the Lone Pine Baptist Church with Rev. D. E. Mitchell, pastor of the Winnsboro Church of Christ, officiating. Interment, under the direction of Mulhearn Funeral Home, will follow in Harris cemetery.

Young Price is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wesley Price; one sister, Mrs. Roline Kimbrough, Baton Rouge; two brothers, Ernest Filmore and Jerry Wayne Price, both of Winnsboro.

Dr. Henry E. Jones, Franklin Parish coroner, stated that death was self - inflicted.

Tight Secrecy About Session Is Maintained

WASHINGTON, May 30—(UP)—President Eisenhower and his key diplomatic and military advisers conferred Saturday at a hastily-arranged White House conference on Korean developments.

There was no hint about what phases of the critical Far Eastern situation Mr. Eisenhower talked over with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and Gen. J. Lawton Collins, the Army chief of staff.

Meanwhile, Chairman Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee hinted that unless peace is attained soon he might be in favor of a more vigorous approach to the Korean war.

The administration is certain to be put under increasing pressure, if the latest truce offer is rejected by the Reds, to adopt at least some of the recommendations made by Gen. Douglas MacArthur former Far East supreme co

Congress Under Pressure In VA Hospital Cuts

WASHINGTON, May 30 —UP— Congress is under heavy pressure to head off the closing of some veterans hospitals, members reported Saturday.

Meanwhile, there were unconfirmed reports the House Appropriations committee will restore at least part of a $279,169,000 budget cut slapped on the Veterans Administration by the White House.

VA medical experts say the cut, if approved by Congress, may force them to close six or seven hospitals.

Chairman John Phillips (R-Calif.) of a subcommittee handling VA funds, has insisted the reduction won't close a single bed. But other House members reported Saturday they have heard that the Phillips group will put back enough of the curtailed funds to guarantee that no bed or hospital remains idle for lack of money.

The figure mentioned in the unconfirmed reports as likely to be restored was about $28 million — the portion of the Budget Bureau cut that was applied directly against hospital care.

Former President Truman had budgeted $585,527,200 for this purpose for the fiscal year starting July 1. President Eisenhower's budget-cutters reduced the amount sought to $556,790,100 — a reduction of $28,737,100.

The Phillips subcommittee, in event it approves the extra hospital funds, may slap some new restriction on hospital entitlement and on tax-supported dental repairs.

Phillips has charged that some veterans with big incomes have gotten free treatment in VA hospitals for ailments not due to military service, although such treatment is supposed to be limited to those not able to pay for it privately.

A number of members have complained about the out-patient dental program, for which about $14 million was alloted in the Eisenhower budget — a reduction of about $23,105,000 from the sum recommended by Mr. Truman.

Lone Survivor Of Union Army Observes Holiday

DULUTH, Minn., May 30—UP—Drummer boy Albert Woolson, 106, lone survivor of the Union army of the Civil War, braved chilly winds and 40 degree temperatures Saturday to "thoroughly enjoy" Memorial Day services.

Alert and active despite his age, Woolson arose at 6:30 a. m., shaved and donned his bright blue GAR uniform in preparation for the day's activities.

Wearing an overcoat to ward off the nippy wind off Lake Superior, he first appeared at the civic center to place a wreath on the Soldiers and Sailors monument, then stood with his head bared while taps were played and three shots were fired.

Then as grand marshal of a mile and a half long Memorial Day Parade, Woolson rode in a convertible with the top up to the National Guard armory where memorial services were held.

For the first time since Memorial Day first was celebrated he was the only GAR veteran left. The other surviving veteran, James Hard, 111, Rochester, N. Y., died earlier this year.

Cass County Sheriff Tom Solomon identified the victim as Cpl. William Chavious 22, of New Orleans. He was stationed at Fort Crook, near Omaha.

Solomon said Leo Kaderly, a soldier friend of Chavious, decided to go for a swim. He apparently developed cramps on the far side of the pit and called for help.

Senate To Act On Offshore Oil Measure Soon

WASHINGTON, May 30 —UP—Acting chairman Guy Cordon (R-Ore.) predicted Saturday the Senate Interior committee next week will approve a bill creating a federal leasing authority over the outer Continental Shelf.

Cordon indicated he expects the bill will be debated on the Senate floor week after next. He declined to predict the final form of the measure but said he believes it will not create much controversy.

However, a heated floor fight seemed inevitable on the legislation— a companion piece for the recently-enacted tidelands bill giving coastal states title to offshore lands out to their historic boundaries.

The states rights bill, signed into law by President Eisenhower last week, covered only the portion of the Continental Shelf immediately adjacent to the coastline — three miles for most states, 10½ for western Florida and Texas.

President Pays His Tribute To Military Dead

Visits Tomb Of Unknown Soldier In Virginia

WASHINGTON, May 30—(UP)—President Eisenhower, himself an old warrior, paid homage Saturday to dead of conflicts past—but he was preoccupied with a war of the present, half a world away in Korea.

On a placid hilltop overlooking the green sweep of Arlington National Cemetery, hallowed resting place for many American war heroes, the President and Mrs. Eisenhower led the nation in observance of Memorial Day.

Mr. Eisenhower applauded warmly a speech in which Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.) asserted sternly that America of this decade can no more "go it alone" than could America of the decade just past, when the President, as supreme Allied commander, led into European combat an army—assembled from many nations—that was the greatest in history under a single command.

Wiley's speech had more timeliness than is usual in such a ceremonial. Only this week, Senate Republican Leader Robert A. Taft had suggested that America be prepared to "go it alone" in the Korean war if current truce talks fail. Mr. Eisenhower already had flatly said "no" to the idea.

As Wiley spoke Saturday, The President listened intently.

"On this Memorial Day I do not believe that we could pay more fitting tribute to the honored dead than to reaffirm our faith in the UN as an instrument for working out the ills of a sick world," Wiley said.

Again, he said, "We did not 'go it alone' in the 1940s. We are not going to go it alone in the 1950s. The danger to us is far greater now than it was then."

House Chairman Plans More Cuts In Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON, May 30—UP—Chairman Robert B. Chiperfield of the House Foreign Affairs committee, said Saturday he expects to make "substantial" cuts in the administration's already trimmed foreign aid request.

But the Illinois Republican, who usually supports moves to reduce foreign aid, said in an interview that he can't see how the committee can slice off $2 billion as proposed by Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-N.Y.).

Reed, chairman of the tax-writing Ways and Means committee, said earlier in the week that foreign aid should be clipped by $2 billion to guarantee the taxpayers a tax cut.

Rep. John M. Vorys (R-Ohio), a key member of the Foreign Affairs committee, said he doubted his committee would slash that deeply into the administration's $5,475,000,000 request.

Vorys said, however, that a $2 billion cut "might be possible" by the time the actual appropriations are voted.

Chairman John M. Taber (R-N.Y.) of the House Appropriations committee, has said he believes at least $1.5 billion can be pared away without hurting the program by using accumulated, unspent funds from previous years.

But Vorys said the $2 billion cut would not be made "in our committee—not right now."

"I think that in addition to the cuts the administration has made," Chiperfield told a reporter, "the committee will make additional cuts of a substantial nature."

But he added that until hearings are finished, "I would not hazard a guess as to the amount of those cuts."

Missouri Pacific Official Dies Here

Fred K. Vaughan, 69, of Monroe, assistant superintendent of the Missouri Pacific railroad here died Saturday night in St. Francis Sanitarium of a heart ailment.

Vaughan, who came to Monroe in 1907, and who had served 51 years with the Missouri Pacific, had been ill since Wednesday.

The veteran railroad man who resided at 1510 North Third, is survived by two children, Mary Vaughan Peavy, and Dr. Frederick K. Vaughan, of New Orleans.

Funeral services under direction of the Hixson Brothers Funeral Home will be conducted at 4:30 p.m. Sunday at Riverview Burial Park.

'Surprise' Atomic Blast Scheduled For Monday

LAS VEGAS, Nev., May 30 —UP—The atomic energy commission announced Saturday it will detonate a previously unscheduled atomic device at its proving grounds near here Monday morning "to confirm at once certain research and development results."

No details were released on the "surprise" test, but there were indications the blast might be the most powerful of the 31 nuclear explosions set off within the U.S.

The blast, which will be detonated before dawn, will conclude the spring series of tests carried out on the southern Nevada desert. Original plans called for 10 "shots" in the series, climaxed by the firing of the world's first atomic artillery shell last Monday.

Informed sources indicated next Monday's explosion would be equal in violence to at least two of the A-bombs dropped on Japan during World War II. Each was equal to approximately 20,000 tons of TNT.

The AEC said no further tests were planned for the proving grounds here after Monday. The new test was decided upon, a spokesman said, "to confirm at once certain research and development results just obtained at the Los Alamos, N. M., scientific laboratory.

R. C. Jolissaint In West Monroe Race For Mayor

R. C. Jolissaint, at present mayor pro-tem of West Monroe, Saturday announced his candidacy for mayor to oppose two previous announced candidates.

Jolissaint, who has served three years as alderman, owns and operates the Twin City Welding and Machine Shop. He has been mayor pro-tem of the city since a court ouster of J. Allen Norris, who was appointed by Gov. Robert F. Kennon.

Norris and H. Y. Johnson, a West Monroe carpenter have announced their candidacy for mayor.

Jolissaint's platform states that he advocates home rule, independent of political machinery and if elected will encourage business and industry to locate in West Monroe so as to create more jobs for local citizens. The candidate states that he expects to attract industry by obtaining adequate water at reasonable rates, first class fire protection to lower insurance rates and to encourage resurfacing of streets on a street by street basis

Milton, pastor of the Haynesville First Methodist Church, will become pastor of the West Monroe First Methodist Church.

All other Methodist churches in Monroe and West Monroe will have their pastors returned by the conference.

Tornadoes Kill Two Persons In North Dakota

MANDAN, N. D., May 30—UP—Tornado warnings were issued for upper Wisconsin Saturday on the heels of twisters which killed two persons and injured 15 in the Dakotas.

In North Dakota, the rain-swollen Red River of the North spilled over its banks at several spots and threatened to rise higher. Warnings were issued to lowland residents.

U. S. weather forecasters warned of general thunderstorms over North and Central Wisconsin and said "There is some chance of a tornado or two in the area bounded by Madison, Green Bay, Park Falls and Eau Claire."

Twisters hit the Dakotas late Friday. They all but wiped out the village of Fort Rice, N. D., hurled the body of a Solon, N. D. farm hand a half mile, and ripped off the roof of a gymnasium at McLaughlin, S. D.

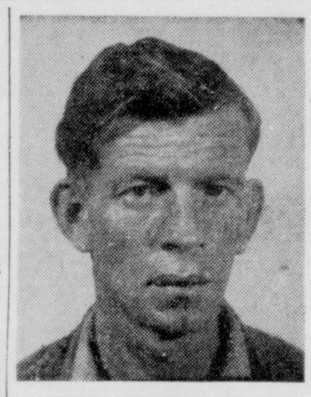

At Solon, N. D., Mrs. John Kuntz, 23, was killed, and her husband and three sons were injured seriously. The second tornado fatality was Mrs. John Rebenitsch Sr. who was killed at Fort Rice.

Truman Leads Memorial Day Procession

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., May 30 —UP—Former President Harry Truman led a Memorial Day procession to Woodlawn Cemetery Saturday, then settled down to a day of relaxation.

Mr. Truman, wearing a new gray suit, sport shoes and a jauntily tilted straw hat, marched in the front line of the annual parade from downtown Independence to the Woodlawn burial ground of pioneers.

Walter Angel, president of the Independence Patriotic Council, introduced the former chief executive, who said he was "here to pay tribute to those men who through the history of the republic gave their lives to make it possible for the nation to exist."

SHOT WHILE ESCAPING — Wesley Alton Allgood, who was serving a three-year sentence at the state penitentiary at Angola for simple arson, was fatally shot while attempting to escape the prison. He was sentenced to Angola in Fourth District Court here on Feb. 26 of this year.

City Man Killed In Escape Try At State Prison

An Associated Press report from the state prison at Angola early Saturday morning listed a Monroe man, serving a three - year sentence for simple arson, as killed when he attempted to escape from the penitentiary.

The man, Wesley Alton Allgood, 38, was sentenced to Angola in Fourth District Court here on February 26 of this year.

Funeral services were incomplete late yesterday, but will be announced later by Hall Funeral Home.

Allgood was reported shot when he attempted to run from the compound. The name of the guard who shot Allgood was not released. He died at 8 p.m.

Lone Pine Youth Ends Life After Row With Father

WINNSBORO, May 30, (Special) —Funeral services will be held here today for 19 - year - old William Wesley Price, who was said to have shot himself late Friday with a 32-30 repeater rifle after he and his father, John Wesley Price, had had an argument over use of the family pick-up truck.

Investigating officers, deputy sheriff's Travis Bass and John L. Waller, said that the reported suicide took place on the family farm ten miles northeast of Winnsboro in the Lone Pine community.

Deputy Sheriff Bass said that the youth went to the field where his father was plowing on a tractor, placed the stock of the gun on the ground and placed the barrel in his mouth. Bass asserted that young Price then pulled the trigger and died instantly.

The youth and his father had a quarrel over use of the truck, Bass said, and the boy refused to go to the field with the family to work. Later they returned to the house, the deputy asserted, and John Price told his son it was "not right for him to sit at home while the rest worked."

After the father left the house young Price went to a trunk, got bullets for the repeater rifle, and started to the field where his father was working, Bass said. At that time the mother and a 14-year-old brother were in the house and attempted to get the gun.

Upon arriving in the field where his father was working the son made a statement which was not heard and then fired the fatal blast, said Bass.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. in the Lone Pine Baptist Church with Rev. D. E. Mitchell, pastor of the Winnsboro Church of Christ, officiating. Interment, under the direction of Mulhearn Funeral Home, will follow in Harris cemetery.

Young Price is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wesley Price; one sister, Mrs. Roline Kimbrough, Baton Rouge; two brothers, Ernest Filmore and Jerry Wayne Price, both of Winnsboro.

Dr. Henry E. Jones, Franklin Parish coroner, stated that death was self - inflicted.

Top Military And Diplomatic Aides Attend

Tight Secrecy About Session Is Maintained

WASHINGTON, May 30—(UP)—President Eisenhower and his key diplomatic and military advisers conferred Saturday at a hastily-arranged White House conference on Korean developments.

There was no hint about what phases of the critical Far Eastern situation Mr. Eisenhower talked over with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and Gen. J. Lawton Collins, the Army chief of staff.

Meanwhile, Chairman Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee hinted that unless peace is attained soon he might be in favor of a more vigorous approach to the Korean war.

The administration is certain to be put under increasing pressure, if the latest truce offer is rejected by the Reds, to adopt at least some of the recommendations made by Gen. Douglas MacArthur former Far East supreme co

Congress Under Pressure In VA Hospital Cuts

WASHINGTON, May 30 —UP— Congress is under heavy pressure to head off the closing of some veterans hospitals, members reported Saturday.

Meanwhile, there were unconfirmed reports the House Appropriations committee will restore at least part of a $279,169,000 budget cut slapped on the Veterans Administration by the White House.

VA medical experts say the cut, if approved by Congress, may force them to close six or seven hospitals.

Chairman John Phillips (R-Calif.) of a subcommittee handling VA funds, has insisted the reduction won't close a single bed. But other House members reported Saturday they have heard that the Phillips group will put back enough of the curtailed funds to guarantee that no bed or hospital remains idle for lack of money.

The figure mentioned in the unconfirmed reports as likely to be restored was about $28 million — the portion of the Budget Bureau cut that was applied directly against hospital care.

Former President Truman had budgeted $585,527,200 for this purpose for the fiscal year starting July 1. President Eisenhower's budget-cutters reduced the amount sought to $556,790,100 — a reduction of $28,737,100.

The Phillips subcommittee, in event it approves the extra hospital funds, may slap some new restriction on hospital entitlement and on tax-supported dental repairs.

Phillips has charged that some veterans with big incomes have gotten free treatment in VA hospitals for ailments not due to military service, although such treatment is supposed to be limited to those not able to pay for it privately.

A number of members have complained about the out-patient dental program, for which about $14 million was alloted in the Eisenhower budget — a reduction of about $23,105,000 from the sum recommended by Mr. Truman.

Lone Survivor Of Union Army Observes Holiday

DULUTH, Minn., May 30—UP—Drummer boy Albert Woolson, 106, lone survivor of the Union army of the Civil War, braved chilly winds and 40 degree temperatures Saturday to "thoroughly enjoy" Memorial Day services.

Alert and active despite his age, Woolson arose at 6:30 a. m., shaved and donned his bright blue GAR uniform in preparation for the day's activities.

Wearing an overcoat to ward off the nippy wind off Lake Superior, he first appeared at the civic center to place a wreath on the Soldiers and Sailors monument, then stood with his head bared while taps were played and three shots were fired.

Then as grand marshal of a mile and a half long Memorial Day Parade, Woolson rode in a convertible with the top up to the National Guard armory where memorial services were held.

For the first time since Memorial Day first was celebrated he was the only GAR veteran left. The other surviving veteran, James Hard, 111, Rochester, N. Y., died earlier this year.

The Outlook

In these weeks of swiftly passing events of great importance, it is well to pause and take stock of the world situation. In the belief that a well informed public can better cope with the problems, both international and local, this newspaper every fortnight or so endeavors to discuss a "roundup" of the entire situation.

Momentous events are taking place in the Far East at this point and from all sources, it would appear that the "U. N." will force the U. S. to go along with its sellout of the South Korean government. Should this be the case, and should another "secret deal" be perpetrated in that unhappy sector of the world, it will forever brand this nation an accomplice to evil deeds. The President has supported the "truce plan" of the "U. N." which guarantees that there will be supervision of the POWs in Korea who refuse to return to their Communist homelands. This supervision will be conducted by three "neutrals" and two Communist nations. There has been no provision that the Communists should throw all Korea open to free elections as the South Korean government demands and needs, rather, that government has been unfortunately left out of the "bargaining" and this truce, if it can be called that, has been shoved down their throats.

The Indian plan, which is what is being proposed by the "U. N." was approved by Mao, the Chinese Communist leader himself and also by the Soviets. It is known that this deal has been completely engineered by the British and the Indians for their own benefit and none of the United States. The leftists are presently rejoicing at this unfortunate deal which will go down in the annals of history as a complete sellout of a great people who have proved themselves in war as allies of this nation. The United States has far too few allies in this world to sell out another at this point.

The British, and they have certainly failed in this business, are the greatest appeasers of modern mankind. They are again appeasing at the expense of the United States. Churchill appeals Chamberlain. The Communists the world over will have the knowledge that wherever they attack, they are certain to win because the allies are "appeasers." The hundreds of thousands of Americans and Koreans have died in vain. They were thrown in to stop aggression and their efforts have been nullified. Korea will not be united, there will be more and greater aggression in the East and even more Americans will be killed.

The "United Nations" has ceased to exist as a factor in stopping aggression. This is a time for blunt words. The South Korean nation cannot and should not be sold down the river.

All over the world, the Reds are on the move. Their bases in Indo-China are now being prepared and it is certain that Burma and India will soon receive the lash of Communist aggression. In Iran, there is more strife and disorder following the attempt of Mossadegh to take the power of the Shah into his own hands. He has failed for the moment. Egypt is preparing to throw the British out, and further down in Africa, the Mau Mau is in full, open rebellion against the British.

The British in Tanganyika are suffering from the Communist type guerilla warfare. The Union of South Africa is seething with revolt and Prime Minister Malan is desperately attempting by all methods to stave off more trouble. The French government fell again after much wrangling and there is a new attempt to form a cabinet. At best, the French will be weak allies. In Germany, Chancellor Adenauer has claimed that the Communists are working overtime in the young republic to cause its downfall. They are being aided by the "Neo-Nazis" and by huge amounts of propaganda. The young Queen of England, who is to be crowned on Tuesday must see some of the aspects of the appeasement being done in the name of her crown. In foreign policy, Churchill, the former anti-Communist, is being supported by all segments of the left in his deeds. There is much anti-American feeling prevelant in England now.

In this hemisphere, all is also not well. The Communists are moving forward in their campaign to communize the Argentine. Peron's hate toward the United States can only be matched by the speed with which his position is being undermined by the Communists. Guatemala might just as well be termed the "Guatemalan Soviet Socialist Republic." Its foreign minister, Sr. Raul Osegueda has hinted that the United States is a "Fascist nation." That little country recently withdrew from a group of Central and South American nations attempting to form a union against Communism. There has been the taking over of property owned by foreign nationals on a scale reminiscent of the Communist seizure in Russia in 1918. There are reports, not yet confirmed that Guatemala has been trading arms for coffee with the Czechs.

In the United States, the Rosenbergs, a miserable pair of traitors if ever there was one, have been condemned to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison in New York. They can still save themselves if they choose to turn evidence over to the Federal Government as to who else was in their spy ring. They have used every known aspect of law in an effort to save their traitorous hides. Their lawyer hopes to avert the coming disaster and can be expected to do everything in his power to save them at the last minute.

From the appearance of things, the outlook this day seems terrible. There seems to be no way to stop the Communists and those who thought that Stalin's death would be of assistance to the free world have had to reorganize their thinking and have their hopes dashed to the ground. The Europeans have to a great degree by their appeasement, aided the job of the new Soviet leaders. It is known in this nation, as it was never known before, that appeasement cannot win victories.

Unless there is a marked change in the foreign outlook, bad days will be ahead.

Give Them Sunshine And Happiness

Have you ever stopped to think how lucky you are? No matter whether you have lost everything pecuniary in life, it is probable that you have your two good hands and legs. Maybe, you only have one hand. You can see. Have you ever thought about how it would be if you couldn't see? Put your hand over your eyes. Walk around the room. Not pleasant is it?

Don't you take your sight for granted? Most folks do. Now, consider those people who live in a world of total darkness. Many of them have never known what it was to see the light of day, to see the trees, the grass, the house in which they live. They have never seen the faces of their loved ones. They "see" through their fingertips.

There will be much sunshine in the Twin Cities in the coming months, but there will be those local citizens who will not see it. There is a club being formed in this state by the mothers of children who were either born without sight or who have lost it. It will be called the "Sunshine Club."

Perhaps the public realizes too little about the fellow citizens who live in a world of eternal twilight or darkness. In this state, the school for the blind is or should be a most important feature. However, that institution faces what might be termed an impossible task in the next year due to the fact that the 1952 Louisiana legislature failed to provide the necessary funds. Did you know that the upper floors of two major buildings at the school had been condemned by the state fire marshal? Did you know that more than 50 children are crammed into a building which is not even designed for dormitory use? Even the hospital unit on the campus has been converted into a dormitory, but what will happen should there be an epidemic?

The State Superintendent of Education is going to make a complete inspection as something will have to be done by next September in time for the opening of school. There is the immediate necessity for repairs and the necessity for a long range building program. There are nearly a hundred blind youngsters at this institution and 15 are from this parish. These people are deserving of assistance from their luckier fellow citizens.

Louisiana, great state that it surely is, can easily afford to give these people adequate training facilities to insure that they will have an equal chance in life. It is the least which should be done. The Louisiana School for the blind needs the support of all citizens and public officials of this state.

Your Electric System

The thermometer is now rising like the incoming tides and there are many fortunate people who have air conditioning, attic fans, fans, and other electrical devices to aid them in remaining cool these hot summer days.

This puts terrific pressure on the already overburdened electrical systems in the private homes and business establishments. It is needless to add that overburdened wiring is perhaps one of the greatest fire hazards in existence. There are many sellers of air conditioners who advertise that their units can simply be plugged into a nearby wall socket and started.

This is in some cases true depending on the house and unit. Generally speaking, a 3/4 ton unit operates on ten amperes with a starting load of some 18 to 20 amperes. If your line is not large enough to handle this load, there is danger. Quite often, that danger is fortunately noticeable as the lights dim and the fuses blow out. If that happens, call an electrician to come and check your wiring as an overload is "danger" spelled with capital letters.

Many attic fans are run on a half horsepower electric motor and this in some cases requires heavier wiring. The average house is wired in circuits large enough to handle the appliances such as deepfreezers and washing machines, but any heavier motors load the circuits and if a large fuse is used, this overload can cause a serious fire.

There is no sense in attempting to be an amateur electrician because that trade requires considerable training and only a qualified man can determine whether or not your lines are capable of handling any overloads such as window type air conditioners and attic fans.

If an extra line is necessary, it can easily be run from the fuse box without too much expense. The cost of the examination and necessary correction is thrown out when the other possibilities are brought to bear. The cost of replacing a house is far greater than adding a small electrical circuit.

When a fuse goes, or in the case of the new "punch boxes," when a circuit is punched "off," there is some reason for it. Generally that reason is a short or an overload. It is not wise to use a larger fuse than is specified by an electrician who knows the size of the lines. The city electrician can also advise you in this matter as well as the individual electricians.

Quite often, when you purchase an attic fan or a window type air conditioner, the seller will advise you that a heavier line is required and in many cases, he requests you to have the line checked and any additions made.

When the average home owner begins to "tinker" with his wiring, he is "tinkering" with danger. If there is a fire, and the insurance adjuster finds that amateur handling has been the result, it is quite possible that you will have a hard time collecting your insurance.

Electric power is not for amateurs to handle. There must be trained men to repair existing troubles and add new circuits.

Don't overload your lines and cause fires, ask someone who knows beforehand and save yourself trouble. Have a cool, safe summer, not a disastrous one.

By the time the administration reduces the number of government employees by a few hundred thousand, perhaps Congress will grant the remainder a raise to take up the slack in spending.

According to natural history the hippopotamus once inhabited all parts of the earth. It is fortunate he got out of the road before the automobile came along.

Senator who said spending will result in higher taxes should receive A for perspicacity. Perhaps other Congressmen will grasp the point in time.

Taking Advantage Of A Tax Loop-Hole

HOLLYWOOD, May 30. — Cecil R. King, California's congressman, is demanding that new laws be enacted to force every American citizen to pay his just share of income taxes, whether he earns his money in the United States or in a foreign country. Months ago, I tried to warn Hollywood that stars who were rushing off to Europe for 18 months to take advantage of a loophole in the tax laws, were begging for trouble. But the temptation to escape paying taxes proved too great for many top-ranking film personalities.

Many deserted their native land for what they hoped would be months of financial gravy. You will note that Congressman King is pulling no punches in branding stars, who are taking advantage of this tax set-up, as being guilty of shirking their patriotic duty. I agree implicitly with the Congressman. I can't honestly say that I enjoy today's high taxes. But I do say that if one citizen must pay them, all citizens should pay.

It is probable that the law will be amended to allow the government to tax the future earnings of stars who go abroad. It is even possible that this law may be made retroactive — and it should be, if that is possible. If any more actors and actresses are planning to use this tax ruse I would advise them to reconsider. I have an idea that taxes will not be half as painful as their reputations will suffer by the time this controversial situation is hashed over in Congress and the nation's press. I have nothing but contempt for any man who expects to enjoy the freedoms and the privileges of America, but tries to escape paying his share of the cost of preserving them.

There are many stars of the screen's yesteryear who are today as popular and as powerful as a box office lode as in the days agone. Perhaps one of the most outstanding is Joan Crawford. She is back at MGM in a play that calls for the utmost in dancing skill. Joan herself says: "It has been 13 years since I danced on the screen. And though it was through this art I received my first breaks in Hollywood — it's like playing the piano. You have to keep practicing in order to be at your best." I am told that Joan is at her best. It is a tribute to one woman who has not permitted the passing years to grind her into a has-been. She has progressed with the years.

Jane Russell has returned from Washington where she made a special trip at her own expense, to beg Congress to enact more lenient laws governing the adoption of European orphans. She did such a convincing job that the government may soon open America's doors to thousands of homeless tots who lost their parents during the war. For this, three cheers to Miss Russell. Columnists, gag writers and comedians who insist on becoming so biological in describing Jane, apparently have been overlooking her greatest physical asset — a big, wonderful heart.

A Los Angeles columnist has been stirring up talk about what Rita Hayworth thinks of Gene Tierney's romantic cavortings with Aly Khan. What brought the subject to the columnist's mind was the report that Miss Tierney had been house-guesting at Aly's Irish country estate, and had even been serving as hostess at Aly's private parties. The columnist wonders if this was a shock to Rita. All I can say is: If Miss Hayworth is shocked, this is a perfect case of "When the shoe's on the other foot, it pinches."

Timmons In Washington

By Bascom N. Timmons

Holding Company

Americans for Democratic Action, referred to here as the "New Deal Holding Co." learned at the recent gathering here how it feels to be out of office, which made the atmosphere of its meetings somewhat dismal.

The prospectus for the ADA session, first since the change of national administration, was bright with promise. There were forecasts that an effort would be made to reach some formula to wave an olive branch at southern Democrats, whom ADA-members wanted to put under a loyalty oath at the 1952 convention at Chicago, but nothing materialized.

A Cleveland group tried to strike the name of Adlai E. Stevenson, 1952 Democratic presidential candidate, from a general policy declaration, but was laughed down when it became plain that Stevenson was the guiding star of most of the delegates — the only one they could h..ll through the liberal twilight.

The forgotten man, so far as convention action was concerned, was Harry S. Truman. It was quite apparent th.t the convention did not take seriously his recent intimations that he still considers himself the titular leader of his party.

Undoubtedly many of the 600 convention delegates, said to represent 30,000 members recalled that five years ago at a similar convention, ADA went on record as favoring Dwight D. Eisenhower as the Democratic presidential nominee over Harry S. Truman. The CIO Political Action committee got in on the act in 1948 and distributed upwards to a million pamphlets urging nomination and election of Eisenhower, who promptly disassociated himself from the movement.

Why he did so became plain last year. Not a politician, but a pretty good student of timing, he has said since that he didn't at all like the look of the set-up, even had he been inclined to accept a Democratic nomination.

Convention orators—they included many New Deal - Fair Deal luminaries — had nothing to say about the Democratic convention fiasco of last year, when three outstanding members of ADA tried to throw a loop around the necks of the southern Democrats and thereby contributed materially to General Eisenhower's victories in the south.

Those firebrands were missing from the rostrum here — Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. of New York, Gov. G. Mennen Williams and former Sen. Blair Moody of Michigan, but all will be running next year, it now seems, whereas, most of the participants in the rally here will not be in the picture, except in efforts to keep their states in line for New Deal candidates.

The gathering would scarcely have been news at all, except that it defined the objective of New Deal Democrats for 1954 — to make "McCarthyism" the outstanding issue, as endangering American freedom. Speakers warned President Eisenhower against seeking party unity "even at the price of sacrificing the unity of the free world."

The discussion wandered from the definite — opposition to high trade barriers, communism and support of strong local political organizations — to vagaries such as criticism of President Eisenhower for not having a stronger foreign policy leadership. Inasmuch as the President won his election in some measure because voters were dissatisfied with the Truman-Acheson direction of foreign policy, which the ADA leaders strongly defended, the attitude of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (Dem.-Minn.) and others did not quite make sense to some observers.

To others, it was an old political technique. A political group out of office often resorts to the same tactics used to defeat it—in this case the same criticism made against it. They criticized our foreign policy direction, so we will criticize theirs.

The ADA objective now is to denounce the unrelenting pursuit of Communists at home as "irresponsible" and to place the blame for disagreement with our allies on Senator McCarthy.

There was no mention at the convention of the manner in which former Attorney General Francis Biddle, retiring president of ADA, in the early stages of World War II pressed charges against 30 defendants who had criticized the policies of the Roosevelt administration in the days before Pearl Harbor. Indictments against them were later thrown out and described by federal court judge as a "travesty of justice."

The hundreds of thousands of Americans and Koreans have died in vain. They were thrown in to stop aggression and their efforts have been nullified. Korea will not be united, there will be more and greater aggression in the East and even more Americans will be killed.

The "United Nations" has ceased to exist as a factor in stopping aggression. This is a time for blunt words. The South Korean nation cannot and should not be sold down the river.

All over the world, the Reds are on the move. Their bases in Indo-China are now being prepared and it is certain that Burma and India will soon receive the lash of Communist aggression. In Iran, there is more strife and disorder following the attempt of Mossadegh to take the power of the Shah into his own hands. He has failed for the moment. Egypt is preparing to throw the British out, and further down in Africa, the Mau Mau is in full, open rebellion against the British.

The British in Tanganyika are suffering from the Communist type guerilla warfare. The Union of South Africa is seething with revolt and Prime Minister Malan is desperately attempting by all methods to stave off more trouble. The French government fell again after much wrangling and there is a new attempt to form a cabinet. At best, the French will be weak allies. In Germany, Chancellor Adenauer has claimed that the Communists are working overtime in the young republic to cause its downfall. They are being aided by the "Neo-Nazis" and by huge amounts of propaganda. The young Queen of England, who is to be crowned on Tuesday must see some of the aspects of the appeasement being done in the name of her crown. In foreign policy, Churchill, the former anti-Communist, is being supported by all segments of the left in his deeds. There is much anti-American feeling prevelant in England now.

In this hemisphere, all is also not well. The Communists are moving forward in their campaign to communize the Argentine. Peron's hate toward the United States can only be matched by the speed with which his position is being undermined by the Communists. Guatemala might just as well be termed the "Guatemalan Soviet Socialist Republic." Its foreign minister, Sr. Raul Osegueda has hinted that the United States is a "Fascist nation." That little country recently withdrew from a group of Central and South American nations attempting to form a union against Communism. There has been the taking over of property owned by foreign nationals on a scale reminiscent of the Communist seizure in Russia in 1918. There are reports, not yet confirmed that Guatemala has been trading arms for coffee with the Czechs.

In the United States, the Rosenbergs, a miserable pair of traitors if ever there was one, have been condemned to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison in New York. They can still save themselves if they choose to turn evidence over to the Federal Government as to who else was in their spy ring. They have used every known aspect of law in an effort to save their traitorous hides. Their lawyer hopes to avert the coming disaster and can be expected to do everything in his power to save them at the last minute.

From the appearance of things, the outlook this day seems terrible. There seems to be no way to stop the Communists and those who thought that Stalin's death would be of assistance to the free world have had to reorganize their thinking and have their hopes dashed to the ground. The Europeans have to a great degree by their appeasement, aided the job of the new Soviet leaders. It is known in this nation, as it was never known before, that appeasement cannot win victories.

Unless there is a marked change in the foreign outlook, bad days will be ahead.

Give Them Sunshine And Happiness

Have you ever stopped to think how lucky you are? No matter whether you have lost everything pecuniary in life, it is probable that you have your two good hands and legs. Maybe, you only have one hand. You can see. Have you ever thought about how it would be if you couldn't see? Put your hand over your eyes. Walk around the room. Not pleasant is it?

Don't you take your sight for granted? Most folks do. Now, consider those people who live in a world of total darkness. Many of them have never known what it was to see the light of day, to see the trees, the grass, the house in which they live. They have never seen the faces of their loved ones. They "see" through their fingertips.

There will be much sunshine in the Twin Cities in the coming months, but there will be those local citizens who will not see it. There is a club being formed in this state by the mothers of children who were either born without sight or who have lost it. It will be called the "Sunshine Club."

Perhaps the public realizes too little about the fellow citizens who live in a world of eternal twilight or darkness. In this state, the school for the blind is or should be a most important feature. However, that institution faces what might be termed an impossible task in the next year due to the fact that the 1952 Louisiana legislature failed to provide the necessary funds. Did you know that the upper floors of two major buildings at the school had been condemned by the state fire marshal? Did you know that more than 50 children are crammed into a building which is not even designed for dormitory use? Even the hospital unit on the campus has been converted into a dormitory, but what will happen should there be an epidemic?

The State Superintendent of Education is going to make a complete inspection as something will have to be done by next September in time for the opening of school. There is the immediate necessity for repairs and the necessity for a long range building program. There are nearly a hundred blind youngsters at this institution and 15 are from this parish. These people are deserving of assistance from their luckier fellow citizens.

Louisiana, great state that it surely is, can easily afford to give these people adequate training facilities to insure that they will have an equal chance in life. It is the least which should be done. The Louisiana School for the blind needs the support of all citizens and public officials of this state.

Your Electric System

The thermometer is now rising like the incoming tides and there are many fortunate people who have air conditioning, attic fans, fans, and other electrical devices to aid them in remaining cool these hot summer days.

This puts terrific pressure on the already overburdened electrical systems in the private homes and business establishments. It is needless to add that overburdened wiring is perhaps one of the greatest fire hazards in existence. There are many sellers of air conditioners who advertise that their units can simply be plugged into a nearby wall socket and started.

This is in some cases true depending on the house and unit. Generally speaking, a 3/4 ton unit operates on ten amperes with a starting load of some 18 to 20 amperes. If your line is not large enough to handle this load, there is danger. Quite often, that danger is fortunately noticeable as the lights dim and the fuses blow out. If that happens, call an electrician to come and check your wiring as an overload is "danger" spelled with capital letters.

Many attic fans are run on a half horsepower electric motor and this in some cases requires heavier wiring. The average house is wired in circuits large enough to handle the appliances such as deepfreezers and washing machines, but any heavier motors load the circuits and if a large fuse is used, this overload can cause a serious fire.

There is no sense in attempting to be an amateur electrician because that trade requires considerable training and only a qualified man can determine whether or not your lines are capable of handling any overloads such as window type air conditioners and attic fans.

If an extra line is necessary, it can easily be run from the fuse box without too much expense. The cost of the examination and necessary correction is thrown out when the other possibilities are brought to bear. The cost of replacing a house is far greater than adding a small electrical circuit.

When a fuse goes, or in the case of the new "punch boxes," when a circuit is punched "off," there is some reason for it. Generally that reason is a short or an overload. It is not wise to use a larger fuse than is specified by an electrician who knows the size of the lines. The city electrician can also advise you in this matter as well as the individual electricians.

Quite often, when you purchase an attic fan or a window type air conditioner, the seller will advise you that a heavier line is required and in many cases, he requests you to have the line checked and any additions made.

When the average home owner begins to "tinker" with his wiring, he is "tinkering" with danger. If there is a fire, and the insurance adjuster finds that amateur handling has been the result, it is quite possible that you will have a hard time collecting your insurance.

Electric power is not for amateurs to handle. There must be trained men to repair existing troubles and add new circuits.

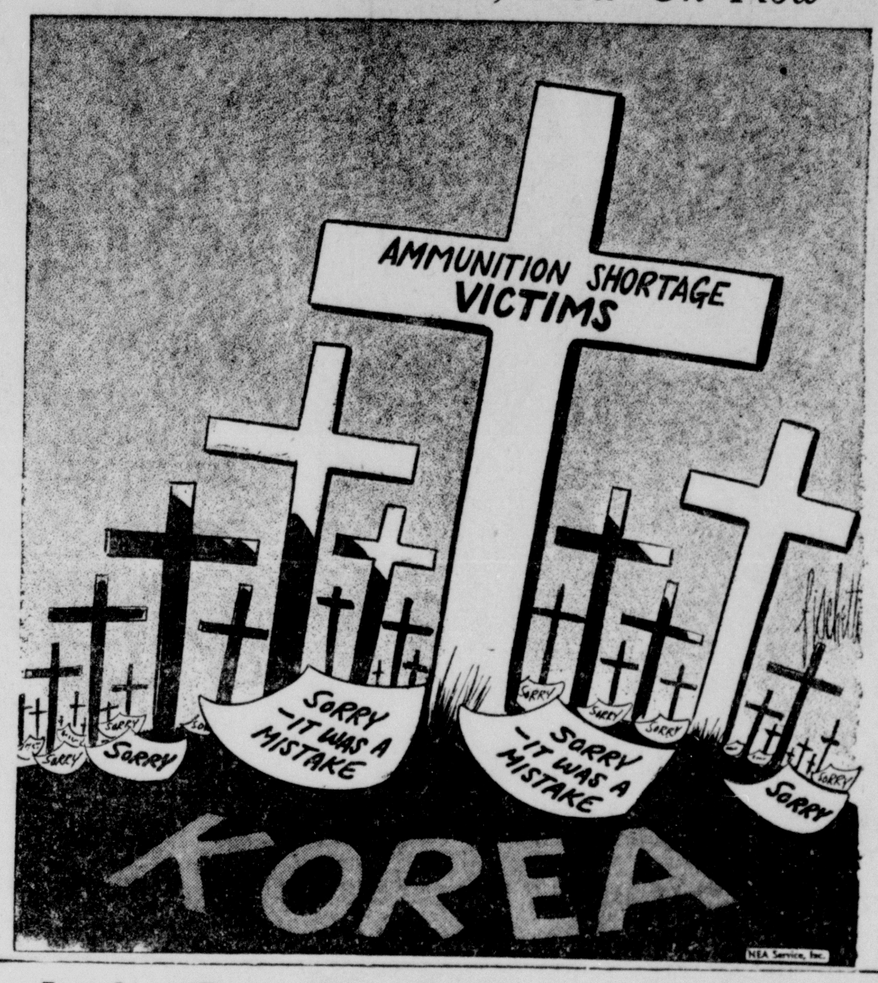

Don't overload your lines and cause fires, ask someone who knows beforehand and save yourself trouble. Have a cool, safe summer, not a disastrous one.

By the time the administration reduces the number of government employees by a few hundred thousand, perhaps Congress will grant the remainder a raise to take up the slack in spending.

According to natural history the hippopotamus once inhabited all parts of the earth. It is fortunate he got out of the road before the automobile came along.

Senator who said spending will result in higher taxes should receive A for perspicacity. Perhaps other Congressmen will grasp the point in time.

Taking Advantage Of A Tax Loop-Hole

HOLLYWOOD, May 30. — Cecil R. King, California's congressman, is demanding that new laws be enacted to force every American citizen to pay his just share of income taxes, whether he earns his money in the United States or in a foreign country. Months ago, I tried to warn Hollywood that stars who were rushing off to Europe for 18 months to take advantage of a loophole in the tax laws, were begging for trouble. But the temptation to escape paying taxes proved too great for many top-ranking film personalities.

Many deserted their native land for what they hoped would be months of financial gravy. You will note that Congressman King is pulling no punches in branding stars, who are taking advantage of this tax set-up, as being guilty of shirking their patriotic duty. I agree implicitly with the Congressman. I can't honestly say that I enjoy today's high taxes. But I do say that if one citizen must pay them, all citizens should pay.

It is probable that the law will be amended to allow the government to tax the future earnings of stars who go abroad. It is even possible that this law may be made retroactive — and it should be, if that is possible. If any more actors and actresses are planning to use this tax ruse I would advise them to reconsider. I have an idea that taxes will not be half as painful as their reputations will suffer by the time this controversial situation is hashed over in Congress and the nation's press. I have nothing but contempt for any man who expects to enjoy the freedoms and the privileges of America, but tries to escape paying his share of the cost of preserving them.

There are many stars of the screen's yesteryear who are today as popular and as powerful as a box office lode as in the days agone. Perhaps one of the most outstanding is Joan Crawford. She is back at MGM in a play that calls for the utmost in dancing skill. Joan herself says: "It has been 13 years since I danced on the screen. And though it was through this art I received my first breaks in Hollywood — it's like playing the piano. You have to keep practicing in order to be at your best." I am told that Joan is at her best. It is a tribute to one woman who has not permitted the passing years to grind her into a has-been. She has progressed with the years.

Jane Russell has returned from Washington where she made a special trip at her own expense, to beg Congress to enact more lenient laws governing the adoption of European orphans. She did such a convincing job that the government may soon open America's doors to thousands of homeless tots who lost their parents during the war. For this, three cheers to Miss Russell. Columnists, gag writers and comedians who insist on becoming so biological in describing Jane, apparently have been overlooking her greatest physical asset — a big, wonderful heart.

A Los Angeles columnist has been stirring up talk about what Rita Hayworth thinks of Gene Tierney's romantic cavortings with Aly Khan. What brought the subject to the columnist's mind was the report that Miss Tierney had been house-guesting at Aly's Irish country estate, and had even been serving as hostess at Aly's private partes. The columnist wonders if this was a shock to Rita. All I can say is: If Miss Hayworth is shocked, this is a perfect case of "When the shoe's on the other foot, it pinches."

Timmons In Washington

Holding Company

Americans for Democratic Action, referred to here as the "New Deal Holding Co." learned at the recent gathering here how it feels to be out of office, which made the atmosphere of its meetings somewhat dismal.

The prospectus for the ADA session, first since the change of national administration, was bright with promise. There were forecasts that an effort would be made to reach some formula to wave an olive branch at southern Democrats, whom ADA-members wanted to put under a loyalty oath at the 1952 convention at Chicago, but nothing materialized.

A Cleveland group tried to strike the name of Adlai E. Stevenson, 1952 Democratic presidential candidate, from a general policy declaration, but was laughed down when it became plain that Stevenson was the guiding star of most of the delegates — the only one they could hail through the liberal twilight.

The forgotten man, so far as convention action was concerned, was Harry S. Truman. It was quite apparent that the convention did not take seriously his recent intimations that he still considers himself the titular leader of his party.

Undoubtedly many of the 600 convention delegates, said to represent 30,000 members recalled that five years ago at a similar convention, ADA went on record as favoring Dwight D. Eisenhower as the Democratic presidential nominee over Harry S. Truman. The CIO Political Action committee got in on the act in 1948 and distributed upwards to a million pamphlets urging nomination and election of Eisenhower, who promptly disassociated himself from the movement.

Why he did so became plain last year. Not a politician, but a pretty good student of timing, he has said since that he didn't at all like the look of the set-up, even had he been inclined to accept a Democratic nomination.

Convention orators—they included many New Deal - Fair Deal luminaries — had nothing to say about the Democratic convention fiasco of last year, when three outstanding members of ADA tried to throw a loop around the necks of the southern Democrats and thereby contributed materially to General Eisenhower's victories in the south.

Those firebrands were missing from the rostrum here — Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. of New York, Gov. G. Mennen Williams and former Sen. Blair Moody of Michigan, but all will be running next year, it now seems, whereas, most of the participants in the rally here will not be in the picture, except in efforts to keep their states in line for New Deal candidates.

The gathering would scarcely have been news at all, except that it defined the objective of New Deal Democrats for 1954 — to make "McCarthyism" the outstanding issue, as endangering American freedom. Speakers warned President Eisenhower against seeking party unity "even at the price of sacrificing the unity of the free world."

The discussion wandered from the definite — opposition to high trade barriers, communism and support of strong local political organizations — to vagaries such as criticism of President Eisenhower for not having a stronger foreign policy leadership. Inasmuch as the President won his election in some measure because voters were dissatisfied with the Truman-Acheson direction of foreign policy, which the ADA leaders strongly defended, the attitude of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (Dem.-Minn.) and others did not quite make sense to some observers.

To others, it was an old political technique. A political group out of office often resorts to the same tactics used to defeat it—in this case the same criticism made again it. They criticized our foreign policy direction, so we will criticize theirs.

The ADA objective now is to denounce the unrelenting pursuit of Communists at home as "irresponsible" and to place the blame for disagreement with our allies on Senator McCarthy.

There was no mention at the convention of the manner in which former Attorney General Francis Biddle, retiring president of ADA, in the early stages of World War II pressed charges against 30 defendants who had criticized the policies of the Roosevelt administration in the days before Pearl Harbor. Indictments against them were later thrown out and described by federal court judge as a "travesty of justice."

IN COUNCIL RACE—Ralph H. Murphy, 41, 303 N. 6th St., West Monroe, late Saturday filed as a candidate in that twin city's council race, pledging that "I am for the people of West Monroe running West Monroe. I am also for any improvement that is for the good of the city."

with property owners cooperation. His platform further advocates a recreation program for children of West Monroe and to promote harmony which will clean up above board administration in the West Monroe city hall without malice toward any group or section of the city.

In the city council race, Ralph H. Murphy, 41-year-old West Monroe insurance man, filed as a candidate late Saturday, declaring that "I am for the people of West Monroe running West Monroe. And I am for any improvement that is for the good of our city."

Murphy, a member of the First Baptist Church of West Monroe, and that city's Lions club, has been active in Boy Scout and cub scout work. He served in the army signal corps in 1945 and 1946, and this is his first venture into politics. He is married and has three sons.

His home address is 303 North 6th Street.

Three men had filed earlier as candidates for aldermen. They are Amos Hood, who was appointed by former Gov. Earl K. Long and ousted by Gov. Kennon; Whit O. Smith and Ed Hislop, two ousted Kennon appointees.

The only two candidates who have filed in the West Monroe city judge's race are Howell Heard and former state Senator John McCormick. Heard was also ousted from his appointment on a supreme court decision.

Filing deadline for the July 7 first primary is 5 p.m. Monday, June 1. The second primary has been set for August 11 and a general election for September 8.

Dr. Hansen Goes To Newcomb College

NEW ORLEANS, May 30 (AP)—Dr. Peter S. Hansen, chairman of the music department at Stephens College, has been appointed professor of music and director of the department at Newcomb College here, Dr. Rufus Harris, president of Tulane University, reported today.

The leaders on the colored playgrounds will be as follows:

Booker T. Washington, Rosa Lee White; Bryant's Addition, Olivia Knight; Texas Ave. Housing Project, Willie Fisher, Carroll High School, Lena Smith.

Mrs. Peggy Garnett will be special handcraft instructor in which she is ranked as an expert.

The First Baptist Church has set aside today as "L. T. Hastings Day" to do honor to a beloved leader of that church during his pastorate of nearly 25 years. He is now a professor in a mountain ministerial school near Pineville, Ky. This school is in need of a thousand dollars to meet a present financial need and members of the church here have determined to ask that the church today make up this sum or as much as possible to meet a worthy cause.

The school is a very unusual one and is endeavoring to supply trained native preachers to carry the gospel to an area where are 750,000 persons in 32 mountain counties of the state.

At the June meeting next Wednesday, the Ouachita Parish school board will, it is anticipated, name the assistant principal for the West Monroe high school, athletic director, band director and some members of the faculty to serve when the new school opens in September.

P. B. Mangum, principal of the Delhi High School, has already been named as principal.

Miss Myrtle Rodgers, now retired, but for many years principal of Georgia Tucker School, received a letter of deep appreciation from a mother who derived much needed encouragement when her children were in Monroe and when it was a difficult matter to keep them in school. But Miss Rodgers supplied the incentive that was needed and insisted that the youngsters at all odds be kept in school.

Now this mother, Mrs. Roy W. Earl, living in Lancaster, Tex., writes that her task is completed as the last of her brood is at this time graduating from high school there.

The letter conveys the deep appreciation of a parent to a teacher who had much to do in shaping the life of those entrusted to her leadership. Here it is:

"Dear Miss Rodgers: I have sent a card for each one of our gang that has graduated from school and this is the last one to graduate. You started them all off at Georgia Tucker and Mr. Earl and I are both proud of the part you have played in their lives. We thank you sincerely and hope you are still at Georgia Tucker.

"We are proud that they have all graduated with one exception. Carl Otis had to go into service in 1944, and that we their parents were able to see them finish. Claude Elmer and Joseph Henry both were in college. Joseph Henry won a scholarship in basket ball. Claude Elmer was taking engineering when the Navy got both. Thought you'd like this memento (invitation to commencement at Lancaster High to keep as reminder of one of your former pupils. Thanks a million.

"Mrs. Roy W. Earl."

mander, to attain victory. These included a naval blockade of China, bombing of Chinese industrial centers, and "hot pursuit" of Red planes beyond the Yalu River, the Manchurian-Korean border.

Tight secrecy surrounded Saturday's White House meeting.

"All I can say is that it was on Korea," assistant White House press secretary Murray Snyder told newsmen after the 20-minute conference ended.

Snyder refused to be drawn out on whether the conferees touched on the new Communist offensive on the Korean war front or on South Korean President Syngman Rhee's rejection of the latest United Nations proposal in armistice negotiations underway at Panmunjom.

Additionally, Dulles has been summoned to the capitol to give the Senate Foreign Relations committee a world policy review, with heavy emphasis on the Korean crisis. He probably will appear on Tuesday, facing a committee that is sharply-divided on the problems of the war in the Far East.

The U. N. field commander, Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, said there was no threat posed to the main line by Chinese Red seizure Thursday and Friday of five hill outposts in Central Korea and three in the west within 30 miles of Seoul.

Fifth Air Force fighter-bombers Saturday hit the three Western Front outposts with more than a quarter million pounds of bombs and flaming jellied gasoline.

Allied artillery and mortar pounded the smoking hilltops that Turkish soldiers held before the Chinese hit in waves Thursday night.

From Texas Come Ideas For Luscious Chili

M. C. Nichols, Fort Worth Star-Telegram Chapter, sends us this "Texas Chili" recipe. (If you can't find dried red chili peppers at a Mexican or an Italian store, substitute, as a starter, one tablespoon chili powder, and go on from there.)

2 lbs. beef, coarsely ground.
2 cloves garlic.
4 cups water.
2 tablespoons flour.
¼ cup bacon fat.
1 tablespoon cumin (optional).
Salt to taste.

When dry chilis are used, remove seeds and white pithy veins. Wash thoroughly three times in hot water, then pour on boiling water, cover vessel and let stand 20 minutes. Drain, and chop and grind chilis fine with one clove of garlic.

Now boil the meat in four cups of water until it's tender, adding salt to taste. Drain the whole and save the broth from the meat. Brown flour in bacon fat and gradually add the ground chilis and one cup of beef broth. Simmer 15 minutes, add meat, and simmer 30 minutes more. Add more broth if necessary.

This business is also known, we are told, as "Hot Red," or "Chili Straight." To be right for a Texan, it must be both hot and red. Serve piping hot in soup bowls with crackers, Melba toast, corn sticks, or best of all, tortillas. This serves four.

Peter McDougall, Skilleteer of Port Arthur, Ontario, contributes this nifty number — a new "Horseradish Sauce."

2 tablespoons powdered horseradish.
3 tablespoons cider vinegar.
3 tablespoons rich cream.
½ teaspoon MSG (Monosodium glutamate).
Dash salt.

Stir well and let stand about 20 minutes. It will thicken slightly and make an elegant addition to corned or boiled beef.

And from Mrs. Jean Kaufman, Newark (N. J.) News Chapter, comes this wondrous dessert. "Quick Baba au Rum," she calls it. This one we found to be tops.

1 package of yellow cake mix.

Follow directions on package and bake in a nine-inch ring mold. Cool about 15 minutes after baking, turn the cake out on heat-proof platter, and pour this syrup over it:

½ cup granulated sugar.
½ teaspoon apricot flavor.
1 teaspoon rum flavor.

Let boil about 15 minutes, cool slightly and pour over the cake. Non-alcoholic flavors are recommended by Mrs. Kaufman because they retain body and flavor to better advantage during the cooking. You can, of course, use real liquors if you wish.

Serve with center filled with ice cream or whipped cream flavored with rum or sherry. Brought to the table a-flame with ¼ cup dark rum heated, poured over the cake, and merrily ablaze, this Baba becomes "Magnifique!"

Send your favorite recipe and a stamped, addressed envelope to Morning World and become a life member of The Skillet Club, and we'll send you a membership card to prove it.

Match Wallpaper, Fabrics In Home

Matching wallpaper and fabrics are now placed within reach of the budget - minded homemaker. The group, created by United Wallpaper, Inc., and Spectrum Fabrics Corporation, is directed to the woman who wants to give her home a professionally decorated look with a minimum of effort and a moderate expenditure.

Styled for flexibility, the collection offers consumers a select group of patterns designed to blend with any decorating scheme. Seven patterns, each in three different color combinations, provide innumerable room themes. In addition, a wide range of correlating solid tones in both the wallpaper and fabric are available for greater inter-changeability. One of the seven patterns is an Everglaze chintz by Spectrum for bedroom use.

One of the most outstanding patterns is "Pani." It is a combination of bamboo reed and fernery wonderland. When you decorate with an eye toward soft colorings for a quiet, restful atmosphere, this exotic pattern is ideal.

"Summer Afternoon" is a tapestry toile of the early Colonial years depicting the gracious country living of the 19th Century. This design of beauty and richness enhances either traditional or contemporary homes.

For more dramatic rooms, "Oriental Peony" is a brilliantly designed oriental scenic which unites the east with the west right in your own home. Its striking colorful foreground tones are lavishly highlighted with gold.

Homes with a masculine point of view or where casual living is the order of the day will find "Buttonset" the perfect answer for a simple, well-tailored room. It has an unusual dimensional effect with depth and surface interest. "Buttonset" is excellent in combination or correlation with other patterns also.

There are twelve Rockcrepe solid-tone fabrics to correlate with these patterns.

Seventeen solid tones of wallpaper are included in this book for those who prefer to combine plain with patterned walls. These solids have a subtle pebbly surface that provides an interesting textural wall background.

From Texas Come Ideas For Luscious Chili

M. C. Nichols, Fort Worth Star-Telegram Chapter, sends us this "Texas Chili" recipe. (If you can't find dried red chili peppers at a Mexican or an Italian store, substitute, as a starter, one tablespoon chili powder, and go on from there.)

2 lbs. beef, coarsely ground.
2 cloves garlic.
4 cups water.
2 tablespoons flour.
¼ cup bacon fat.
1 tablespoon cumin (optional).
Salt to taste.

When dry chilis are used, remove seeds and white pithy veins. Wash thoroughly three times in hot water, then pour on boiling water, cover vessel and let stand 20 minutes. Drain, and chop and grind chilis fine with one clove of garlic.

Now boil the meat in four cups of water until it's tender, adding salt to taste. Drain the whole and save the broth from the meat. Brown flour in bacon fat and gradually add the ground chilis and one cup of beef broth. Simmer 15 minutes, add meat, and simmer 30 minutes more. Add more broth if necessary.

This business is also known, we are told, as "Hot Red," or "Chili Straight." To be right for a Texan, it must be both hot and red. Serve piping hot in soup bowls with crackers, Melba toast, corn sticks, or best of all, tortillas. This serves four.

Peter McDougall, Skilleteer of Port Arthur, Ontario, contributes this nifty number — a new "Horseradish Sauce."

½ teaspoon sugar.
2 tablespoons powdered horseradish.
3 tablespoons cider vinegar.
3 tablespoons rich cream.
½ teaspoon MSG (Monosodium glutamate).
Dash salt.

Stir well and let stand about 20 minutes. It will thicken slightly and make an elegant addition to corned or boiled beef.

And from Mrs. Jean Kaufman, Newark (N. J.) News Chapter, comes this wondrous dessert. "Quick Baba au Rum," she calls it. This one we found to be tops.

1 package of yellow cake mix. Follow directions on package and bake in a nine-inch ring mold. Cool about 15 minutes after baking, turn the cake out on heat-proof platter, and pour this syrup over it:

½ cup apricot nectar.
½ cup water.
½ cup granulated sugar.
½ teaspoon apricot flavor.
1 teaspoon rum flavor.

Let boil about 15 minutes, cool slightly and pour over the cake. Non-alcoholic flavors are recommended by Mrs. Kaufman because they retain body and flavor to better advantage during the cooking. You can, of course, use real liquors if you wish.

Serve with center filled with ice cream or whipped cream flavored with rum or sherry. Brought to the table a-flame with ¼ cup dark rum heated, poured over the cake, and merrily ablaze, this Baba becomes "Magnifique!"

Send your favorite recipe and a stamped, addressed envelope to Morning World and become a life member of The Skillet Club, and we'll send you a membership card to prove it.

Match Wallpaper, Fabrics In Home

Matching wallpaper and fabrics are now placed within reach of the budget - minded homemaker. The group, created by United Wallpaper, Inc., and Spectrum Fabrics Corporation, is directed to the woman who wants to give her home a professionally decorated look with a minimum of effort and a moderate expenditure.

Styled for flexibility, the collection offers consumers a select group of patterns designed to blend with any decorating scheme. Seven patterns, each in three different color combinations, provide innumerable room themes. In addition, a wide range of correlating solid tones in both the wallpaper and fabric are available for greater inter-changeability. One of the seven patterns is an Everglaze chintz by Spectrum for bedroom use.

One of the most outstanding patterns is "Pani." It is a combination of bamboo reed and fernery wonderland. When you decorate with an eye toward soft colorings for a quiet, restful atmosphere, this exotic pattern is ideal.

"Summer Afternoon" is a tapestry toile of the early Colonial years depicting the gracious country living of the 19th Century. This design of beauty and richness enhances either traditional or contemporary homes.

For more dramatic rooms, "Oriental Peony" is a brilliantly designed oriental scenic which unites the east with the west right in your own home. Its striking colorful foreground tones are lavishly highlighted with gold.

Homes with a masculine point of view or where casual living is the order of the day will find "Buttonset" the perfect answer for a simple, well-tailored room. It has an unusual dimensional effect with depth and surface interest. "Buttonset" is excellent in combination or correlation with other patterns also.

There are twelve Rockcrepe solid-tone fabrics to correlate with these patterns.

Seventeen solid tones of wallpaper are included in this book for those who prefer to combine plain with patterned walls. These solids have a subtle pebbly surface that provides an interesting textural wall background.

The patterned wallpapers are 22 and 24 inches wide and the solids are 30 inches wide. All are fade-proof and washable.

Your Problems

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Mrs. Landers: They say econd wives ride the "gravy ain," but all I inherited from my sband's first wife was her old niture.

am 45 and recently married a dower with a family of three wn children; I am a divorcee h a young daughter whom my t husband supports. My present band is a wonderful person and only problem is that I feel in- ure financially. He has a suc- ssful business and owns several ces of property but refuses to t anything in joint tenancy with e as he claims everything be- ngs to his children. His family nd he feel that his first wife elped him to his present success nd that a second wife doesn't de- serve to gain from her efforts.

I do not want anything to which I am not entitled, but what becomes of me if my husband should die? He will not let me work. Can I insist that he provide for me in my old age in case I should reach it alone?—Mrs. R. S. T.

A little on the late side with your query, aren't you? I'll bet you spend more time and ask more questions when you buy a coat than you did when securing your second husband. Such important issues as your financial security in the event of your husband's death should have been squared away while you were in a good bargaining position. Now your husband has what he wants and can do as he likes.

However, the law allows you your "widow's mite," when and if the time comes and, by that time, your husband may have felt that you "earned" the right to more, for which he can make provision at any time. Making an issue of it now may queer you with the family and spoil your chances later. If things ever look real grim, consult a lawyer.

Dear Ann Landers: When my son married, for eight years I was so devoted to his wife that no one could say a word against her to me. Finally, however, it all came out that she told vicious lies about me and had no feeling for me at all. After I faced her with her treatment of me we quarreled and have not spoken since; my other daughters - in - law have no use for her, either, as she has made trouble among them, too. Now she is to have her first child and has told friends that unless I make the first move toward friendship I will never see the baby. I know my son would bring the baby to me but as I have always prayed that they would have a child I do not want to be any contributing cause to his unhappiness. Yet, it would be humiliating for me to approach his wife. Please help me. — Mrs. D. B.

Being a mother - in - law is no fun and my sympathy is with you; if you do nothing for your children-in-law you are cold, cruel and heartless; if you are devoted and helpful to them, you are interfering. You get it in the neck no matter what your attitude.

What difference does it make whether your daughter - in - law can brag to her friends that you had to approach her first? They probably have her number by this time. You will come out the winner by being the bigger of the two. What matters is that your son can be grateful to you for overlooking his wife's crudeness; that you become acquainted with your little grandchild and he with you. Send a gift or organize a baby shower; it won't be as difficult as you think. But, afterward, be on your guard—don't lean on daughters - in - law for affection or companionship.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper.)

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Mrs. Landers: They say econd wives ride the "gravy ain," but all I inherited from my sband's first wife was her old niture.

am 45 and recently married a dower with a family of three wn children; I am a divorcee h a young daughter whom my t husband supports. My present band is a wonderful person and only problem is that I feel in- ure financially. He has a suc- ssful business and owns several ces of property but refuses to t anything in joint tenancy with e as he claims everything be- ngs to his children. His family nd he feel that his first wife elped him to his present success nd that a second wife doesn't deserve to gain from her efforts.

I do not want anything to which I am not entitled, but what becomes of me if my husband should die? He will not let me work. Can I insist that he provide for me in my old age in case I should reach it alone?—Mrs. R. S. T.

A little on the late side with your query, aren't you? 'll bet you spend more time and ask more questions when you buy a coat than you did when securing your second husband. Such important issues as your financial security in the event of your husband's death should have been squared away while you were in a good bargaining position. Now your husband has what he wants and can do as he likes.

However, the law allows you your "widow's mite," when and if the time comes and, by that time, your husband may have felt that you "earned" the right to more, for which he can make provision at any time. Making an issue of it now may queer you with the family and spoil your chances later. If things ever look real grim, consult a lawyer.

Dear Ann Landers: When my son married, for eight years I was so devoted to his wife that no one could say a word against her to me. Finally, however, it all came out that she told vicious lies about me and had no feeling for me at all. After I faced her with her treatment of me we quarreled and have not spoken since; my other daughters - in - law have no use for her, either, as she has made trouble among them, too. Now she is to have her first child and has told friends that unless I make the first move toward friendship I will never see the baby. I know my son would bring the baby to me but as I have always prayed that they would have a child I do not want to be any contributing cause to his unhappiness. Yet, it would be humiliating for me to approach his wife. Please help me. — Mrs. D. B.

Being a mother - in - law is no fun and my sympathy is with you; if you do nothing for your children-in-law you are cold, cruel and heartless; if you are devoted and helpful to them, you are interfering. You get it in the neck no matter what your attitude.

What difference does it make whether your daughter - in - law can brag to her friends that you had to approach her first? They probably have her number by this time. You will come out the winner by being the bigger of the two. What matters is that your son can be grateful to you for overlooking his wife's crudeness; that you become acquainted with your little grandchild and he with you. Send a gift or organize a baby shower; it won't be as difficult as you think. But, afterward, be on your guard—don't lean on daughters - in - law for affection or companionship.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper.)

Dan Durniak To Be Director Of Station KFAZ-TV

Television station KFAZ announces that Dan Durniak has accepted the position of program director and production manager for the station. Mr. Durniak, one of the top production men in television, recently arrived in Monroe from WTAR-TV in Norfolk, Va.

Mr. Durniak began his career early in the 1930s with radio and later, after being graduated from a school of television technique in New York, went to work for an independent New York television producer. For the past six years, Mr. Durniak has directed such famous personalities as Fred Warring, Jack Webb, Jack Dempsey, Windy Barry, and many others.

Mr. Durniak, a member of the armed forces from 1941 until 1945, served in the North African and Italian campaigns. After the war, he went back into television with WOR-TV in New York. He later went to WTAR-TV in Norfolk, Va. and then back to Monroe with KFAZ.

Mr. Durniak and his wife, Mary, now reside at 3506 Evangaline. Both are very much impressed with the very friendly reception afforded them by the people of Monroe and are happy to say that they are here to stay.

Little Theatre Curtain Call

By SUE SHARMAN

Well, the news that we have decided to stay in print throughout the summer has been met with pleasure, if phone calls from fans of this column mean anything. True, it is going to be in abbreviated form . . . once a week at most . . . but that seems to be okay with our friends.

Although we still can't go into detail about how much work is going to be done on the new building this summer, that is primarily why we are going to be with you. Since this is our more or less official theatre mouth-piece, we are hoping to keep you posted on the building progress, as well as use this as a means of contacting theatre friends when the time comes to put out the call for summer help. When the flag goes up, we'd appreciate a goodly response.

We must truthfully admit that this Sunday column is being written on Saturday, so we will have to wait until tomorrow to give a first hand account of tonight's farewell party for Margaret and Stocker. From all of the work which is going into it, it promises to be a real whing-ding. Props from many past successes are being assembled, but no one will say why, so we have to sit tight and wait for the big affair tonight.

According to Mary Ellison, a large envelope has arrived with recommended directors, and potential directors, from the AETA, American Educational Theatre Association. She says that there are forms on about fifty or sixty interested persons, complete with pictures, background, educational qualifications, etc. Maybe the new name is among that group.

We'd like to invite all of the friends and fans of Little Theatre to make an appearance this afternoon at the Art Festival being held up in Forsythe Park. Little Theatre's exhibition, as we have said, but which we'll repeat, will be a photographic record of four years of work completed in the Selman Field Playhouse. It is slated to come off between four and six this afternoon, and Little Theatre's area will be the rear porch of the American Legion Hall. The director says he'll be on hand there to answer any questions pertaining to the group.

IN DANCE RECITAL— Victor David Cascio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe David Cascio, will participate in the dance recital being presented by Mary Lou Young at the Neville High School auditorium Tuesday night.

Clark Springs To Conduct Revival

A youth revival series will be held at the Clark Springs Baptist Church Sunday, May 31 and lasting through June 6. Rev. Lavelle Johnston is pastor and the revival leader who will preach is Rev. Donald Roberts, of Oak Grove Baptist Church, Route 1, Eros. J. P. North, Center Point, will lead the singing. Charley Wilder, of Antioch, will lead the singing.

Night services start at 7:30 p.m. and young people from surrounding church groups are urged to attend.

Of course, adults are expected to back up the young people in their participating in these services.

Chief Of Police Is Dismissed

SAN ANTONIO, May 30 —UP— This Alamo city has a new police chief Saturday, after the local political "tinderbox" exploded and Police Chief Robert Allen was dismissed while a tax department head resigned.

At the same time, the district attorney's office pledged a full-scale grand jury probe into newspaper claims that vice runs rampant here "after sundown."

Acting City Manager Reynolds Andricks, who said he was "not being directed by anyone," dismissed 37-year-old Allen.

'Turning Point' Teems With Chilling Suspense

A stinging indictment against corruption in civic government is exciting delivered in Paramount's new drama "The Turning Point," which opened today at the Tem Theatre. Taking its cue from true - life episodes which created headlines across the country, "The Turning Point" examines the dramatic events which make up the suspense - riddled experiences of a crime investigating committee's activities in a middle - sized American city.

In a suspenseful tale of murder, violence and intrigue, William Holden is seen as a cynical newspaper reporter whose boyhood friend, Edmond O'Brien is the dynamic chairman of the much - heralded "racket busting" committee. Believing that the investigation is doomed to failure from the start, Holden shows little interest in it, until Alexis Smith, O'Brien's charmingly sophisticated secretary, appears on the scene. Before any of the participants are aware of it, a triangle has developed which threatens the long friendship of the two men.

Bit by bit, the committee begins to unravel a sordid story of corruption in high places. When the stigma of dishonesty reaches out to touch even the father of Edmond O'Brien, who is leading the crusade, events move swiftly toward a climax of violence and excitement. Dramatic authenticity is added by the use of actual shots of crowded streets, a smoke - filled fight arena and other on-the-spot locations.

As the man who is delegated to uncover the poisonous corruption gnawing at the roots of the city, Edmond O'Brien has one of his meatiest roles to date. Also turning in an outstanding performance is William Holden, as the reporter whose experience leads to his regarding civic reform programs with a jaundiced eye. Lovely Alexis Smith makes an intelligent "girl-Friday" who supplies the spirit O'Brien needs in his grueling struggle with the vast network of organized crime. The unusually large cast includes such excellent players as Tom Tully, Ted De Corsia, Ray Teal.

Director William Dieterle has kept the performances taut and tense and his story moves with a Howard Freeman, Ed Begley and staccato beat that emphasizes its stark reality. His characters emerge as thoroughly believable people who, whether good or evil, are inextricably caught in a network of grinding ears which once started, cannot be stopped.

James Wallace Gets Position With Olin

James Wallace has been appointed to the newly - created post of merchandise manager of the forest products division of Olin Industries, Inc., it was announced by Robert H. Evans, general manager. Wallace will be responsible for coordinating the sales and production activities of the division and for the development of new products and markets. No change is involved in the present sales organization under H. W. Maddox, sales manager.

Until recently Wallace was west coast sales manager of the Kraft paper and board division of St. Regis Paper Co. at Los Angeles. Previously he was on the Tokyo staff of the Chase National Bank of New York. During World War II he was decorated for service with the U. S. army in the European theater.

Delta Theater To Present 2 Great Motion Pictures

The manager of the Delta theater is proud to announce that, by popular demand, two great motion pictures, "High Noon," with Gary Cooper and "African Queen" with Humphrey Bogart, are to be shown at this theater.

Both of these pictures have been winners of several Academy awards.

"High Noon," starring Gary Cooper, who won the Academy Award of 1952, is back to the type roll he likes best. He is appearing as the harassed frontier marshal.

"African Queen," starring Humphrey Bogart, is an actual filming of the blazing, mystic Congo. This is declared the greatest adventure a man ever lived with a woman.

Gordon MacRae, whose latesteven weaker peck he feebly bestowes on the devoted frau's cheek when he returns from a hard day at the office. A kiss should be given fervently on each occasion or not be given at all," vehemently asserted the singing star.

"I do not mean to indicate that a fixed number of kisses should be doled out each day at specified hours. A woman should be kissed at unexpected times. The element of surprise makes a kiss more enjoyable. And the more romance and sincerity put into a kiss, the fewer are necessary. However, the essential point is that a kiss should show your wife how much you love her. A woman needs to be constantly reminded of that fact."

Technicolor musical, Warner Bros. "By the Light of The Silvery Moon," in which he co-stars with Doris Day, which opened today at the Paramount Theatre, believes that you can't overdo a good thing . . . like kissing your wife, for example.

"The 1953 husband doesn't kiss his wife often enough or ardently enough," complained Gordon MacRae, who gives an expert demonstration of old-fashioned bussing in a scene with Doris Day in "By The Light of The Silvery Moon."

"One of the reasons for the high divorce rate in this country is the casual peck a husband gives his wife as he leaves for work or the

MacRae practices what preaches. When he leaves for Warner Bros.' Studios each morni he kisses his wife Sheila goodb as though he were leaving on long trip. If Sheila happens drop by the set to watch some fil ing, MacRae kisses her again though they had been separated years. When he returns home the evening there is no duti peck, but the same kind of passi ate kiss which causes women the audience to sigh when he gi it to some beautiful movie a like Doris Day.

'Turning Point' Teems With Chilling Suspense

A stinging indictment against corruption in civic government is exciting delivered in Paramount's new drama "The Turning Point," which opened today at the Tem Theatre. Taking its cue from true - life episodes which created headlines across the country, "The Turning Point" examines the dramatic events which make up the suspense - riddled experiences of a crime investigating committee's activities in a middle - sized American city.

In a suspenseful tale of murder, violence and intrigue, William Holden is seen as a cynical newspaper reporter whose boyhood friend, Edmond O'Brien is the dynamic chairman of the much - heralded "racket busting" committee. Believing that the investigation is doomed to failure from the start, Holden shows little interest in it, until Alexis Smih, O'Brien's charmingly sophisticated secretary, appears on the scene. Before any of the participants are aware of it, a triangle has developed which threatens the long friendship of the two men.

Bit by bit, the committee begins to unravel a sordid story of corruption in high places. When the stigma of dishonesty reaches out to touch even the father of Edmond O'Brien, who is leading the crusade, events move swiftly toward a climax of violence and excitement. Dramatic authenticity is added by the use of actual shots of crowded streets, a smoke - filled fight arena and other on-the-spot locations.

As the man who is delegated to uncover the poisonous corruption gnawing at the roots of the city, Edmond O'Brien has one of his meatiest roles to date. Also turning in an outstanding performance is William Holden, as the reporter whose experience leads to his regarding civic reform programs with a jaundiced eye. Lovely Alexis Smith makes an intelligent "girl-Friday" who supplies the spirit O'Brien needs in his grueling struggle with the vast network of organized crime. The unusually large cast includes such excellent players as Tom Tully, Ted De Corsia, Ray Teal.

Director William Dieterle has kept the performances taut and tense and his story moves with a Howard Freeman, Ed Begley and staccato beat that emphasizes its stark reality. His characters emerge as thoroughly believable people who, whether good or evil, are inextricably caught in a network of grinding ears which once started, cannot be stopped.

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

What teeth the Monroe Sports had appeared to have been pulled somewhere on their last road trip, maybe in the camp of the Buckshot Indians at Greenville where they lost two out of three. At least they looked mighty defenseless against the Pine Bluff Judges during the all too long three-game stand by the Judges here.

Man and boy, we've seen many Cotton States League games at home. Monroe has lost games by lopsided scores before. But offhand, we can't recall when a Monroe outfit looked so miserable so many nights in a row. All told, the Judges racked up 35 runs against the Sports in the three games, and needed only three innings to score 20 of them.

Yet, the baseball fan of the Twin Cities was well represented for the series that drew 3,992 paying customers. The Pine Bluff opener attracted 1,343, and the Sports dropped the game, 12-8, through failure of the pitching staff. Only 674 turned out for the middle game that was dropped, 12-0. An American Legion night program was the main reason why 2,002 were on hand to see the Sports drop the third straight to the Judges, 11-0, but the big crowd of the series was desolving in a hurry after Pine Bluff bagged ten runs in the seventh inning. Only a few of the faithful saw it through.

"What's the matter with the Sports?" suddenly became a question even the casual fan was asking.

One was prompted to write us this note: "So far the baseball baseball fans have strung along with the Sports. But they don't like lakadaisical baseball and will soon find that the (the fan) has no more interest in the team than the team has in winning. Wake up, Sports! A few more weeks may be too late."

The result of the Pine Bluff series was reflected in one of the smallest crowds of the season, 424, that turned out for Friday's season opener with Hot Springs. Ironically, it has been noticeable that the Sports look their worst most consistently when they have a huge home crowd. The best games, the ones we still like to talk about, have developed before slim crowds. Such was the case when "Hoppy" Hatcher notched his no-hitter a year ago, when Darvin Chrisco hurled his no-hitter two seasons ago, and the same was true for Friday night's 424 faithful who counted themselves among the first to see one of baseball's rare defensive features, a triple play, first to be pulled at Legion Memorial Stadium.

The Hot Springs Bathers furnished the triple play, but the Sports went on to win, 3-1, in the second fastest game played here this year. The opener with the Spas lasted only an hour and 51 minutes. Shortest here so far was the 1-0 conquest of Jackson in an hour and 45 minutes of May 6.

The Spas and Sports were at it again last night (since this writing), and win or lose the fans are still demanding good baseball. Many won't settle for anything less than a winner, but to command a good following, a club has to be well over a 50 per cent winner.

As Reed Stephens remarked following the opening conquest of the Bathers, "I believe we are ready to roll. I think this victory will start us off on the right foot again. Stephens had just finished sparking the Sports with three hits in three times at bat and making the night's most sensational catch when he speared a blue-streak drive off the bat of Bob Adcock in the fourth inning.

Hot Springs Evens Series With Monroe

Bathers Shut Out Sports, 7 To 0, On Siefert 6-Hitter

The Hot Springs Bathers, getting six-hit pitching from Ken Siefert, big righthander, shut out the Monroe Sports, 7 to 0, here last night as the Spas squared their current series here at a game apiece. It was the third shut out in four days for the Sports and their fifth of the season.

The two clubs clash here in the final of the series this afternoon at 3 o'clock as Monroe winds up its current home stand and points for Pine Bluff where a three-game series opens tomorrow night.

The Bathers backed Siefert with a nine-hit attack led by Hal Martin, the Cotton States League's leading batsman who collected three-for-four, including a triple. It was Siefert's fifth win. He has lost three.

Gene Summerlin, a four-game winner, suffered his second loss for the Sports. He was pulled for a pinch batter in the seventh, and Tommy Thompson held the Bathers in hand the last two frames.

Lou Stutts, now operating in the outfield for the Sports, led what attack Monroe had to offer with a perfect night at bat as he hit two singles and walked twice. Only others to tap Siefert were Nels Daehn, hitting safely in his fourteenth straight game, and Billy Sharp, Reed Stephens, and Adrian Burk.

The Bathers wasted no time picking up four quick runs in the first inning. With one out, Steve Korfonta and Hal Martin hit singles and both came home when Manager "Moose" Shetler doubled. A triple by Bob Adcock scored Shetler. Babe Tuckey walked. Bob Passarella forced Tuckey, Harrington to Sharp, and Adcock scored as Sharp, trying for a double play at first, threw wide to Adrian Burke.

The fifth Bather run came in the third as Martin led with a single, advanced when Adcock grounded out, and scored from second when Harrington booted a Tuckey bounder.

Bayou Hosts Men's Play

Tuesday, June 2nd has been designated at Bayou DeSiard Country Club as the opening day for qualifying for the Men's Twin Cities Annual Golf Tournament.

Qualifying will continue for five days, through Sunday, June 7, with a large and fast field expected to compete in this year's event, the first Men's Twin Cities meet to be played over the 18-hole layout at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club.

This year's tournament will consist of the low 32 qualifiers competing for the title held by Clyde Nash, who stroked his way to victory at McGuire Park Golf and Country Club, West Monroe, in a medal affair in 1952. E. B. Petty was runner-up to Nash.

The first 16 losers will automatically go into the first flight.

First-round matches will be played by Saturday evening, June 13; second-round matches must be played by nightfall of Sunday, June 14, with quarter-final matches being completed by Saturday night, June 20. Semi-finals will be played on Sunday, June 21. All matches will be 18 holes.

The finals, which will be over the 36-hole route, will be played Saturday and Sunday, June 27 and 28. Eighteen holes to be played Saturday afternoon with the remaining holes being played Sunday afternoon, June 28.

The tourney this year is expected to consist of the fastest field ever to compete in the Men's Twin Cities championship.

Some of the local golfers that are expected to compete are Clyde Nash, defending champ; E. B. Peddy, Kenny Holt, E. E. Lawson, Jimmie Green, Corbin Turpin, Bill Jones, 1951 titleholder, Dickie Touchstone, Ed Shaver, E. S. "Shep" Girault, Bobbie Shafto, McVea Oliver, Bobbie Guerriero, Ed Hemphill and others.

Among the younger players home from college who are expected to enter and make a fine showing are Jackie Doss, member of the L. S. U. golf team; Speed Bancroft and Ed Seymour, Jr., members of the Tulane Green Wave golf team; Jimmie Rivers, a member of Louisiana Tech's golfing brigade, and a fast-coming young linksman; Wayne Woods, who has been on the physically-ailing list for the past two months, and who just recently was able to play 18 holes of golf in a day. Woods has had several sub-par rounds lately and will be a definite threat to dethrone Nash.

Jackie Doss and Wayne Woods are leaving today for Dallas to compete in the Southern Amateur Golf Tournament to be played over the Lakewood Golf and Country Club's beautiful golf course.

A newcomer to Monroe and eligible to compete is Rell Suggs, brother of Louise Suggs, nationally known woman golfer and leading money winner among the feminine pros of this year.

Twin Cities golfers are delighted to welcome to local competition such a fine golfer and sportsman as Suggs and he is expected to go far in the tourney, provided business does not hinder him from participating.

Prizes will be awarded to the medalist and winner and runner-up in the championship and first flight.

Chisox, Indians Split Doubleheader; 7-2, 6-5

CHICAGO, May 30. (AP)—The Chicago White Sox bounced back into second place by rallying to edge the Cleveland Indians 6-5 in the nightcap after losing the first game 7-2 before a throng of 41,971 at Comiskey Park today.

The two clubs took turns punching out base hits. The Indians hammered four Sox pitchers for 14 hits including two homers, a triple and three doubles in the first game.

The Pale Hose came back in the second game to produce 15 hits, 14 at the expense of starter Early Wynn who lost his second decision against five wins. Among the 15 were six doubles.

Gene Bearden turned in a superb relief performance against his former mates in the nightcap and the Sox made it worth while in the ninth.

The Indians employed three pitchers in the first game to check the Sox with four hits. Bob Feller suffered a pulled muscle in his side and had to be relieved after Minny Minoso singled to open the fifth.

Bob Hooper held the Pale Hose to one hit and one run both coming in the same inning when he walked two and was tagged for a single by Nellie Fox. Jim Rivera lined an inside-the park homer off Dale Mitchell's knees at the expense of Lou Brissie who worked the ninth. It was Hooper's fourth triumph without a loss.

Hot Springs Evens Series With Monroe

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

What teeth the Monroe Sports had appeared to have been pulled somewhere on their last road trip, maybe in the camp of the Buckshot Indians at Greenville where they lost two out of three. At least they looked mighty defenseless against the Pine Bluff Judges during the all too long three-game stand by the Judges here.

Man and boy, we've seen many Cotton States League games at home. Monroe has lost games by lopsided scores before. But offhand, we can't recall when a Monroe outfit looked so miserable so many nights in a row. All told, the Judges racked up 35 runs against the Sports in the three games, and needed only three innings to score 20 of them.

Yet, the baseball fan of the Twin Cities was well represented for the series that drew 3,992 paying customers. The Pine Bluff opener attracted 1,343, and the Sports dropped the game, 12-8, through failure of the pitching staff. Only 674 turned out for the middle game that was dropped, 12-0. An American Legion night program was the main reason why 2,002 were on hand to see the Sports drop the third straight to the Judges, 11-0, but the big crowd of the series was desolving in a hurry after Pine Bluff bagged ten runs in the seventh inning. Only a few of the faithful saw it through.

"What's the matter with the Sports?" suddenly became e question even the casual fan was asking.

One was prompted to write us this note: "So far the al baseball fans have strung along with the Sports. But ney don't like lakadaisical baseball and will soon find that e (the fan) has no more interest in the team than the eam has in winning. Wake up, Sports! A few more weeks may be too late."

The result of the Pine Bluff series was reflected in one of the smallest crowds of the season, 424, that turned out for Friday's season opener with Hot Springs. Ironically, it has been noticeable that the Sports look their worst most consistently when they have a huge home crowd. The best games, the ones we still like to talk about, have developed before slim crowds. Such was the case when "Hoppy" Hatcher notched his no-hitter a year ago, when Darvin Chrisco hurled his no-hitter two seasons ago, and the same was true for Friday night's 424 faithful who counted themselves among the first to see one of baseball's rare defensive features, a triple play, first to be pulled at Legion Memorial Stadium.

The Hot Springs Bathers furnished the triple play, but the Sports went on to win, 3-1, in the second fastest game played here this year. The opener with the Spas lasted only an hour and 51 minutes. Shortest here so far was the 1-0 conquest of Jackson in an hour and 45 minutes of May 6.

The Spas and Sports were at it again last night (since this writing), and win or lose the fans are still demanding good baseball. Many won't settle for anything less than a winner, but to command a good following, a club has to be well over a 50 per cent winner.

As Reed Stephens remarked following the opening conquest of the Bathers, "I believe we are ready to roll. I think this victory will start us off on the right foot again. Stephens had just finished sparking the Sports with three hits in three times at bat and making the night's most sensational catch when he speared a blue-streak drive off the bat of Bob Adcock in the fourth inning.

Bathers Shut Out Sports, 7 To 0, On Siefert 6-Hitter

The Hot Springs Bathers, getting six-hit pitching from Ken Siefert, big righthander, shut out the Monroe Sports, 7 to 0, here last night as the Spas squared their current series here at a game apiece. It was the third shut out in four days for the Sports and their fifth of the season.

The two clubs clash here in the final of the series this afternoon at 3 o'clock as Monroe winds up its current home stand and points for Pine Bluff where a three-game series opens tomorrow night.

The Bathers backed Siefert with a nine-hit attack led by Hal Martin, the Cotton States League's leading batsman who collected three-for-four, including a triple. It was Siefert's fifth win. He has lost three.

Gene Summerlin, a four-game winner, suffered his second loss for the Sports. He was pulled for a pinch batter in the seventh, and Tommy Thompson held the Bathers in hand the last two frames.

Lou Stutts, now operating in the outfield for the Sports, led what attack Monroe had to offer with a perfect night at bat as he hit two singles and walked twice. Only others to tap Siefert were Nels Daehn, hitting safely in his fourteenth straight game, and Billy Sharp, Reed Stephens, and Adrian Burk.

The Bathers wasted no time picking up four quick runs in the first inning. With one out, Steve Korfonta and Hal Martin hit singles and both came home when Manager "Moose" Shetler doubled. A triple by Bob Adcock scored Shetler. Babe Tuckey walked. Bob Passaralla forced Tuckey, Harrington to Sharp, and Adcock scored as Sharp, trying for a double play at first, threw wide to Adrian Burke.

The fifth Bather run came in the third as Martin led with a single, advanced when Adcock grounded out, and scored from second when Harrington booted a Tuckey bounder.

Two more Bather runs counted in the fourth. Jack Bales walked. Siefert sacrificed and John Smirnoff grounded out. But Korfonta singled, scoring Bales, and Martin came through with his third straight hit, a triple, to count Korfonta.

Tuesday, June 2nd has been designated at Bayou DeSiard Country Club as the opening day for qualifying for the Men's Twin Cities Annual Golf Tournament.

Qualifying will continue for five days, through Sunday, June 7, with a large and fast field expected to compete in this year's event, the first Men's Twin Cities meet to be played over the 18-hole layout at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club.

This year's tournament will consist of the low 32 qualifiers competing for the title held by Clyde Nash, who stroked his way to victory at McGuire Park Golf and Country Club, West Monroe, in a medal affair in 1952. E. B. Petty was runner-up to Nash.

The first 16 losers will automatically go into the first flight.

First-round matches will be played by Saturday evening, June 13; second-round matches must be played by nightfall of Sunday, June 14, with quarter-final matches being completed by Saturday night, June 20. Semi-finals will be played on Sunday, June 21. All matches will be 18 holes.

The finals, which will be over the 36-hole route, will be played Saturday and Sunday, June 27 and 28. Eighteen holes to be played Saturday afternoon with the remaining holes being played Sunday afternoon, June 28.

The tourney this year is expected to consist of the fastest field ever to compete in the Men's Twin Cities championship.

Some of the local golfers that are expected to compete are Clyde Nash, defending champ; E. B. Peddy, Kenny Holt, E. E. Lawson, Jimmie Green, Corbin Turpin, Bill Jones, 1951 titleholder, Dickie Touchstone, Ed Shaver, E. S. "Shep" Girault, Bobbie Shafto, McVea Oliver, Bobbie Guerriero, Ed Hemphill and others.

Among the younger players home from college who are expected to enter and make a fine showing are Jackie Doss, member of the L. S. U. golf team; Speed Bancroft and Ed Seymour, Jr., members of the Tulane Green Wave golf team; Jimmie Rivers, a member of Louisiana Tech's golfing brigade, and a fast-coming young linksman; Wayne Woods, who has been on the physically-ailing list for the past two months, and who just recently was able to play 18 holes of golf in a day. Woods has had several sub-par rounds lately and will be a definite threat to dethrone Nash.

Jackie Doss and Wayne Woods are leaving today for Dallas to compete in the Southern Amateur Golf Tournament to be played over the Lakewood Golf and Country Club's beautiful golf course.

A newcomer to Monroe and eligible to compete is Rell Suggs, brother of Louise Suggs, nationally known woman golfer and leading money winner among the feminine pros of this year.

Twin Cities golfers are delighted to welcome to local competition such a fine golfer and sportsman as Suggs and he is expected to go far in the tourney, provided business does not hinder him from participating.

Prizes will be awarded to the medalist and winner and runner-up in the championship and first flight.

Chisox, Indians Split Doubleheader; 7-2, 6-5

CHICAGO, May 30. (AP)—The Chicago White Sox bounced back into second place by rallying to edge the Cleveland Indians 6-5 in the nightcap after losing the first game 7-2 before a throng of 41,971 at Comiskey Park today.

The two clubs took turns punching out base hits. The Indians hammered four Sox pitchers for 14 hits including two homers, a triple and three doubles in the first game.

The Pale Hose came back in the second game to produce 15 hits, 14 at the expense of starter Early Wynn who lost his second decision against five wins. Among the 15 were six doubles.

Gene Bearden turned in a superb relief performance against his former mates in the nightcap and the Sox made it worth while in the ninth.

The Indians employed three pitchers in the first game to check the Sox with four hits. Bob Feller suffered a pulled muscle in his side and had to be relieved after Minny Minoso singled to open the fifth.

Bob Hooper held the Pale Hose to one hit and one run both coming in the same inning when he walked two and was tagged for a single by Nellie Fox. Jim Rivera lined an inside-the park homer off Dale Mitchell's knees at the expense of Lou Brissie who worked the ninth. It was Hooper's fourth triumph without a loss.

NATS, BOSOX SPLIT

WASHINGTON, May 30—(AP)—Usually reliable Jim Piersall permitted Wayne Terwilliger's pop fly to fall at his feet in short center field for an error with one out and the bases loaded in the ninth to permit Jim Busby to score and give Washington a 2-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox in the second game of a double header today. Boston won the first game, 4-3.

Miller-Nash Final For Ladies' City Title Today

Helen Campbell, Fran Guthrie Go Out In Semi-Play

Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, the defending champion, and winner of numerous golf trophies, and Mrs. Dot Nash, up and coming local feminine golfer, will meet this afternoon at 2:30 in an 18-hole match at Bayou DeSiard Golf and Country Club for the Women's Twin Cities Golf Tournament title.

Mrs. Miller had one of her better rounds in disposing of young Miss Fran Guthrie, 6 and 5, to enter the finals. Miss Miller played exceptionally well throughout the match which was really much closer than the score indicates. She finished the first nine 3 up but was fortunate not to lose the 9th hole as she had a sudden lapse in putting and three putted from 20 feet. However, her young but smooth-stroking opponent was unable to capitalize on Mrs. Miller's mistake as she was a victim of three-putting the 9th green also.

On the incoming nine Mrs. Miller picked up two more holes and closed out the match on 14th green.

Mrs. Miller beat Mrs. Georgia Summer, 4 and 3, in the first round.

Mrs. Nash, one of the most improved local feminine golfers, and who has only been playing golf for the past three years, defeated Mrs. Helen Campbell, 5 and 3, in another semi-final match that was closer than the score indicates.

Mrs. Nash took an early lead and was never headed, although Mrs. Campbell stayed within striking distance until they reached the long No. 12 hole.

Today's match between Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Nash should be tough and full of interest to the local feminine golfers. Mrs. Miller, who once held the Louisiana State Women's crown, and who carried the present state champion, Miss Mary Ann Villegas, of New Orleans, to the 18th green before bowing out in the semi-finals, is probably playing the best golf of her life. Mrs. Miller had a better medal score than Miss Villegas in their recent match.

Mrs. Nash, a practically newcomer to the local golfing scene, is one of the steadiest and smoothest competitors among the "weaker sex" golfers. She has come a long way in the three years of club swinging and it is generally believed that she will give the defending champ a run for the title.

Mrs. Nash downed Mrs. Rosalie Fudickar, 3 and 2, in her first match before meeting Mrs. Campbell.

In the first flight consolation Mrs. Georgia Summer beat Mrs. Suzonne Kellogg, 1 up, and Mrs. Loraine McMahan won a hard-fought victory over Mrs. Rosalie Fudickar, 1 up in 19 holes. Mrs. Summer and Mrs. McMahan meet for the first flight consolation today.

Miss Sara Jane Upp won the first flight championship by downing Mrs. Goldie Copes in the finals, 3 and 2, in a match much closer than the score indicates. Miss Upp reached the final round by eliminating Mrs. Harmon Eaves, 5 and 4, in the first round and then defeated her mother, Mrs. Lucy Upp, 4 and 3, in the semi-finals.

Mrs. Bea John defeated Mrs. Harmon Eaves, 5 and 4, to win first flight consolation prize.

In the second flight Mrs. Helen Wheeler and Mrs. Florence Garretson will meet in the finals. Mrs. Wheeler defeated Mrs. Bernice Watkins, 2 and 1, and Mrs. Garretson downed Mrs. L. E. Ducote, 6 and 5.

Mrs. Snodie John won the third flight by defeating Mrs. Kit Walters, 6 and 5. Mrs. John won her way to the finals by defeating Mrs. Betty Gray, 2 up, in a first-round match and downing Mrs. Como Prophit in the semi-finals by the same score. Mrs. Carol Marx beat Mrs. Margaret Davis, 3 and 2, for consolation prize.

Junior Boys' Qualifying Slated Here Tomorrow

Qualifying will start Monday at 8:30 at Bayou DeSiard Golf and Country Club and continue throughout the day for the Junior Twin Cities Golf Championship tourney. All local golfers between the ages of 10 and 14 years of age are eligible.

Approximately 30 local boys are expected to qualify for this year's Junior meet, the first affair of its kind to be held at Bayou DeSiard Country Club.

The championship flight will consist of the low 16 qualifiers, with the first-round losers making up the First Flight.

Pairings and starting times will be announced in Tuesday's Morning World with first-round matches being played Tuesday morning, June 2.

Second-round matches will take place Tuesday afternoon. All first and second-round matches will be played over the 9-hole route.

Semi-final matches (18 holes) will be played Wednesday morning with the final 18-hole match taking place Thursday morning.

Among the Juniors expected to make a fine showing in this year's tournament are Joe Brownlee, Joe Thomas, Joe Wheeler and Steve Henry.

Prizes will be awarded to the medalist, winner and runner-up in the championship and first flight.

Aussie Olympic Troubles Begin To Fade—Maybe

MELBOURNE, May 30 (AP)—After two weeks of near panic following the resignation of control committee chairman Arthur Coles and the adverse reaction of the International Olympic Committee, Melbourne once again has settled down to planning the 1956 Olympic games.

A site for the much discussed Olympic pool has been settled—the same site that was originally chosen four years ago. It will be Olympic Park, close by the Melbourne cricket ground stadium where the key events will be held.

The cycling Velodrome will be built in the same area, within a mile of the city proper.

Olympic Park is the headquarters of amateur sports in Melbourne. It also was to have been the original site of the main Olympic Stadium until the great site-changing mania broke out nearly five years ago.

This is no time for anyone with a chip on his shoulder to get busy," Coleman said. "If there are any grievances, they must be aired openly and ironed out."

The chief executive officer for the games hasn't been selected yet but the appointment is expected to go to Lt. Gen. W. Bridgeford, former commander of the British commonwealth forces in Japan and Korea.

DUTCH TREAT—Puck Brouwer was a treat for track fans' eyes warming up for the 110-meter sprint at the Wealdstone meet in London. She ran second in the Olympic Games, is a former beauty queen of Holland. (NEA).

Irisher Joe Carr Beats Ward In British Finals

HOYLAKE, England (AP) — Joe Carr of Ireland won the British Amateur golf champion today by defeating Harvie Ward, defending titleholder from Atlanta, two up in the 36-hole final.

The 31-year-old British Walker Cup player won out in a tense duel after blowing a three-hole lead at the 18-hold. Ward, seeking to become the first player to win the crown twice in succession since Lawson Little accomplished the feat in 1934-35, came from behind to tie the match at the 29th hole.

But the lanky Irishman calmly sank a 30-foot putt on the 30th to regain the lead once more. Another beautiful shot on the last hole clinched the match for the veteran.

He hit a 40-foot approach shot to within six inches of the pin while Ward' third shot left him 14 feet shy of the hole.

At that point, the 27-year-old Ward walked across the green to shake hands with the lean Irishman as some 5,000 fans applauded.

Carr's victory broke a three-year American monopoly on the title. Max McCready, another Irishman, was the last non-American to win the championship. He defeated America's Willie Turnesa in the 1949 final.

Ward dropped the first two holes in the morning and fought an uphill battle the rest of the way. He never could get ahead of his rival in the nerve - wracking game, played in a blustering wind which raised havoc with the players' long shots.

Kaelin was taken to MacNeil Memorial Hospital in suburban Berwyn, where his condition was listed as critical.

Prather and Webb were the winning batteries, and Shroeder was behind the plate for the losers.

West Monroe Firestone defeated Hogans, 9-4, on five hits, four errors, and six walks, off loser Ronnie Haile. Lee was the winning pitcher, while his teammate, Harrelson, was the Firestone nine's leading hitter, with two hits. The second game in the West Monroe League found Unique Cleaners edging Colbert Hardware, 4-3, behind the six hit pitching of Joe Young. Works, pitching for the losers, struck out eleven, and allowed but two hits, the winning run scoring with two out in the final frame.

Miller-Nash Final For Ladies' City Title Today

Helen Campbell, Fran Guthrie Go Out In Semi-Play

Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, the defending champion, and winner of numerous golf trophies, and Mrs. Dot Nash, up and coming local feminine golfer, will meet this afternoon at 2:30 in an 18-hole match at Bayou DeSiard Golf and Country Club for the Women's Twin Cities Golf Tournament title.

Mrs. Miller had one of her better rounds in disposing of young Miss Fran Guthrie, 6 and 5, to enter the finals. Miss Miller played exceptionally well throughout the match which was really much closer than the score indicates. She finished the first nine 3 up but was fortunate not to lose the 9th hole as she had a sudden lapse in putting and three putted from 20 feet. However, her young but smooth-stroking opponent was unable to capitalize on Mrs. Miller's mistake as she was a victim of three-putting the 9th green also.

On the incoming nine Mrs. Miller picked up two more holes and closed out the match on 14th green.

Mrs. Miller beat Mrs. Georgia Summer, 4 and 3, in the first round.

Mrs. Nash, one of the most improved local feminine golfers, and who has only been playing golf for the past three years, defeated Mrs. Helen Campbell, 5 and 3, in another semi-final match that was closer than the score indicates.

Mrs. Nash took an early lead and was never headed, although Mrs. Campbell stayed within striking distance until they reached the long No. 12 hole.

Today's match between Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Nash should be tough and full of interest to the local feminine golfers. Mrs. Miller, who once held the Louisiana State Women's crown, and who carried the present state champion, Miss Mary Ann Villegas, of New Orleans, to the 18th green before bowing out in the semi-finals, is probably playing the best golf of her life. Mrs. Miller had a better medal score than Miss Villegas in their recent match.

Mrs. Nash, a practically newcomer to the local golfing scene, is one of the steadiest and smoothest competitors among the "weaker sex" golfers. She has come a long way in the three years of club swinging and it is generally believed that she will give the defending champ a run for the title.

Mrs. Nash downed Mrs. Rosalie Fudickar, 3 and 2, in her first match before meeting Mrs. Campbell.

In the first flight consolation Mrs. Georgia Summer beat Mrs. Suzonne Kellogg, 1 up, and Mrs. Loraine McMahan won a hard-fought victory over Mrs. Rosalie Fudickar, 1 up in 19 holes. Mrs. Summer and Mrs. McMahan meet for the first flight consolation today.

Miss Sara Jane Upp won the first flight championship by downing Mrs. Goldie Copes in the finals, 3 and 2, in a match much closer than the score indicates. Miss Upp reached the final round by eliminating Mrs. Harmon Eaves, 5 and 4, in the first round and then defeated her mother, Mrs. Lucy Upp, 4 and 3, in the semi-finals.

Mrs. Bea John defeated Mrs. Harmon Eaves, 5 and 4, to win first flight consolation prize.

In the second flight Mrs. Helen Wheeler and Mrs. Florence Garretson will meet in the finals. Mrs. Wheeler defeated Mrs. Bernice Watkins, 2 and 1, and Mrs. Garretson downed Mrs. L. E. Ducote, 6 and 5.

Mrs. Snodie John won the third flight by defeating Mrs. Kit Walters, 6 and 5. Mrs. John won her way to the finals by defeating Mrs. Betty Gray, 2 up, in a first-round match and downing Mrs. Como Prophit in the semi-finals by the same score. Mrs. Carol Marx beat Mrs. Margaret Davis, 3 and 2, for consolation prize.

Junior Boys' Qualifying Slated Here Tomorrow

Qualifying will start Monday at 8:30 at Bayou DeSiard Golf and Country Club and continue throughout the day for the Junior Twin Cities Golf Championship tourney. All local golfers between the ages of 10 and 14 years of age are eligible.

Approximately 30 local boys are expected to qualify for this year's Junior meet, the first affair of its kind to be held at Bayou DeSiard Country Club.

The championship flight will consist of the low 16 qualifiers, with the first-round losers making up the First Flight.

Pairings and starting times will be announced in Tuesday's Morning World with first-round matches being played Tuesday morning, June 2.

Second-round matches will take place Tuesday afternoon. All first and second-round matches will be played over the 9-hole route.

Semi-final matches (18 holes) will be played Wednesday morning with the final 18-hole match taking place Thursday morning.

Among the Juniors expected to make a fine showing in this year's tournament are Joe Brownlee, Joe Thomas, Joe Wheeler and Steve Henry.

Aussie Olympic Troubles Begin To Fade—Maybe

MELBOURNE, May 30 (AP)—After two weeks of near panic following the resignation of control committee chairman Arthur Coles and the adverse reaction of the International Olympic Committee, Melbourne once again has settled down to planning the 1956 Olympic games.

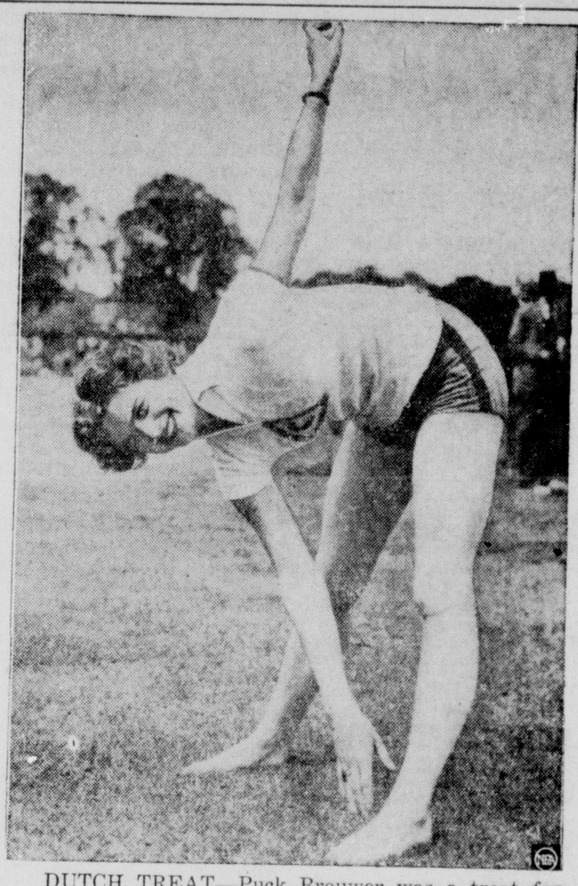

A site for the much discussed Olympic pool has been settled—the same site that was originally chosen four years ago. It will be Olympic Park, close by the Melbourne cricket ground stadium where the key events will be held.

The cycling Velodrome will be built in the same area, within a mile of the city proper.

Olympic Park is the headquarters of amateur sports in Melbourne. It also was to have been the original site of the main Olympic Stadium until the great site-changing mania broke out nearly five years ago.

This is no time for anyone with a chip on his shoulder to get busy," Coleman said. "If there are any grievances, they must be aired openly and ironed out."

The chief executive officer for the games hasn't been selected yet but the appointment is expected to go to Lt. Gen. W. Bridgeford, former commander of the British commonwealth forces in Japan and Korea.

DUTCH TREAT—Puck Brouwer was a treat for track fans' eyes warming up for the 110-meter sprint at the Wealdstone meet in London. She ran second in the Olympic Games, is a former beauty queen of Holland. (NEA).

Irisher Joe Carr Beats Ward In British Finals

HOYLAKE, England (AP) — Joe Carr of Ireland won the British Amateur golf champion today by defeating Harvie Ward, defending titleholder from Atlanta, two up in the 36-hole final.

The 31-year-old British Walker Cup player won out in a tense duel after blowing a three-hole lead at the 18-hold. Ward, seeking to become the first player to win the crown twice in succession since Lawson Little accomplished the feat in 1934-35, came from behind to tie the match at the 29th hole.

But the lanky Irishman calmly sank a 30-foot putt on the 30th to regain the lead once more. Another beautiful shot on the last hole clinched the match for the veteran.

He hit a 40-foot approach shot to within six inches of the pin while Ward' third shot left him 14 feet shy of the hole.

At that point, the 27-year-old Ward walked across the green to shake hands with the lean Irishman as some 5,000 fans applauded.

Carr's victory broke a three-year American monopoly on the title. Max McCready, another Irishman, was the last non-American to win the championship. He defeated America's Willie Turnesa in the 1949 final.

Ward dropped the first two holes in the morning and fought an uphill battle the rest of the way. He never could get ahead of his rival in the nerve - wracking game, played in a blustering wind which raised havoc with the players' long shots.

Kaelin was taken to MacNeil Memorial Hospital in suburban Berwyn, where his condition was listed as critical.

Gays collected eight hits off Murphy and McCready, who shared the pitching duties for the Esso nine, but walks were a big factor in their downfall. Prather and Webb were the winning batteries, and Shroeder was behind the plate for the losers.

West Monroe Firestone defeated Hogans, 9-4, on five hits, four errors, and six walks, off loser Ronnie Haile. Lee was the winning pitcher, while his teammate, Harrelson, was the Firestone nine's leading hitter, with two hits. Leading hitters for Hogans were Griggs and Haile, who also fanned ten, with a pair of bingles each.

The second game in the West Monroe League found Unique Cleaners edging Colbert Hardware, 4-3, behind the six hit pitching of Joe Young. Works, pitching for the losers, struck out eleven, and allowed but two hits, the winning run scoring with two out in the final frame.

Little League officials have requested all managers to bring in the blue parent release forms as soon as possible. Birth certificates are also required for all boys 12 years old.

Vukovich Takes Speedway Race, One Life Claimed

130-Degree Heat On Track Takes Toll Of Drivers

By WILL GRIMSLEY

INDIANAPOLIS, May 30 (AP) — Bill Vukovich, a grim and nerveless Slovenian from Fresno, Calif., set a blistering pace through oven-like heat today to win the Indianapolis 500-mile Speedway championship, snatched from his hands a year ago in the final 25 miles.

The 200-lap grind over the motor speedway's seared brick and asphalt oval was staged in such sweltering conditions that one veteran driver, Carl Scarborough of Clarkston, Mich., died of heat exhaustion and a heart attack after relinquishing his wheel at 175 miles.

The track temperature was 130 degrees with the reading officially 91 in the shade. Eight drivers were hospitalized because of the scorching heat.

The heat, however, didn't dim the enthusiasm of the crowd, unofficially estimated at about 175,000 perspiring persons.

One other driver, Pat Flaherty, of Glendale, Calif., suffered cuts and bruises when he rammed the concrete wall on the north straightaway, but otherwise, this neck-risking race was without serious incident.

The husky 34-year-old Vukovich defied relief, the pole position, and every challenge as he gunned his sleek, mouse-gray racing machine to the front on the mad opening lap and led for 198 of the 200 grinding sweeps around the course.

Setting a record early pace but slowed by minor track accidents which forced up the "take it easy" yellow light, Vuky covered the 500 miles in three hours, 53 minutes, 1.69 seconds for an average of 128.740 m.p.h.

This was the second fastest winning time in the 37-year history of the race, topped only by the 128.922 set by Troy Ruttman in 1952 when Vukovich's car developed steering trouble and fell out within sight of home.

Ruttman, injured in an accident last summer, watched today's chase from the side lines.

It was the most smashing triumph since 1930 when Billy Arnold took command at the third lap and led the rest of the way.

Fulfilling a pre-race boast that "I'll take that lead—and stay there," Vukovich made it strictly a one-man show which paled the battle for place positions into insignificance.

Paul Russo of Hammond, Ind., who relieved Fred Agabashian of Albany, Calif., at the 363-mile point, won second place over Art Cross of Laporte, Ind., making his second start.

Russo was timed in 3:56:32.54—approximately three minutes behind the winner. Cross was a hard driving third at 3:56:32.54.

The tremendous crowd filled every available pew in the scattered stands and swarmed over the infield. It let out an ear splitting roar as Vukovich received a 15-second kiss from movie actress Jane Greer—a traditional ritual.

Vukovich was much more enthused perhaps over his $29,700 lap money—$150 for each lap he led—and his over-all prize money which probably will amount to around $75,000.

The winner's exact winnings are never determined until the day after the race.

Vuky's lap money, plus the $16,-200 he won last year in the same fashion, makes him the biggest all time lap winner in history.

Previously, Bill Holland, an also ran in today's grueling test, held that mark with $35,000.

Vukovich wrecked not only the hopes of his 32 adversaries, the greatest drivers in the business, but also defied the tradition that the man on the pole should never win the race.

He became the fifth man in 37 races to win from a pole start. The others were Jimmy Murphy in 1922, Tommy Milton in 1923, Arnold in 1930, and Floyd Roberts in 1939.

Only 14 cars were still on the track and only six of the original 33 finished the race, marked by minor crackups, harassing mechanical troubles and constant changing of drivers to fight the heat.

Martin Increases Lead, Rogers Holds 2nd Place

By J. P. FRIEND

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark., May 30 (Special) — With pressure supplied by three ambitious batsmen, Hot Springs' slugging Hal Martin merely turned on more heat in the form of basehits and took a firmer grip on the Cotton States League batting leadership.

The Spa swatter, who has all but monopolized the hitting for the last four weeks, enjoyed another banner week ending May 26. In 31 times at bat, the outfielder rapped out 15 more safeties and raised his batting average to the almost unbelievable .484 mark, a gain of 13 decimals. His chart strongly resembles the UN war debt with 106-48.

Martin not only leads in batting, but has scored the most runs, 40; most hits, 48; most home runs, 15; most total bases, 106, the first to crack the century mark, and has batted in 39 runners for a pretty fair five week's work with the willow.

Three other hitters, who have their eyes on the bat diadem, Ray Rogers, Monroe; Pol Austin, El Dorado, and Jack Landis, Pine Bluff, are not letting Martin rest for one moment. Rogers, who led during the first week then skidded to the lower depths, regained his batting eye during the week. In 22 tries the Sport receiver came up with 12 hits that upped his mace mark 80 points to .397, one point ahead of Austin for runnerup honors. In 20 games Rogers has 63-25.

Austin need not apologize for his six-game performance. He went 24-13 for a 42-point boost to an impressive .396. In all he has 106-42, has batted in 31 runners. He has a 11-game hitting streak working.

Landis, a constant threat all season, had 82-12 to show during the last period, including a pair of home runs, 11 runs scored and seven rbi's. He went from .373 to .387.

Charley Harrington, Monroe skipper, also went on a hitting spree and with such gusto that it gave him the No. 5 rating among the regulars at .346, a gain of 38 by virtue of 29-12. Three went for doubles, one triple and a four master. He batted in 10.

Louie Schaufele, Jackson's slugging ex-grid star, had his 15-game batting skein snapped on May 21, failed in three tries the next day, then tried to recoup his losses in the next four games. He came close, but lost three points to .344, and the No. 6 spot. He has the most doubles, 11, one more than Ed Cholakian, Pine Bluff (.318) and Ken Robinett, another Judge (.308). Don Allen, Natches, comes next with .343, a drop of three; followed by Marland (Duke) Doolittle, Jackson manager, .343; Nels Dachn, Monroe, .336, up 11 points; Ty Braziel, Greenville .327; and Merrill Smith, Pine Bluff, .323, for the Upper bracket of hitters. Dachn and Jack Maroney, Jackson (.293) have slugged four triples each. Frank Lucchesi, Pine Bluff leader, has swiped 11 bases, one more than Harrington.

Jimmy Dupuy, Memphis youngster with Meridian, is cutting a right fancy pitching figure for the Millers. He has won four games, including the unreported victory Tuesday night which is not listed, without a loss, to top the hurlers. Frank Callahan, Pine Bluff, has a 5-1 chart; John Paul Jones, Jackson, Milt Ardrey, El Dorado, and Gene Summerlin, Monroe, 4-1. The two six-game winners, Bobby Harrison, Meridian, who is the strike-out king with 64, and Tom Pollet, Greenville collegian, have been thumped only twice. Hugh Blanton, Monroe, has won 5, lost 2. Monroe has a bare .0001 lead in hitting. Meridian is fielding best.

Double Feature Wrestling Card Tuesday Night

A doule main event is on top at the Kallio's Arena Tuesday night, when Baby Blimp tangles with Al Massey in one match; and Joe Corbett meets Don Martin in the second half.

The Blimp defeated Massey in the final fall of a tag match last week, when Massey, after beating Blimp around the ring, butted his own head into a corner and knocked himself flat, Blimp merely falling on for the finishing pin. Teamed with Jungle Boy, the Blimp had won one fall from Massey and Corbett, who had come back to win the second.

Corbett, who had lost the first fall to Jungle Boy's "hangman's noose" hold, takes on another villainous grappler Tuesday, in Martin. The latter has never wrestled anyone here not named Curtis, but is expected to stick to his usual crowd - displeasing technique against barrel-chested Corbett.

Both matches have an hour and 15 minute time-limit, with two falls necessary to win. Bill Barney, the smiling West Monroe garage operator, will officiate both ends of the twin-bill, which begins at 8 o'clock.

Promotor Kallio has announced his next boxing program for Monday, June 15. No card has been arranged as yet.

Another Former Northeast Grid Star Joins Pros

Another former Northeast State football player has been signed to play professional football, making the third one to ink a pact with the play - for - pay terms in a period of less than two months.

Contracted to play with the Detroit Lions, professional football champions of 1953, is Tommy Danks, a Greensburg, Pa., lad who held down a quarterback position with great finesse when he was a student at the junior college here in 1948 and 1949. Danks is the second Greensburg athlete to sign for pro football in recent weeks from the local college. Pat Marnell, a tackle, also from Greensburg, will report in August to play with the New York Giants in the National League. He and his teammate, another tackle, Harold Corkran, were given contracts recently with the Giants. The signing took place at Northeast State.

Danks, who has been in the service for the past three years, played a brilliant game at quarterback when he was a member of the Indian's backfield. His ball-handling then — as now — was described by Head Football Coach James L. Malone as "superb."

Danks has gained a tremendous amount of experience in playing service football, and it was here that he was recognized by the pro scouts.

Tom Fool, Royal Bay Gem Win At Belmont, Lincoln

NEW YORK, May 30 (AP)—Favorites flicked in two of the richest stakes on this Memorial Day's race program today as Tom Fool turned in one of the turf's greatest performances to win the Suburban Handicap at Belmont Park and Royal Bay Gem came through in the Peabody Memorial at Lincoln Fields. Both were $50,000 added events.

Flying the famous pink and black silks of the Greentree stable, Tom Fool packed top weight of 128 pounds over a mile and one-quarter in 2:00 3-5 and beat Mrs. Ethel du Pont Weir's English-bred Royal Vale by a nose. C. V. Whitney's Cold Command was third, seven lengths back.

In picking up the purse of $40,-400 and running his total earnings to $394,940, Tom Fool paid $6.10, $3 and $2.80. Ted Atkinson was in the saddle for his second straight Suburban triumph. He won with Greentree's One Hitter a year ago.

Royal Bay Gem, fourth in the Kentucky Derby and third in the Preakness, ran his usual come-from-behind race in taking the mile and one-eighth of the Peabody Memorial for Eugene Constantin, Jr., Dallas, Tex.

The little Texas-owned son of Royal Gem won by a length over the Hasty House farm's Platan and paid $3.40, $2.60 and $2.40. Sir Mango was third. The victory was worth $39,800.

The winner paid $10.60, $6.80 and $4.90 in picking up the purse of $31,025.

John S. Phipps' Spinning Top took the $20,000 added Black Eyed Susan Stakes for three-year old fillies at Pimlico in a photo finish. Wally Schwab's Milspal was second and the favored Cain Hoy stable's Wings O'Morn third.

Spinning Top closed fast in the stretch and paid $15.80 for a $2 win mutuel. Her time for the mile and one-sixteenth was 1:47 1-5.

The Companas stable's Versify, a rank outsider paying $46.80, closed with a rush to win the $20,-000 added Colonial Handicap at Garden State Park. Atlanta trailed by two and one - half lengths in second place. Third went to Sunshine Nell as Cinda, last year's winner and the favorite, wound up fourth.

The real upset of the day's feature events came at Suffolk Downs where the River Divide stable's Andrew captured the $10,000 Tomasello Handicap and returned $83.20 for $2. J. M. Lingle's favored Larry Ellis was second, two lengths back. Third went to Little Imp.

BODEGA BAY, Calif., (AP)—Mike DiMaggio, 48, member of the famous baseball family, drowned today as he fell, unnoticed, from a fishing boat tied at pier.

He followed his father, the late Joseph DiMaggio, as a commercial fisherman, while his brothers, Joe, Dominic and Vince, became baseball players. Another brother, Tom, operates a restaurant on Fisherman's Wharf, San Francisco.

Friends said DiMaggio had had some trouble in the past with a heart condition, and may have had a slight attack which caused him to fall.

In addition to his brothers, he is survived by four sisters.

Jacobs Up Front In Texas League Batting At .354

DALLAS, May 30. (AP)—Forrest Jacobs, Fort Worth surging second baseman, made one of the fastest rises the Texas League ever saw this week as he added 37 points to his batting average to take over first place.

And while he was replacing the slumping George Lerchen of Tulsa as the No. 1 hitter in the circuit, he was pulling his club into first place in batting.

Jacobs got 17 hits in 33 times at the plate to move from tenth place among the regulars to first. His gaudy .354 on 62 hits in 175 times at bat, gave him a three-point bulge on Joe Frazier of Oklahoma City, who also made some rapid progress. Frazier's .351 was two points better than Lerchen in third place.

Fort Worth, long noted for great fielding, daring base running and fine pitching, now has added batting to its accomplishments. The Cats lead the league in club batting with .264. San Antonio is second with .261.

Jacobs leads the league in hits while Bob Balcena, the fleet San Antonio outfielder, is ahead in runs with 41. Frazier tops in doubles with 19, Nino Escalera of Tulsa in triples with six and Ed Bailey of Tulsa in home runs with 12. The fight for the lead in homers is a tight one. Jim Baxes of Fort Worth and Harry Heslet of Shreveport each has clubbed 11.

That old warhorse, Russ Burns of Oklahoma City has driven in the most runs. His batting average is puny — just .205 — but he has clubbed 34 runs across the plate.

There are 19 players hitting .300 or better and there are eight pitchers who haven't lost a game. But the winningest pitcher is Don Fracchia of Beaumont, who has a 7-1 record. Dan Stupur of Fort Worth has won four and lost none. The leader in strike-outs is Rinald Duren of San Antonio, who has whiffed 46 batters.

Philadelphia Pros Sign Tech Gridder

PHILADELPHIA, May 30 (AP)—Jeff Knox, a pass catching end from Georgia Tech, has signed a 1953 contract with the Philadelphia Eagles, the club announced today. Knox is a six foot, four inch, 220 pounder who caught 21 passes for 287 yards last season for Tech. He is the 43rd player under contract and 15th National Football League draftee signed by the Eagles this year.

Rebel's Tackle Inks Chicago Bears' Pact

CHICAGO, May 30 (AP)—Kline Gilbert, 6-foot, 2-inch, 228-pound tackle from the University of Mississippi, today signed with the Chicago Bears for the 1953 National Football League season.

Lions, Bulldogs Named Baseball Co-Champions

LAFAYETTE, La., May 30 (AP)—Southwestern Louisiana Institute and Southeastern Louisiana College were named baseball co-champions of the Gulf States Conference today.

Rain forced cancellation of several crucial games which had been rained out on their original dates and conference president Gen. Charles Doran of SLI submitted to the conference executive committee the task of naming a champion.

Gen. Doran said today that four of the five executive committee members had submitted their ballots and that they were unanimous for naming the two teams co-champions.

SLI won seven games, lost one to Southeastern and had a 4-4 tie with Northwestern State in a 12-inning game. Southeastern won five and lost one to SLI.

Each GSC team normally plays a 10-game conference schedule. Rained out were doubleheaders between Southeastern and Louisiana College and Southeastern and Northwestern, a single game between SLI and Louisiana Tech and the re-scheduling of the 4-4 tie between SLI and Northwestern State.

Although the executive committee members were not asked to vote on any specific solutions to the championship problem, they had three possible ways to vote:

1. Co-championship shared by SLI and Southeastern.

2. A championship to SLI on the basis of most wins or, if the tie were discounted, on the basis of the best percentage.

3. No championship, because Northwestern and Louisiana Tech still held a mathematical chance to share in the crown. Both were thrice beaten and had four victories.

Members of the executive committee were Gen. Doran and R. J. Cambre, the conference secretary, both of SLI; Joe Aillet, athletic director of Louisiana Tech; Harry Turpin, athletic director of Northwestern, and Cliff Johnson, athletic director of McNeese State.

Vukovich Takes Speedway Race, One Life Claimed

By WILL GRIMSLEY

INDIANAPOLIS May 30 (AP) — Bill Vukovich, a grim and nerveless Slovenian from Fresno, Calif., set a blistering pace through oven-like heat today to win the Indianapolis 500-mile Speedway championship, snatched from his hands a year ago in the final 25 miles.

The 200-lap grind over the motor speedway's seared brick and asphalt oval was staged in such sweltering conditions that one veteran driver, Carl Scarborough of Clarkston, Mich., died of heat exhaustion and a heart attack after relinquishing his wheel at 175 miles.

The track temperature was 130 degrees with the reading officially 91 in the shade. Eight drivers were hospitalized because of the scorching heat.

The heat, however, didn't dim the enthusiasm of the crowd, unofficially estimated at about 175,000 perspiring persons.

One other driver, Pat Flaherty, of Glendale, Calif., suffered cuts and bruises when he rammed the concrete wall on the north straightaway, but otherwise, this neck-risking race was without serious incident.

The husky 34-year-old Vukovich defied relief, the pole position, and every challenge as he gunned his sleek, mouse-gray racing machine to the front on the mad opening lap and led for 198 of the 200 grinding sweeps around the course.

Setting a record early pace but slowed by minor track accidents which forced up the "take it easy" yellow light, Vuky covered the 500 miles in three hours, 53 minutes, 1.69 seconds for an average of 128.740 m.p.h.

This was the second fastest winning time in the 37-year history of the race, topped only by the 128.992 set by Troy Ruttman in 1952 when Vukovich's car developed steering trouble and fell out within sight of home.

Ruttman, injured in an accident last summer, watched today's chase from the side lines.

It was the most smashing triumph since 1930 when Billy Arnold took command at the third lap and led the rest of the way.

Fulfilling a pre-race boast that "I'll take that lead—and stay there," Vukovich made it strictly a one-man show which paled the battle for place positions into insignificance.

Paul Russo of Hammond, Ind., who relieved Fred Agabashian of Albany, Calif., at the 263-mile point, won second place over Art Cross of Laporte, Ind., making his second start.

Russo was timed in 3:56:32.25—approximately three minutes behind the winner. Cross was a hard driving third at 3:56:32.54.

The tremendous crowd filled every available pew in the scattered stands and swarmed over the infield. It let out an ear splitting roar as Vukovich received a 15-second kiss from movie actress Jane Greer—a traditional ritual.

Vukovich was much more enthused perhaps over his $29,700 lap money—$150 for each lap he led—and his over-all prize money which probably will amount to around $75,000.

The winner's exact winnings are never determined until the day after the race.

Vuky's lap money, plus the $16,200 he won last year in the same fashion, makes him the biggest all time lap winner in history.

Previously, Bill Holland, an also ran in today's grueling test, held that mark with $35,060.

Vukovich wrecked not only the hopes of his 32 adversaries, the greatest drivers in the business, but also defied the tradition that the man on the pole should never win the race.

He became the fifth man in 37 races to win from a pole start. The others were Jimmy Murphy in 1922, Tommy Milton in 1923, Arnold in 1930, and Floyd Roberts in 1938.

Only 14 cars were still on the track and only six of the original 33 finished the race, marked by minor crackups, harassing mechanical troubles and constant changing of drivers to fight the heat.

Double Feature Wrestling Card Tuesday Night

A doule main event is on top at the Kallio's Arena Tuesday night, when Baby Blimp tangles with Al Massey in one match; and Joe Corbett meets Don Martin in the second half.

The Blimp defeated Massey in the final fall of a tag match last week, when Massey, after beating Blimp around the ring, butted his own head into a corner and knocked himself flat, Blimp merely falling on for the finishing pin. Teamed with Jungle Boy, the Blimp had won one fall from Massey and Corbett, who had come back to win the second.

Corbett, who had lost the first fall to Jungle Boy's "hangman's noose" hold, takes on another villainous grappler Tuesday, in Martin. The latter has never wrestled anyone here not named Curtis, but is expected to stick to his usual crowd - displeasing technique against barrel-chested Corbett.

Both matches have an hour and 15 minute time-limit, with two falls necessary to win. Bill Barney, the smiling West Monroe garage operator, will officiate both ends of the twin-bill, which begins at 8 o'clock.

Promotor Kallio has announced his next boxing program for Monday, June 15. No card has been arranged as yet.

Martin Increases Lead, Rogers Holds 2nd Place

By J. P. FRIEND

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark., May 30 (Special) — With pressure supplied by three ambitious batsmen, Hot Springs' slugging Hal Martin merely turned on more heat in the form of basehits and took a firmer grip on the Cotton States League batting leadership.

The Spa swatter, who has all but monopolized the hitting for the last four weeks, enjoyed another banner week ending May 26. In 31 times at bat, the outfielder rapped out 15 more safeties and raised his batting average to the almost unbelievable .453 mark, a gain of 13 decimals. His chart strongly resembles the UN war debt with 106-48.

Martin not only leads in batting, but has scored the most runs, 40; most hits, 48; most home runs, 15; most total bases, 106, the first to crack the century mark, and has batted in 33 runners for a pretty fair five week's work with the willow.

Three other hitters, who have their eyes on the bat diadem, Ray Rogers, Monroe; Pel Austin, El Dorado, and Jack Landis, Pine Bluff, are not letting Martin rest for one moment. Rogers, who led during the first week then skidded to the lower depths, regained his batting eye during the week. In 22 tries the Sport receiver came up with 12 hits that upped his mace mark 80 points to .397, one point ahead of Austin for runnerup honors. In 20 games Rogers has 63-25.

Austin need not apologize for his six-game performance. He went 24-13 for a 42-point boost to an impressive .396. In all he has 106-42, has batted in 31 runners. He has a 11-game hitting streak working.

Landis, a constant threat all season, had 82-12 to show during the last period, including a pair of home runs, 11 runs scored and seven rbi's. He went from .373 to .387.

Charley Harrington, Monroe skipper, also went on a hitting spree and with such gusto that it gave him the No. 5 rating among the regulars at .346, a gain of 38 by virtue of 29-12. Three went for doubles, one triple and a four master. He batted in 10.

Loule Schaufele, Jackson's slugging ex-grid star, had his 15-game batting skein snapped on May 21, failed in three tries the next day, then tried to recoup his losses in the next four games. He came close, but lost three points to .344, and the No. 6 spot. He has the most doubles, 11, one more than Ed Cholakian, Pine Bluff (.316) and Ken Robinett, another Judge (.308). Don Allen, Natchez, comes next with .343, a drop of three; followed by Marland (Duke) Doolittle, Jackson manager, .343; Nels Daehn, Monroe, .336, up 11 points; Ty Braziel, Greenville .327; and Merrill Smith, Pine Bluff, .323, for the Upper bracket of hitters. Daehn and Jack Maroney, Jackson (.293) have slugged four triples each. Frank Lucchesi, Pine Bluff leader, has swiped 11 bases, one more than Harrington.

Jimmy Dupuy, Memphis youngster with Meridian, is cutting a right fancy pitching figure for the Millers. He has won four games, including the unreported victory Tuesday night which is not listed, without a loss, to top the hurlers. Frank Callahan, Pine Bluff, has a 5-1 chart; John Paul Jones, Jackson, Milt Ardrey, El Dorado, and Gene Summerlin, Monroe, 4-1. The two six-game winners, Bobby Harrison, Meridian, who is the strikeout king with 64, and Tom Pollet, Greenville collegian, have been thumped only twice. Hugh Blanton, Monroe, has won 5, lost 2. Monroe has a bare .0001 lead in hitting. Meridian is fielding best.

Another Former Northeast Grid Star Joins Pros

Another former Northeast State football player has been signed to play professional football, making the third one to ink a pact with the play - for - pay terms in a period of less than two months.

Contracted to play with the Detroit Lions, professional football champions of 1952, is Tommy Danks, a Greensburg, Pa., lad who held down a quarterback position with great finesse when he was a student at the junior college here in 1948 and 1949. Danks is the second Greensburg athlete to sign for pro football in recent weeks from the local college. Pat Marnell, a tackle, also from Greensburg, will report in August to play with the New York Giants in the National League. He and his teammate, another tackle, Harold Corkran, were given contracts recently with the Giants. The signing took place at Northeast State.

Danks, who has been in the service for the past three years, played a brilliant game at quarterback when he was a member of the Indian's backfield. His ball-handling then — as now — was described by Head Football Coach James L. Malone as "superb."

Danks has gained a tremendous amount of experience in playing service football, and it was here that he was recognized by the pro scouts.

Tom Fool, Royal Bay Gem Win At Belmont, Lincoln

NEW YORK, May 30 (AP)—Favorites flicked in two of the richest stakes on this Memorial Day's race program today as Tom Fool turned in one of the turf's greatest performances to win the Suburban Handicap at Belmont Park and Royal Bay Gem came through in the Peabody Memorial at Lincoln Fields. Both were $50,000 added events.

Flying the famous pink and black silks of the Greentree stable, Tom Fool packed top weight of 128 pounds over a mile and one-quarter in 2:00 3-5 and beat Mrs. Ethel du Pont Weir's Englishbred Royal Vale by a nose. C. V. Whitney's Cold Command was third, seven lengths back.

In picking up the purse of $40,400 and running his total earnings to $394,940, Tom Fool paid $6.10, $3 and $2.30. Ted Atkinson was in the saddle for his second straight Suburban triumph. He won with Greentree's One Hitter a year ago.

Royal Bay Gem, fourth in the Kentucky Derby and third in the Preakness, ran his usual come-from-behind race in taking the mile and one-eighth of the Peabody Memorial for Eugene Constantin, Jr., Dallas, Tex.

The little Texas-owned son of Royal Gem won by a length over the Hasty House farm's Platan and paid $3.40, $2.60 and $2.40. Sir Mango was third. The victory was worth $39,800.

The winner paid $10.60, $6.80 and $4.90 in picking up the purse of $31,025.

Spinning Top closed fast in the stretch and paid $15.80 for a $2 win mutuel. Her time for the mile and one-sixteenth was 1:47 1-5.

The Companas stable's Versify, a rank outsider paying $46.80, closed with a rush to win the $20,000 added Colonial Handicap at Garden State Park. Atlanta trailed by two and one - half lengths in second place. Third went to Sunshine Nell as Cinda, last year's winner and the favorite, wound up fourth.

The real upset of the day's feature events came at Suffolk Downs where the River Divide stable's Andrew captured the $10,000 Tomasello Handicap and returned $83.20 for $2. J. M. Lingle's favored Larry Ellis was second, two lengths back. Third went to Little Imp.

Jacobs Up Front In Texas League Batting At .354

DALLAS, May 30. (AP)—Forrest Jacobs, Fort Worth surging second baseman, made one of the fastest rises the Texas League ever saw this week as he added 37 points to his batting average to take over first place.

And while he was replacing the slumping George Lerchen of Tulsa as the No. 1 hitter in the circuit, he was pulling his club into first place in batting.

Jacobs got 17 hits in 33 times at the plate to move from tenth place among the regulars to first. His gaudy .354 on 62 hits in 175 times at bat, gave him a three-point bulge on Joe Frazier of Oklahoma City, who also made some rapid progress. Frazier's .351 was two points better than Lerchen in third place.

Fort Worth, long noted for great fielding, daring base running and fine pitching, now has added batting to its accomplishments. The Cats lead the league in club batting with .264. San Antonio is second with .261.

Jacobs leads the league in hits while Bob Balcena, the fleet San Antonio outfielder, is ahead in runs with 41. Frazier tops in doubles with 19, Nino Escalera of Tulsa in triples with six and Ed Bailey of Tulsa in home runs with 12. The fight for the lead in homers is a tight one. Jim Baxes of Fort Worth and Harry Heslet of Shreveport each has clubbed 11.

That old warhorse, Russ Burns of Oklahoma City has driven in the most runs. His batting average is puny — just .205 — but he has clubbed 34 runs across the plate.

There are 19 players hitting .300 or better and there are eight pitchers who haven't lost a game. But the winningest pitcher is Don Fracchia of Beaumont, who has a 7-1 record. Dan Stupur of Fort Worth has won four and lost none. The leader in strike-outs is Rinald Duren of San Antonio, who has whiffed 46 batters.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Apparently not. One psychologist had students kiss glass covered with agar — a substance that microbes take to like cats to catnip. He found very few microbes on the glass. Lipstick reduced the number! Whether the emotional excitement usually accompanying osculation would increase the mirobes is as much a mystery as what becomes of campaign buttons. But, if you stop with kissing there seems to be little danger of its increasing the death rate. If it leads to marriage it will increase the birth rate.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Yes. Think of your troubles merely as facts; that is, "perceive" them with your higher brain, but don't let it send messages to your lower brain—a tiny body about the size of a pea which seems to be the main "seat of the emotions." You can learn how to think properly and gain poise from our booklet, "How To Manage Your Feelings and Emotions." Sent at cost, 15c (coin only) plus self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Answer to Question No. 3

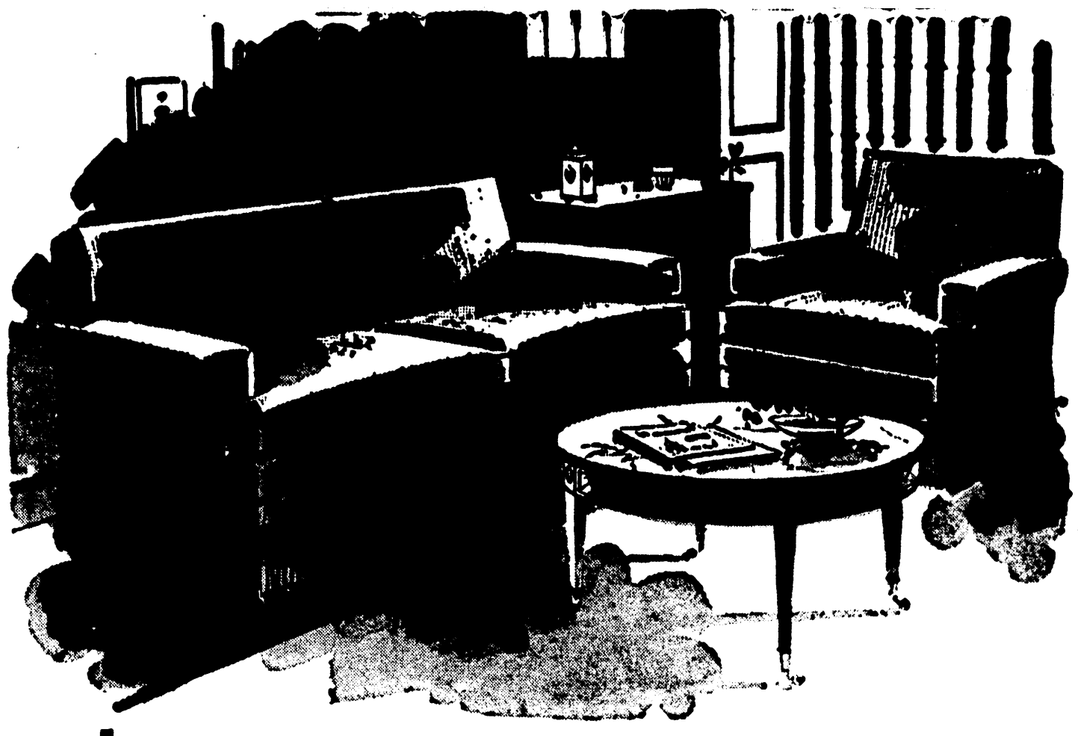

3. Yes, that's their whole trouble. They either don't have the ability they wish they had, or don't exert the influence they desire. So, to convince others of their abilities they boast. One research showed that egotistical students were nearly all in the lower IQs of their classes.

Make Backyard The Children's Vacation Spot

When school is out will your children have "nothing to do and all summer to do it in"?

Parents are inclined to overlook or ignore the fact that summer vacations are a time of boredom for the younger members of many families. They worry because Johnnie is away with his gang, but they forget that maybe it's because the gang has no place for fun and recreation near home.

A little planning and ingenuity spent now can turn your own backyard into your children's favorite vacation spot this summer. A barbecue there, a small terrace, a table and some simple furniture or benches will transform it into an area that the whole family will enjoy.

Keep the barbecue small, so that Dad and the children can build it themselves in a couple of week ends. Be sure to have counter space at each side of grill, for a work area.

Keep your furniture for the backyard simple. The overdone rustic type is usually more expensive and does not fit in well with the average home. In many families, Dad and the children will get a kick out of building benches themselves for the backyard.

Try to arrange some spot nearby — perhaps in the garage — for the storage of games and reading matter. Children will use a backyard for recreation more often if the equipment they need is handy.

Mrs. Fred Peck Honored At Lovely Garden Party

Mrs. Grant Boardman honored Mrs. Fred Peck, who will depart next week for Manila where she will join her husband, with a bon voyage party between 3:30 and 5:30 Thursday afternoon in the gardens of the Boardman home on North Tenth street.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Boardman who was attired in a yellow sun-back cotton and Mrs. Peck who wore a becoming orchid cotton of South American print.

Coronation Perfume

The coronation is being celebrated in every conceivably way. What is more fitting than that a new perfume should be created, in time for this regal event, by none other than the queen's own dressmaker?

Norman Hartnell, who has been dressmaker to the royal family since 1937, recently introduced his first perfume, a sophisticated and worldly but sweet scent. It has woodsy undertones carried along in a base of jasmin and rose with the soft note of musk giving a haunting quality.

This perfume is available in five bottle sizes with toilet water to match in two sizes. It's claimed to be extremely long lasting.

If you're attending the coronation or going on a trip to any of the great world capitals, you're not likely to leave your perfume behind. Be sure the bottle is tightly sealed, with candle wax, adhesive tape or transparent tape.

A purse flacon, for renewing your perfume every few hours, has become common as lipstick in the handbag of the well - dressed woman.

Make Backyard The Children's Vacation Spot

When school is out will your children have "nothing to do and all summer to do it in"?

Parents are inclined to overlook or ignore the fact that summer vacations are a time of boredom for the younger members of many families. They worry because Johnnie is away with his gang, but they forget that maybe it's because the gang has no place for fun and recreation near home.

A little planning and ingenuity spent now can turn your own backyard into your children's favorite vacation spot this summer. A barbecue there, a small terrace, a table and some simple furniture or benches will transform it into an area that the whole family will enjoy.

Keep the barbecue small, so that Dad and the children can build it themselves in a couple of week ends. Be sure to have counter space at each side of grill, for a work area.

Keep your furniture for the backyard simple. The overdone rustic type is usually more expensive and does not fit in well with the average home. In many families, Dad and the children will get a kick out of building benches themselves for the backyard.

Try to arrange some spot nearby — perhaps in the garage — for the storage of games and reading matter. Children will use a backyard for recreation more often if the equipment they need is handy.

Mrs. Fred Peck Honored At Lovely Garden Party

Mrs. Grant Boardman honored Mrs. Fred Peck, who will depart next week for Manila where she will join her husband, with a bon voyage party between 3:30 and 5:30 Thursday afternoon in the gardens of the Boardman home on North Tenth street.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Boardman who was attired in a yellow sun-back cotton and Mrs. Peck who wore a becoming orchid cotton of South American print.

In keeping with the farewell theme, an artistic arrangement of south sea island shells and exotic Pacific flowers decorated the wrought-iron glass-top table. Reflecting from beneath the table was a handsome bouquet of lavender and pink gladioli.

One end of the table held a festive watermelon rind garnished with cherries and filled with strawberry punch, which was served by Mrs. Lee Carbrey. Sandwiches, individually iced cakes and Lifesaver mints adorned the table.

Frosted glasses for the punch were packed with a cherry and ice in a picturesque wheelbarrow nearby.

Coronation Perfume

The coronation is being celebrated in every conceivably way. What is more fitting than that a new perfume should be created, in time for this regal event, by none other than the queen's own dressmaker?

Norman Hartnell, who has been dressmaker to the royal family since 1937, recently introduced his first perfume, a sophisticated and worldly but sweet scent. It has woodsy undertones carried along in a base of jasmin and rose with the soft note of musk giving a haunting quality.

This perfume is available in five bottle sizes with toilet water to match in two sizes. It's claimed to be extremely long lasting.

If you're attending the coronation or going on a trip to any of the great world capitals, you're not likely to leave your perfume behind. Be sure the bottle is tightly sealed, with candle wax, adhesive tape or transparent tape.

A purse flacon, for renewing your perfume every few hours, has become common as lipstick in the handbag of the well - dressed woman.

Club Members Enjoy Picnic

The Girl Scout camp was the setting of the Current Literature Clubs annual picnic, Wednesday, May 27.

An early hour had been set to leave, in order to give more time for the outing, but in typical picnic fashion a greater portion of the morning was spent in searching for the chosen spot. "Old Man" Ouachita had completely cut off two of the roads leading to the camp but a third was found and the persevering members arrived in time to spread their picnic for the noon meal.

Those enjoying the picnic were: Mesdames R. B. Bailey, Dan Dennett, L. M. Frey, G. M. Heidenreich, B. Frank Maxwell, E. A. Porter, Jr., John T. Reagan, Buddy Tolson, W. O. Webb, W. A. Whitfield, Jr. and her guest, Mrs. Jack Allen.

Enhance Tan With Jewelry

On the beach this summer you can emphasize your beauty with accessories every bit as fetching as those worn for the most festive evenings.

Girls will be wearing exotic jewelry on the beach, made from tarnish-proof materials, featherlight in weight. Unlike the pieces you're accustomed to in winter, this jewelry won't make you feel like removing it because of the heat.

You won't wear the jewelry, of course, while you're acquiring a tan. Once well toasted, however, you can wear it without fear of white marks.

Your choice is wide. There's a new "gold" metal that is worn in great masses and looks huge and bulky, but you'll scarcely feel it. It comes in earrings, bracelets and necklaces or adorns a bathing cap. This metal can't tarnish, so wear it in swimming and in your shower, if you like.

You can have exotic mother-of-pearl jewelry imported from the Mediterranean. It's cut to resemble .the shining animal - teeth charms worn by African natives.

White enamel decorates expansion bracelets and earrings two inches in diameter.

Straw is woven into flower wreaths for neck and wrists and single flowers for the ears.

You'll need something at the beach for occasional cover-up, so why not investigate the new cotton jersey stoles and squares and terry cloth stoles and bolero shrugs? One terry cloth stole is deeply fringed with a cape-shaped back and big pockets in front.

These cover-ups are more than decorative. They have an extremely important function at the beach of hiding your skin from the sun before it's too late.

Experts say that even the best sunburn preventive creams and lotions mustn't be entirely relied on. It's up to the users of these creams to take their sun gradually, beginning with a few minutes at a time. The fairer you are, the more cautious you must be.

Your complexion, especially, may be ruined forever by continual incautious sunning, if you aren't naturally dark. On a fair girl, a tan may be actually only a few degrees removed from a burn.

Girl Scout News

Girl Scout swimming lessons start tomorrow. Have you registered? There will be instruction for all, from the non swimmer to the lifesaver. Tomorrow morning will be your last chance to register, unless, of course, you are waiting to enter a class on the 15th.

The office says that any Scout who did not receive her summer activities bulletin will be mailed one by request. Also, any non-Scouts who may want to take part.

The twenty-eight Brownies who enjoyed a trip to Pine Wood on the very first day they were out of school reported a wonderful time. A hike, with a nature scavenger hunt, was a highlight of the morning. The girls thought surely they wouldn't be able to find the home of an insect, but most of them did.

There was no lack of willing hands to scrape carrots, cut pickles, set out food for lunch, to say nothing of turning the cranks of the two big freezers of good ole homemade ice cream. In spite of what readers may be thinking, there was also no lack of willing dishwashers, either. In fact, their leaders tell us that the girls had to be assigned turns, since obviously all couldn't help at once. Wonder if it would do to let their mothers find out.

Assisting with the affair were Mrs. L. C. Bassett, Mrs. N. L. Huckabee, Mrs. G. P. Jordon, Mrs. Edgar Beard, Mrs. J. S. Worley, and Miss Annis Klie, Girl Scout executive. Assisting with transportation were Mrs. T. C. Mahr, Jr., Mrs. E. P. Machnick, Mrs. Frank Smith, and Mr. Bassett.

Thirteen was not an unlucky number for the girls who went on the first of the cookie overnights. In fact, they were luckier than they knew, because soon after they left, water crept up Davis Creek, making the road impassable and forcing cancellation of last week's scheduled camps.

Marilyn Allen, Norma Barnes, Jane Crawford, Bobbie Gilbert, Ronnie Hervey, Pat Miller, Doll Moore, Nancy Clare Noland, Martha Lankford, Sharon Sheppard, Barbara Segars, Sandra Vigg and Joan Williams were the girls who enjoyed the overnight.

Games and singing at campfire, a hike, discovery of a click bug (did you ever hear of one?), cooking in foil over coals, making breadtwists on a stick, and giving the ice cream freezer a workout were activities they enjoyed.

Tentative date for the postponed overnight of the girl planning board is Wednesday of this week, with the next cookie overnight scheduled for Tuesday, June 9.

Assisting with the affair were Mrs. L. C. Bassett, Mrs. N. L. Huckabee, Mrs. G. P. Jordon, Mrs. Edgar Beard, Mrs. J. S. Worley, and Miss Annis Klie, Girl Scout executive. Assisting with transportation were Mrs. T. C. Mahr, Jr., Mrs. E. P. Machnick, Mrs. Frank Smith, and Mr. Bassett.

Thirteen was not an unlucky number for the girls who went on the first of the cookie overnights. In fact, they were luckier than they knew, because soon after they left, water crept up Davis Creek, making the road impassable and forcing cancellation of last week's scheduled camps.

Marilyn Allen, Norma Barnes, Jane Crawford, Bobbie Gilbert, Ronnie Hervey, Pat Miller, Doll Moore, Nancy Clare Noland, Martha Lankford, Sharon Sheppard, Barbara Segars, Sandra Vigg and Joan Williams were the girls who enjoyed the overnight.

Games and singing at campfire, a hike, discovery of a click bug (did you ever hear of one?), cooking in foil over coals, making breadtwists on a stick, and giving the ice cream freezer a workout were activities they enjoyed.

It isn't only the girls who are enjoying Pine Wood. Council members and their husbands enjoyed a supper there recently.

Tentative date for the postponed overnight of the girl planning board is Wednesday of this week, with the next cookie overnight scheduled for Tuesday, June 9.

Nuptial Mass Unites Couple In Marriage

The wedding of Miss Mary Jo Jones and Lawrence Messina was solemnized recently at St. Matthews Catholic Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Jones of Winnsboro. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Messina of Monroe.

Rev. William Allyson of Echo Catholic Church performed the wedding ceremony. The nuptial mass was said by Rev. George Martinez.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. Tony Lapietra, was lovely in a traditional wedding gown of chantilly lace over satin. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a yoke of illusion outlined with seed pearls. The full skirt swept into a cathedral train. Her veil of illusion was finger tip length and held to her head by a coronet of seed pearls.

Miss Marie Oglethorpe was maid of honor and Mrs. Anna DeMers, matron of honor. Bridesmaids included Miss Juanita Harvey, Miss Martha Jane Lasuzzo and Miss Melba Dumas. Flower girls were Carol Ann Sciro and Barbara Ann Parrino. They wore lovely waltz length dresses in pastel shades, and carried bouquets of matching flowers.

Mr. Pete Messina served as best man. Groomsmen were Pete Sciro, James La Russo, Vincent Giovingo and H. J. DeMers.

Beauty Masks Refines Pores

Have you ever taken a good look in a mirror in a strong light and been surprised and horrified to see a coarse skin condition?

One of the well - known cosmetic firms believes it has the answer to this conspicuous pore problem. It's not the kind of answer which would have you attempt to conceal the pores. Heavy make-ups that conceal may only make the condition progressively worse.

The answer is a creamy mask which, the makers say, can be used by all skin types as often as three times a week. This mask, they claim, will shrink the large pores as it dries on the face through mechanical action.

It's also said to clarify the skin, remove dead cuticle and discoloration, brace sagging muscles temporarily, increase surface circulation, coax sullen blemishes out from under the skin, and give your face a tingling, pepper-up sensation.

Allow this mask to dry on your face and throat for from 10 to 20 minutes and then remove it with warm water and a clean washcloth, the makers suggest. Be sure to keep the mask away from the under - eye area.

Rubber tile flooring is available in pastel colors which give a feeling spaciousness to a room. These floorings require damp-mop care. Extra - stubborn stains, such as paint, ink or nail polish, come off by rubbing with fine steel wool.

Music Teachers Association Enjoys Lovely Supper Party

An al fresco supper accelerated interest in the May meeting of the Music Teachers Association of Monroe and West Monroe, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis C. Slater, president of Northeast Louisiana State College.

Members and guests were greeted by Mrs. Eloise Stanhope, social chairman, and Miss Gertrude Sandrock, secretary of the organization. A gala atmosphere was created by crimson plaid covers on long tables, and hanging baskets of trailing vines and ivy. A varied assortment of picnic viands in bright California pottery and wooden bowls added to the gayety of the occasion.

At the business meeting which followed the supper party, interesting resumes of financial, administrative and program activities were given by officers and chairmen. Miss Lila Scogin, president, presided.

The Music Teachers Association, which is affiliated with the Music Teachers National Association, the oldest music group of this nature in the United States, promotes goodwill among members of the teaching profession and sponsors many noteworthy artists.

Its main purpose is to promote greater interest in local music activities, and encourage young students to greater accomplishment in cultural arts. It has sponsored the J. Paul Hewitt Piano Scholarship Contests for several years. Plans for the 1954 contest were formulated at this time, with Mr. J. Paul Hewitt appointed chairman ex-officio and Mrs. Florence Z. Allbritton, coordinator. Committee chairmen were instructed in their duties for next year, and changes in contest rules discussed.

Nominating chairman, Mrs. Florence Iegler Allbritton, presented the new slate of officers as follows: Miss Lila Scogin, president; Mr. John Cale, vice-president; W. B. Mask, recording secretary; Mrs. W. E. Williams, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Wilbur Bullock, treasurer; Mrs. E. Everett Lawson, reporter; Mr. James F. Monroe, parliamentarian.

Guests and members enjoying the hospitality of the supper meeting were: Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Allbritton, Mr. and Mrs. John Cale, Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Hewitt, Mr. and Mrs. E. Everett Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Kilpatrick, Mrs. Eloise Stanhope, Miss Gertrude Sandrock, Miss Lila Scogin, Mr. W. B. Mask, Mrs. M. M. Tabb, Mrs. John Scholars.

Washable wallpaper should be cleaned with cool water and suds, rather than hot. First wet a section of the paper with clear, cold water. Then sponge with cool soapsuds, working in one direction only, with even strokes. Rinse immediately with clear, cold water.

Bible Words to Live by

If I have a favorite passage out of the many greatly loved scriptures, to which I turn more frequently than any other, it would be:

ROMANS 12:1-2—"I appeal to you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, to present your bodies as a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable to God, which is your spiritual worship. Do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewal of your mind, that you may prove what is the will of God, what is good and acceptable and perfect."

This passage pinpoints for me the necessity of living one's religion. It also encourages one to recognize that by a constant turning of one's mind to an understanding of the will of God, a new vitality of religious life and understanding can be achieved. The passage is one of challenge, of action and of hope.

Rev. M'Cormick Receives Recall, Nazarine Church

Rev. R. A. McCormick, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, North Fourth and Stella Streets, West Monroe, has pastored this church from the day of its organization on the afternoon of February 24, 1946 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Boyd, Jr., in McGuire Addition.

Rev. Elbert Dodd, superintendent of the Louisiana district for the church of the Nazarene, conducted the pastoral recall for the church after the morning service on May 17, and the church extended to Rev. McCormick another three - year call. He and his wife and daughter, De Juana Nell, live in the parsonage at 705 North Fourth Street, adjoining the church property.

The progress of the church has been unusual in these more than seven years. When the church was organized it had no property; now it has a beautiful brick building, which includes a sanctuary and educational unit. They also have an attractive parsonage. The church has enjoyed good increases in all departments. God has graciously blessed the church, and with its various services has been a spiritual blessing to many people. It is now conducting a fine Daily Vacation Bible School.

Rev. McCormick is widely known in the Twin City area, and has many friends here.

In addition to Rev. McCormick's local pastoral duties, he is secretary and treasurer of the district camp - meeting board for the state of Louisiana, and district treasurer for his denomination, embracing all the churches of the state and is a member of the examining board.

Martin Luther Show Scores Great Hit

The world premiere performance in the Twin Cities was scheduled for a two-week run in the 1800 seat Lyceum Theatre, three shows a day. But within a day after the opening, it mushroomed into a three-week gallop. For the first three days, 3100 to 3700 persons saw the film. And from there on all performances — one matinee and two evening — were completely sold out for a week in advance. That means 5400 persons are seeing "Luther" every day!

The opening night was a notable event for our churchmen, many of whom had never attended a Hollywood-type premiere before. Tuxedos and evening gowns were common place. Two huge arc search lights played their beams across the Minneapolis sky from out in front of the theatre. There were Lutherans everywhere — all synods — with synod presidents, board members, college and seminary officials, and pastors shaking hands with old friends and visitors. But it was an event for every church — Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian, Reformed, Congregational, etc. — all worked to get the people out to see the story of Luther and the Reformation.

As hundreds milled around the theatre entrance, buses drove up from 100 and 150 miles away bringing proud and excited people to see the words of the marquee welcoming them to this great event: . . . World Premiere . . . Martin Luther. . . .

Before a Luther display in the lobby, television cameras photographed a special ceremony of Minneapolis and Luther film officials and then, a few minutes later, the ceremonies were repeated on the theatre stage for the 1800 persons in the 7:30 premiere audience. The mayor of Minneapolis, Eric Hoyer, gave a speech of welcome and Dr. Elmer Hjortland, chairman of the Twin Cities Premiere Committee, introduced the special guests, Irving Pichel, director of the Luther film; Louis deRochemont, head of the producing company, Louis deRochemont Associates; and Henry Endress, executive secretary of Lutheran Church Productions.

There was a moment of amusement before the film started. In the jam and excitement, ushers forgot to save seats for the guests. Hospitable churchmen quickly offered their seats and the performance began.

Although Irving Pichel had directed the film in West Germany and had supervised some of its editing, at Minneapolis he saw the completed movie for the first time. His reaction was announced at a special premiere reception later at the Hotel Leamington.

"I thank God," he said, "for the great opportunity He gave me to help produce this film on the great issue of religious freedom. I sincerely hope that Luther's faith and courage inspires people everywhere."

Dr. Hjortland and the Twin Cities Committee presented Pichel with a special citation for his service as director of the film. Others were given to Mr. deRochemont for delivering a "truly authentic and powerful film," and to Mr. Endress in behalf of Lutheran Church Productions.

The Minneapolis premiere performances brought to a first climax almost two months of intensive work on the part of the Twin Cities Committee. The Central Ticket Committee had set up a sales organization in all Lutheran synods and in all other Protestant denominations represented in the area. 180,000 special discount tickets were in circulation in the congregations. Distribution was based upon confirmed membership. And some congregations came back two and three times for more!

Every third day synod and denominational representatives turn in verbal or cash reports to keep the Central Ticket Committee informed on progress. The church discount tickets enable parishioners to obtain 80 cent matinee tickets for 50 cents, and $1.20 evening tickets for 85 cents. With the discount tickets they could reserve a place at any specific performance well in advance of that performance.

Spearheading the sale of tickets in the congregation, is the program of the Advertising and Promotion Committee. It runs large and small advertisements almost daily in the St. Paul and Minneapolis newspapers. It posted 18 large billboard (24-sheet) posters on all main highways, 250 one-sheets on fences and buildings, 2,500 window cards in the stores and bus terminals, and distributed 60,000 colorful handbills around town and in the churches.

The Minneapolis Star and Tribune are giving the premiere remarkable support. Daily articles tell about the film, its cast, and the activities of the churches. Ten portraits of the leading players were published one day. And then on April 26, the Minneapolis Tribune ran two rotogravure picture pages of the Martin Luther story, completing the series with two more pages on Sunday, May 3! All the columnists, including Cedric Adams, George Grimm, and Will Jones ran tidbits and features while movie reviewers like Bob Murphy declares that the Luther film production is "excellent."

All Luther film celebrities who came to Minneapolis were used on radio and television at least four or five times every day for almost a week. Messrs. Pichel, deRochemont, Endress, and Borden Mace of the deRochemont company chatted and showed props through a heavy schedule of interviews, panels, and news broadcasts over CBS-WCCO-TV, NBC - KSTP, and Billy Graham's KTIS programs. They originated both in the studio and theatre lobby. One of the opening night features was a "man in-the-street" interview series on "How Did You Like the Luther Film?"

Your Problems

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Mrs. Landers: My wife does not seem to be interested in anything except her clothes and her hair. As soon as dinner is over she leaves the dishes on the table for my daughter to do and she is off to the neighbor's saying she will be gone only a few minutes; it is always several hours! She runs up bills in several stores at a time for clothes and when I complain she says, "Well, you want me to look nice, don't you?"

Tuesday nights we go to the movies, Friday nights, we shop and the rest of the time it seems I am alone. I give her the car every day and feel that she can do her gadding then. I thought this was all a phase which would pass but we have been married for nine years and things remain the same.

She is my second wife and stepmother to my children; their mother died. Please tell me if you think I should leave her.—H.M.

Well, that's a switch! A husband who is content to stay at home and the wife the one who is doing the running around nights. I agree with you that it is time for a change. However, you will gain nothing by leaving your wife the children are used to her and it would not be easy, or good, for them to go through another change. Put your wife on a budget and stop any type of credit at the stores so that she limits the clothes-buying. Every time she gets ready to flit out after dinner, grab your hat and go with her. Her neighbor-visiting and gossiping will soon lose its fillip with you tuning in; if necessary take the children, too.

Tell her you are fed up and that she will have to limit her evening gadding to one night a week or she will find herself free to go out every night with someone else paying her clothes and h do bills.

Dear Mrs. Landers: We h been married for five years have three lovely children. fore we married I had a child of wedlock which I gave up adoption. I told my husband about it and he said that he lo me and that it did not, and wo never, matter to him. Now, ev time we have an argument of kind, that is the first thing throws up to my face and c me vile names. For the last y he has been seeing another wom whom he says he loves in way and me in another; that loves and adores the children will never leave them. I love h deeply and will not give him Please tell me what to do.—C fused

Moral: A girl is a fool to ma a full confession to her fian (does he ever do it?). It ta a man with a saint's charact istics to forget or forgive her p You are hooked. There is noth you can do about that now.

Regardless of your past, yo husband has no right to be see another woman (no matter wh way he loves her!) and you h better tell him that if he does give her up he will lose you a the children.

Dear Ann Landers: We ha two lovely daughters of seven a eight. They have to get up 7:30 every morning for school a my wife allows them to sit befo the television until 9 and 10 night; if a movie doesn't end un 10:30, they are allowed to fini it out. On days that they ha no school they turn on the set nine in the morning and sit the practically all day until bedtim Their entire conversation is abo what they see on television. T oldest one wears glasses. Don you think this is inadvisable a that it will interfere with the educations?—F. FPK

PS—I hate TV.

Children of your daughters' ag haven't sense enough to ratio their time sitting before a tel vision set and parents must do for them. Viewing isn't actuall any worse on their eyes than rea ing by artificial light but the co centration for long periods a the fact that they are kept awa from the normal pursuits of the ages is very harmful. They shoul be allowed no more than an hou a day and they should be in be at 9 p.m.

On nonschool days they shoul be made to play outdoors an have no more than two hours television.

PS—Them's hard words in thi day and age, mister!

(Ann Landers will be glad t help you with your problems. Sen them to her in care of this news paper.)

Bible Comment

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

The World's Greatest Serman

If we omit the sermons in the great parables of Jesus, I think the greatest of all Christian sermons is Saint Paul's discourse about love in the Thirteenth Chapter of I Corinthians.

It was itself the theme of a longer and notable sermon, widely circulated in the earlier part of the present century. I am sure that many readers have known, and probably still have among their books, the sermon by the late Henry Drummond, Scottish scientist and Christian leader, published under the title "Love the Supreme Gift; the Greatest Thing in the World."

I Corinthians 13 is a supreme example of brevity, preciseness and simplicity in the presentation of a sublime subject. The subject undoubtedly inspired in Paul the quality of his utterance but if it were considered only for its style, apart from its theme, that Chapter is remarkable.

I do not know just what it may mean to one thoroughly versed in the original Greek. Foreign writings often suffer in translation. But in its English translation- Paul's sermon has a balance and rhythm, a music that one can feel as he reads it aloud.

I suppose that into consideration of that sermon the question of translation does enter. I suppose, also, that almost everywhere it is admitted that for the "charity" of the Authorized King James Version we should substitute the word "love," as in the latest "Revised Standard Version." The same applies to the translations of Weymouth, Ballantine, Moulton and Goodspeed.

Moffatt, in what has probably been the most widely used modern translation of the Bible by an individual scholar sticks in this instance to the word "charity," though in many passages his translation differs from that of the Authorized Version.

Incidentally I met James Moffatt some years ago and walked with him on Beacon Hill in Boston. His translation was at that time being somewhat freely read in churches instead of the Authorized Version. This had occasioned some controversy. In editorial comment I had mildly regretted such substitution, except as it might be made to bring out some specific point.

I was interested to find that Dr. Moffatt agreed with this. He pointed out that his translation had been made in Great Britain where the Authorized Version was used in the schools, and would continue to be, and was never intended as a substitute for that Version.

To go back to the question of "charity," I have recently seen a vigorous and scholarly defense of the Authorized rendering. I cannot remember the name of the writer, but he made much of the various and confusing meanings of the word "love," while "charity," he contended, has a simple and clear reference.

To all this my comment is that to one who wants sincerely to put Paul's great sermon into his life the choice of words won't matter.

College Place To Be Host To Guest Speaker

Dr. J. T. McRae, medical missionary in Jordan will be guest speaker at College Place Baptist Church Tuesday, June 2 states the pastor, Rev. T. Earl Ogg.

Southern Baptists in an effort to take the good news of Christ back to the lands from which it came, have acquired a hospital in the northern part of the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan. They have staffed it with competent doctors and are laying plans to build a powerful lighthouse for Christ in this land of darkness. Dr. McRae will tell many interesting things concerning this great work among the Arabs. To the Arab, Americans are supposed to be dynamic, having plenty of ideas and talent. They suppose this comes from just living in America, as much of it does. What they don't comprehend is the idea that something can be done in a spirit of love and not for financial interest.

Friends are invited to share this wonderful opportunity with College Place Baptist Church.

Good Hope To Conduct Its Bible School

The Vacation Bible School of the Good Hope Baptist Church will hold its commencement exercises Wednesday evening at 7:30. Included in the program will be a demonstration by each class, the awarding of diplomas, and the display of handwork completed during the school. The public is cordially invited to attend the service.

The Bible School this year has an enrollment for the first four days of 165 to compare with 132 of last year. Mrs. G. A. Parker, principal of the school, states that the average attendance for the past week has been 155.

The Bible School at Good Hope Baptist Church was instituted in 1942 under the supervision of Miss Marjorie Platt. Miss Platt is now a missionary. Since its organization the Bible School has increased in enrollment every year. This year has proved to be another "best" year. Plans are already being formed to make next year's school even better.

Now that the church is air conditioned and in order to give more people an opportunity to attend the morning worship service, the church is glad to announce that it will have an 8:30 morning service.

Bible Words to Live by

If I have a favorite passage out of the many greatly loved scriptures, to which I turn more frequently than any other, it would be:

ROMANS 12:1-2—"I appeal to you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, to present your bodies as a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable to God, which is your spiritual worship. Do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewal of your mind, that you may prove what is the will of God, what is good and acceptable and perfect."

This passage pinpoints for me the necessity of living one's religion. It also encourages one to recognize that by a constant turning of one's mind to an understanding of the will of God, a new vitality of religious life and understanding can be achieved. The passage is one of challenge, of action and of hope.

Rev. M'Cormick Receives Recall, Nazarine Church

Rev. R. A. McCormick, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, North Fourth and Stella Streets, West Monroe, has pastored this church from the day of its organization on the afternoon of February 24, 1946 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Boyd, Jr., in McGuire Addition.

Rev. Elbert Dodd, superintendent of the Louisiana district for the church of the Nazarene, conducted the pastoral recall for the church after the morning service on May 17, and the church extended to Rev. McCormick another three - year call. He and his wife and daughter, De Juana Nell, live in the parsonage at 705 North Fourth Street, adjoining the church property.

The progress of the church has been unusual in these more than seven years. When the church was organized it had no property; now it has a beautiful brick building, which includes a sanctuary and educational unit. They also have an attractive parsonage. The church has enjoyed good increases in all departments. God has graciously blessed the church, and with its various services has been a spiritual blessing to many people. It is now conducting a fine Daily Vacation Bible School.

Rev. McCormick is widely known in the Twin City area, and has many friends here.

In addition to Rev. McCormick's local pastoral duties, he is secretary and treasurer of the district camp - meeting board for the state of Louisiana, and district treasurer for his denomination, embracing all the churches of the state and is a member of the examining board.

Martin Luther Show Scores Great Hit

The world premiere performance in the Twin Cities was scheduled for a two-week run in the 1800 seat Lyceum Theatre, three shows a day. But within a day after the opening, it mushroomed into a three-week gallop. For the first three days, 3100 to 3700 persons saw the film. And from there on all performances — one matinee and two evening — were completely sold out for a week in advance. That means 5400 persons are seeing "Luther" every day!

The opening night was a notable event for our churchmen, many of whom had never attended a Hollywood-type premiere before. Tuxedos and evening gowns were common place. Two huge arc search lights played their beams across the Minneapolis sky from out in front of the theatre. There were Lutherans everywhere — all synods — with synod presidents, board members, college and seminary officials, and pastors shaking hands with old friends and visitors. But it was an event for every church — Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian, Reformed, Congregational, etc. — all worked to get the people out to see the story of Luther and the Reformation.

As hundreds milled around the theatre entrance, buses drove up from 100 and 150 miles away bringing proud and excited people to see the words of the marquee welcoming them to this great event: . . . World Premiere . . . Martin Luther. . . .

Before a Luther display in the lobby, television cameras photographed a special ceremony of Minneapolis and Luther film officials and then, a few minutes later, the ceremonies were repeated on the theatre stage for the 1800 persons in the 7:30 premiere audience. The mayor of Minneapolis, Eric Hoyer, gave a speech of welcome and Dr. Elmer Hjortland, chairman of the Twin Cities Premiere Committee, introduced the special guests, Irving Pichel, director of the Luther film; Louis deRochemont, head of the producing company, Louis deRochemont Associates; and Henry Endress, executive secretary of Lutheran Church Productions.

There was a moment of amusement before the film started. In the jam and excitement, ushers forgot to save seats for the guests. Hospitable churchmen quickly offered their seats and the performance began.

Although Irving Pichel had directed the film in West Germany and had supervised some of its editing, at Minneapolis he saw the completed movie for the first time. His reaction was announced at a special premiere reception later at the Hotel Leamington.

"I thank God," he said, "for the great opportunity He gave me to help produce this film on the great issue of religious freedom. I sincerely hope that Luther's faith and courage inspires people everywhere."

Dr. Hjortland and the Twin Cities Committee presented Pichel with a special citation for his service as director of the film. Others were given to Mr. deRochemont for delivering a "truly authentic and powerful film," and to Mr. Endress in behalf of Lutheran Church Productions.

The Minneapolis premiere performances brought to a first climax almost two months of intensive work on the part of the Twin Cities Committee. The Central Ticket Committee had set up a sales organization in all Lutheran synods and in all other Protestant denominations represented in the area. 180,000 special discount tickets were in circulation in the congregations. Distribution was based upon confirmed membership. And some congregations came back two and three times for more!

Every third day synod and denominational representatives turn in verbal or cash reports to keep the Central Ticket Committee informed on progress. The church discount tickets enable parishioners to obtain 80 cent matinee tickets for 50 cents, and $1.20 evening tickets for 85 cents. With the discount tickets they could reserve a place at any specific performance well in advance of that performance.

Spearheading the sale of tickets in the congregation, is the program of the Advertising and Promotion Committee. It runs large and small advertisements almost daily in the St. Paul and Minneapolis newspapers. It posted 18 large billboard (24-sheet) posters on all main highways, 250 one-sheets on fences and buildings, 2,500 window cards in the stores and bus terminals, and distributed 60,000 colorful handbills around town and in the churches.

The Minneapolis Star and Tribune are giving the premiere remarkable support. Daily articles tell about the film, its cast, and the activities of the churches. Ten portraits of the leading players were published one day. And then on April 26, the Minneapolis Tribune ran two rotogravure picture pages of the Martin Luther story, completing the series with two more pages on Sunday, May 3! All the columnists, including Cedric Adams, George Grimm, and Will Jones ran tidbits and features while movie reviewers like Bob Murphy declares that the Luther film production is "excellent."

All Luther film celebrities who came to Minneapolis were used on radio and television at least four or five times every day for almost a week. Messrs. Pichel, deRochemont, Endress, and Borden Mace of the deRochemont company chatted and showed props through a heavy schedule of interviews, panels, and news broadcasts over CBS-WCCO-TV, NBC - KSTP, and Billy Graham's KTIS programs. They originated both in the studio and theatre lobby. One of the opening night features was a "man in-the-street" interview series on "How Did You Like the Luther Film?"

Your Problems

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Mrs. Landers: My wife does not seem to be interested in anything except her clothes and her hair. As soon as dinner is over she leaves the dishes on the table for my daughter to do and she is off to the neighbor's saying she will be gone only a few minutes; it is always several hours! She runs up bills in several stores at a time for clothes and when I complain she says, "Well, you want me to look nice, don't you?"

Tuesday nights we go to the movies, Friday nights, we shop and the rest of the time it seems I am alone. I give her the car every day and feel that she can do her gadding then. I thought this was all a phase which would pass but we have been married for nine years and things remain the same.

She is my second wife and stepmother to my children; their mother died. Please tell me if you think I should leave her.—H.M.

Well, that's a switch! A husband who is content to stay at home and the wife the one who is doing the running around nights. I agree with you that it is time for a change. However, you will gain nothing by leaving your wife the children are used to her and it would not be easy, or good, for them to go through another change. Put your wife on a budget and stop any type of credit at the stores so that she limits the clothes-buying. Every time she gets ready to flit out after dinner, grab your hat and go with her. Her neighbor-visiting and gossiping will soon lose its fillip with you tuning in; if necessary take the children, too.

Tell her you are fed up and that she will have to limit her evening gadding to one night a week or she will find herself free to go out every night with someone else paying her clothes and hairdo bills.

Dear Mrs. Landers: We have been married for five years and have three lovely children. Before we married I had a child out of wedlock which I gave up for adoption. I told my husband all about it and he said that he loved me and that it did not, and would never, matter to him. Now, every time we have an argument of any kind, that is the first thing he throws up to my face and calls me vile names. For the last year he has been seeing another woman whom he says he loves in one way and me in another; that he loves and adores the children and will never leave them. I love him deeply and will not give him up. Please tell me what to do.—Confused

Moral: A girl is a fool to make a full confession to her fiance (does he ever do it?). It takes a man with a saint's characteristics to forget or forgive her past. You are hooked. There is nothing you can do about that now.

Regardless of your past, your husband has no right to be seeing another woman (no matter which way he loves her!) and you had better tell him that if he doesn't give her up he will lose you and the children.

Dear Ann Landers: We have two lovely daughters of seven and eight. They have to get up at 7:30 every morning for school and my wife allows them to sit before the television until 9 and 10 at night; if a movie doesn't end until 10:30, they are allowed to finish it out. On days that they have no school they turn on the set at nine in the morning and sit there practically all day until bedtime. Their entire conversation is about what they see on television. The oldest one wears glasses. Don't you think this is inadvisable and that it will interfere with their educations?—F. FPK

PS—I hate TV.

Children of your daughters' ages haven't sense enough to ration their time sitting before a television set and parents must do it for them. Viewing isn't actually any worse on their eyes than reading by artificial light but the concentration for long periods and the fact that they are kept away from the normal pursuits of their ages is very harmful. They should be allowed no more than an hour a day and they should be in bed at 9 p.m.

On nonschool days they should be made to play outdoors and have no more than two hours of television.

PS—Them's hard words in this day and age, mister!

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper.)

Bible Comment

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

The World's Greatest Serman

If we omit the sermons in the great parables of Jesus, I think the greatest of all Christian sermons is Saint Paul's discourse about love in the Thirteenth Chapter of I Corinthians.

It was itself the theme of a longer and notable sermon, widely circulated in the earlier part of the present century. I am sure that many readers have known, and probably still have among their books, the sermon by the late Henry Drummond, Scottish scientist and Christian leader, published under the title "Love the Supreme Gift; the Greatest Thing in the World."

I Corinthians 13 is a supreme example of brevity, preciseness and simplicity in the presentation of a sublime subject. The subject undoubtedly inspired in Paul the quality of his utterance but if it were considered only for its style, apart from its theme, that Chapter is remarkable.

I do not know just what it may mean to one thoroughly versed in the original Greek. Foreign writings often suffer in translation. But in- its English translation- Paul's sermon has a balance and rhythm, a music that one can feel as he reads it aloud.

I suppose that into consideration of that sermon the question of translation does enter. I suppose, also, that almost everywhere it is admitted that for the "charity" of the Authorized King James Version we should substitute the word "love," as in the latest "Revised Standard Version." The same applies to the translations of Weymouth, Ballantine, Moulton and Goodspeed.

Moffatt, in what has probably been the most widely used modern translation of the Bible by an individual scholar sticks in this instance to the word "charity," though in many passages his translation differs from that of the Authorized Version.

Incidentally I met James Moffatt some years ago and walked with him on Beacon Hill in Boston. His translation was at that time being somewhat freely read in churches instead of the Authorized Version. This had occasioned some controversy. In editorial comment I had mildly regretted such substitution, except as it might be made to bring out some specific point.

I was interested to find that Dr. Moffatt agreed with this. He pointed out that his translation had been made in Great Britain where the Authorized Version was used in the schools, and would continue to be, and was never intended as a substitute for that Version.

To go back to the question of "charity," I have recently seen a vigorous and scholarly defense of the Authorized rendering. I cannot remember the name of the writer, but he made much of the various and confusing meanings of the word "love," while "charity," he contended, has a simple and clear reference.

To all this my comment is that to one who wants sincerely to put Paul's great sermon into his life the choice of words won't matter.

Find Yourself Through Faith.....

Come To Church This Week!

Worried over your future?

"Is there anyone who isn't?" Before you say that... look around you. At certain folks you know in your community. At famous ones you read about as well. The ones who seem to have a kind of strength, an inner confidence, a point of view that makes them seem so sure of where they're going. It can't be just coincidence that these are the men and women who—go to church!

For nothing can take the place of church in your life—in anyone's life.

By turning to religion, by reaffirming their faith, new thousands every day are gathering new strength, new hope, new courage.

Families, finding themselves through faith, are being brought closer...becoming real families, strong against the world, happier, more tolerant among themselves.

Young folk, finding themselves through faith, are learning the true values that make them want to spurn the false.

Men and women of the workaday world are gaining a new sense of "the balance of things" ...the inner security that brings success to work as well as to life... by finding themselves through faith.

Can you honestly say that things have been better for you, going it alone? Or wouldn't you rather join these neighbors... and find a happier, more successful life—through faith!

Roger W. Straus: "Whenever I feel tired or discouraged it is my custom to turn my thoughts to God, if possible in a synagogue; if not, wherever I may be. Never yet have I done so without being refreshed and encouraged."

Color Choices For Grey Hair

If you've recently had faded hair tinted a solid silver or steel gray, you may be asking yourself what make-up and clothes colors you can now wear.

The answer, in general, is to continue wearing the same colors that were good on you before your hair began to turn.

This doesn't mean the shades will be identical. You may need deeper or more intense shades of the same colors that you wore before.

Pick up your eye color more consciously than you ever did, especially for blue eyes that may have faded. Colors near your face that bring out eye beauty are the colors to look for.

Match foundation and powder to your skin tone, though blondes may wish to add a little deeper warmth. Former brunetts should beware of yellowish and so - called "suntan" shades. They are wise, instead, to strive for greater clarity. Former redheads should stay with the creamy ivory they always used avoiding yellows or pinks.

All types should avoid lipsticks containing yellow or orange. In clothes, all types should avoid reds or greens that are yellowish. Beige should not be yellowish. Grays should be really gray, not beige-gray. Black may be very depressing on you unless enlivened with an intense color that brings out your eye and skin beauty.

It's possible to buy quilted garments made with dacron padding, thus hastening the drying-out process. Generally, it takes some time for quilted garments to become dried through. These dacron paddings are said not to lump when wet.

Miss Drury Key Speaks At Altrusa Dinner On Friday

Highlighting the years club work of Altrusa was the dinner at the Rendezvous on Friday evening with Miss Drury Key, Seventh District Governor of Shreveport, as guest speaker. This marked the first official visit of Miss Key to the local club.

The theme of the dinner which was "Graduation Time" was carried out beautifully in the lovely arrangements of blue and white branches used all through the lounge.

Ornamenting the dinner table overlaid with white linen cloth and radiant with tall burning blue tapers were exquisite rustic white branches of dogwood in white tree bark; with clipped blue and white ribbon clusters on twisted branches which gave a wind blown effect. Striking stylized place cards and gaily tied favors further carried out the theme "Graduation Time." The speaker was presented with an orchid by the president, Dr. Katherine Foster.

Indeed, it is a rare occasion to hear such a thought provoking and dramatic address as was delivered by Miss Key. A person of great poise and understanding, she had as her subject "Problems of Complex Life." To be an Altrusian is to be recognized as the outstanding woman in your field, Miss Key said. We must remember, the speaker declared, that love is the strongest thing in the world — stronger than hate, stronger than evil, stronger than death — and that the blessed life is the image and brightness of the Eternal Love. We are born with five senses and acquire five senses during life to exist, namely, history, dignity, divinity, awareness and responsibility. We must be always praiseworthy of another and let everyone feel you regard him as a person of importance.

Miss Key reminded her audience to observe the golden rule in every day living and the problems of life would be few.

Following the address, the speaker reminded members of the Seventh district conference of Altrusa Clubs which will be held at Murry Lake Lodge, Murry Lake, Ardmore, Oklahoma October 23 and 24.

Among those present on this occasion were: Mrs. Thelma Bond, Miss Lillie Glenn, Miss Clydie Cox, Mrs. Erlene Adams, Miss Mary Gunning, Mrs. Adrienne Carr, Mrs. Toni Humphries, Miss Mary Frost, Dr. Katherine Foster, Mrs. Abbie Leckie, Mrs. Faye Heard, Miss Ann Mickel, Mrs. Mae Lucky, Mrs. W. 12-Foot Pandarata Plant Wins Sweepstakes Here

The three-year-old pandarata plant of Mrs. Henry Mayo, Sr., which won the tri-color sweepstake in the horticulture division of the Monroe Garden Club's flower show recently, is one of the most unusual plants of th' type ever grown in the Twin Cities.

In two years, the plant has grown from a seedling to between ten and twelve feet in height. Having outgrown the ceilings of the Mayo home it has been transferred to Mr. Mayo's office on Walnut Street.

Related to the rubber plant and considered to be slow growing greenery, the pandarata plant was placed in a pottery container after it was purchased from a local nursery. Mrs. Mayo pointed out that it was less than a foot high and about a year old when bought.

Telling of the plant's care, Mrs. Mayo asserted that it gets a cup of coffee once a week and at least a quart of water each day. It also requires considerable light but no direct sunshine.

Leaves on the plant are fourteen by eighteen inches. Occasionally, Mrs. Mayo washes the pandarata leaves with soap, leaving some of the soap on which give them an added glaze.

Mrs. Mayo whose hobby in addition to art is horticulture, attributes the rapid growth of the plant to the water, coffee and light. She related that several friends who have plants similar to hers are trying this technique with theirs but so far none have had time to reach the extra-ordinary height of this plant.

Fences

Before you start out to build that fence you have always dreamed about having around your front yard, stop and decide whether or not it is really suitable to your neighborhood and to your type of house. If there are front yards in your neighborhood which run along as an area, with some shrubs and trees as partial screens but no solid plantings between them, then a fence around your place may stick out like a sore thumb and ruin the looks of the property. In a case like this, it will surely give the neighbors or just people passing through the idea that you are a bit "snooty" or want to "be alone." Sometimes, of course, it is necessary to build a fence in order to have privacy, but the back yard or a side yard is usually the place for privacy if you live in a neighborhood of front lawns and pretty houses. When you begin to figure up the cost of fencing in the whole front yard, too, you may decide that a smaller area in the back is more practical.

After you have made up your mind whether to build the fence, you will want to go into the matter of what kind is best for your location. Look at the house and design the fence to suit the type of house you live in. Magazines and books are full of pretty fences which will give you an idea of what is most suitable for your own yard.

It takes a fairly heavy fence to support the masses of roses lots of people dream about, so don't put up anything flimsy for roses to hang over. Before you decide that you must have a painted fence, too, figure the cost of painting it every other year at least. Perhaps a rustic material will do just as well if vines or roses are to grow on it.

A lot of people decide that they did not want a fence as badly as they thought they did when they figure up the costs. It is possible, however, to have a combination of fence and planted screen that is very handsome. The combination is not as choppy looking as one might suppose, for the vines and plants on and near the sections of fence will serve to soften the lines of it.

Ride about town and study the fences and hedges you see. You will get very definite ideas of your own from what other people have done. Some garden minded people, you will see, have put up very strong rustic looking or more formal painted rose trellises here and there in their hedges or screens. These trellises can be worked into the scheme of things whether you have a pathway going underneath or not. It is a big job to take twenty running roses off a fence, paint the fence and then prune the roses. Most people just let the fence rot and the roses take over before they will do it!

One very permanent type of fence can be made of small pillars of stone or of brick with openings that run all the way through from side to side for wooden horizontal pieces to rest in. One of the best things about this design is that you can get into the property at any point by simply sliding the wooden pieces out and removing them temporarily. When they rot, they can be replaced, too, with little difficulty. The weakest part of any fence is the part that goes into the ground. If that is made of permanent material, your troubles are over before they start. Of course, it is possible to use wooden uprights if you use pressurized creosoted posts. They are treated under pressure and heat so that the creosote penetrates far into the wood, and they will last many years.

If the appearance of these posts does not fit into your design colors, they can be painted. Most farm magazines carry advertisements for such posts. Be sure that they are pressure creosoted Just painting creosote onto wooden posts does not get it into the wood.

If rabbits are a menace to your garden, you can keep them out by putting a low strip of mesh wire along the base of your fence. Rabbits seem to be very dumb about trying to jump over a low barrier which they could easily get over if they would jump over. In the garden, too, you can keep rabbits away from plants by putting a temporary low barrier around the small section where they are growing.

If you decide to grow ivy or any permanent evergreen vine on your fence, then be sure that the wire is of as good a galvanized quality as you can get. Ivy will be there for years on end, and if the fence wire is not well galvanized, it will rust away in not too many years and then give way under the weight of the vines.

Since a wire fence with ivy on it takes up the minimum of room from the garden, it is well worth putting up a good one. Certainly nothing is handsomer or trimmer looking as a boundary and as a background for flowers. It is best to plant the finer leaved less rampant ivies, of course, because the large coarse ones are too lusty for a fence. You will find yourself trimming and clipping away on these big kinds almost as much as you would on a hedge.

If a fence is definitely out for your place but you must have a hedge, be sure to look over the many fine kinds of holly which are available from Southern nurseries these days. A handsome tall, wide hedge which will grow in sun or shade can be made of Chinese holly, Japanese holly (looks like boxwood), American holly, Yaupon (a native holly) or one of the hybrids created by Dr. Hume for Glen Saint Mary Nurseries. You can buy small plants of any of these and watch them grow into whatever size you need in a hedge. Prepare the ground deeply with a tractor and subsoiler and install good soil from the beginning.

Careless Acts Often Injure Arboreal Pets

A little thoughtfulness goes a long way towards keeping favorite trees handsome, healthy and happy.

But common carelessness can ruin the best of trees. For example, take the practice of using tree limbs and trunks for hanging up clotheslines, swings and hammocks. The rope forms a noose which chafes the bark and may girdle the tree.

Burning brush, papers and other trash near a tree can cause serious damage since trees are so sensitive to excess heat and flames as most other living things.

Throwing sudsy water on the ground near a tree or over the roots is another bad habit. Roots resent it.

Use lawn mowers with care. If the grass is cut too close to a tree, the mower may gouge into the trunk, leaving bark wounds. Automobiles, of course, are a prime menace to trees near driveways. Then there is the children's pastime of hanging targets on trees for archery practice. The arrows which bite into the wood leave holes which form entry points for tree-destroying pests and diseases.

A favorite tree requires the use of good judgment by the home owner if it is to be kept healthy and vigorous. Harsh treatment, even if unintentional, may damage or kill the finest tree.

Trees can be bruised, scarred, burned and fractured without the owner being aware of the damage. That's why it's so important to be careful where trees are concerned. The arboreal giants aren't always as tough and strong as they appear.

Plant Now For Chrysanthemums In Fall Garden

Do not forget that last year's favorite chrysanthemums should be dug up, divided and replanted in an enriched soil. Like phlox, dividing clumps of chrysanthemum every spring is worth the time and effort.

Chrysanthemums are especially valuable in the garden because they are at their best in early and late autumn when so few other perennials are in bloom. The home gardener should not try to start chrysanthemums from seed. It is best to buy plants and set them out now.

These plants should be well-rooted cuttings and not only clumps unless one divides the clumps and plants only the young offshoots. The old center portion should be discarded.

Chrysanthemums must have sunshine at least two thirds of the day, better than average soil and plenty of room for development. Air circulation must be good, so avoid planting in corners, too close to a fence, hedge or building and overhanging eaves. Any friable well-drained soil yet retentive of moisture is satisfactory.

Chrysanthemums should have an approximately neutral soil. Manure or any sort of good humus plus a complete fertilizer rich in phosphorus should be worked well into the soil prior to planting.

An additional advantage of dividing the clumps each year is that it provides an easy method of enriching the soil as well as maintaining flower quality. Side dressings of fertilizer, during summertime, while most helpful, do not serve the same purpose. And bear in mind that chrysanthemums will not succeed in a soggy soil, hence the need for drainage. Plants should be set 10 to 12 inches apart.

Incidentally, many gardeners grow surplus divisions in rows in order to have plants to fill in vacant spots in the flower border or garden. Chrysanthemum plants can be moved in bloom provided a fair sized ball of earth is left about the root system and they are thoroughly watered first. Such plants should be shaded for two or three days, and kept constantly must.

Bushy plants are to be preferred and pinching back from the time tht plants are six inches high until late June is therefore a part of the program. The cushion-type varieties require but one pinching while the tall-growing varieites should be pinched back three or four times. The easiest method is to use the finger and thumb and pinch off an inch and a half or so from the tips.

The first of the worthwhile chrysanthemums to please us with their glorious white-petaled blossoms is the Shasta daisy, chrysanthemum maximum. Recommended are Mt. Shastas which produce, somewhat freely, pure white flowers from June to October, and Wirral Pride with dainty frilled blossoms during late July and early August, and, if the faded blossoms are removed, again in September and early October.

Then follow the recommended early-lowering garden "mums" in a range of colors beyond description. Your nurseyman has a collection which he deems the best ever, so be guided by his recommendations.

Every gardener should include several of the cushion chrysanthemums, a low-growing variety which blooms from July till frost time.

QUIZZING THE GARDENER

Q—There are a lot of starlings visiting my lawn about this time of the year. What would they be feeding on? There are a larger number of holes in the lawn; look like worm holes to me. Would the starlings be after the Japanese bettle grubs?

A—The starlings are after beetle grubs. Treat the lawn with a 40 per cent chlordane mixture, using one pound for each 1000 square feet area. If chlordane is sprayed on use one pound to 10 gallons of water; if spread dry, mix with a bushel of sand or 20 pounds of milorganite.

The Home Shift With Mildred Swift

One week of dry weather! Isn't that fine for our yards, but most of all fine for the farmers. This heat is uncomfortable, but since we live in the cotton belt, we have to like it. We'll just have to relax, slow up and loosen up (the tight clothing).

Gloves

The girls got off to a good start on glove making Thursday. We'll have another class next Thursday, June 4. We'll be glad to have any who are interested come in to observe. The gloves are lovely, well fitted and expensive looking. The average cost is about two dollars or less a pair.

Mimosas

As usual at this time of year the mimosa is at its height. Have you noticed how much darker the blossoms are on some trees? I simply can't find any horticulturist who will say if that's a different variety or a difference in soil. I do know a sprout from a pale blossom plant growing in red clay soil produced blossoms of much deeper color when grown in a deep, rich, loamy soil. We tried that in our yard. One of the prettiest trees in the Twin Cities is in the Landry Garden, 506 Speed. The shape of the mimosa is so interesting that it is lovely when there's no foliage at all. The color of the blossoms blends well with the white and pastel colored houses—but is not at all interesting against red brick.

Progress In A Year

That gumbo soil can be conquered as proved by the W. A. Bennett's, 703 Drago Street, West Monroe. Drive out Cypress and turn left at the 1400 block. That's Drago. The Bennett's used lots of leaf mold, mulch, some sand and complete fertilizer to make the soil usable. Their garden is one year old and is well established. They haven't had time to grow a screen planting for the clothes line.

On your way out to the Bennett's, notice the flowers at Williams Pharmacy, 1215 Cypress. Now this is something every store on Cypress (or any street) could do. This street is the entrance to our cities and could mean much toward drawing tourists this way. At Williams Pharmacy they've day lilies, all inexpensive but beautiful. Even this though, wouldn't be attractive if boxes and trash were piled around. I pass that way several times a day and truly, I've never even seen a gum wrapper around this neat store.

Garden Ramblins'

Most of us just declared we'd never try oleanders again because we lost so many during the severe freeze several years ago. They have been so beautiful this year, I've already made a note to plant several pinks and two whites. There are some lovely pinks in the yard of Boone's Beauty Salon, 101 Louisville. These plants are evergreen (unless the winter is severe). They make lovely screen plantings and grow well in ordinary good loamy soil.

There were a number of unusual plants exhibited at the Monroe Garden Club Flower Show. Two were brought by Mrs. C. C. Lucky, the Tamarix and the smoke tree. Tamarix is sometime called salt cedar. The foliage resembles cedar and the bloom is lavender. It is one of the daintiest shrubs I've ever seen. The smoke tree's real home is Texas. They grow from 4 to 18 feet tall. The blooms look like fluffy puffs. When seen at a distance the blossoms look like puffs of smoke. One of the nurserymen will carry both plants this next year. They are quite showy when planted alone and they combine nicely with other plants.

Insects

Anna Brown and I decided there's no more un-glamorous job in the garden than fighting bugs—but it just has to be done. I've had lots of calls about Pill bugs and sow bugs. Get a 50 percent DDT dust and sprinkle on the ground in your bed. This should take care of Mr. Pill.

One to two pounds of 6 percent Chlordane sprinkled on the lawn will get rid of ants and red bugs. Be sure to buy this chlordane by the pound. The one to two pounds will take care of the average size lawn.

For crawfish, use one pound 50 percent DDT wettable powder to 10 gallons of water. Put about a cup full in each crayfish hole. There are other poisons equally as effective, but that is the easiest one I've found. The North Side Garden Club members are having crawfish troubles.

Moth Control

EQ-53, a new insecticide containing DDT is very good for control of moths and carpet beetles. The chemical is used to put in the water for washable woolens, and can be bought here. Call our office for an instruction sheet before using. Our telephone number is 3-2251.

Mildew Proof Shower Curtains

I find there are some housewives who haven't heard that mildew proof plastic curtains are on the market. I find them only slightly more expensive than those that are covered with mildew in a month's time, so they're less expensive, aren't they?

Space is up. See you next Sunday in this same column.

There were a number of unusual plants exhibited at the Monroe Garden Club Flower Show. Two were brought by Mrs. C. C. Lucky, the Tamarix and the smoke tree. Tamarix is sometime called salt cedar. The foliage resembles cedar and the bloom is lavender. It is one of the daintiest shrubs I've ever seen. The smoke tree's real home is Texas. They grow from 4 to 18 feet tall. The blooms look like fluffy puffs. When seen at a distance the blossoms look like puffs of smoke. One of the nurserymen will carry both plants this next year. They are quite showy when planted alone and they combine nicely with other plants.

Insects

Anna Brown and I decided there's no more un-glamorous job in the garden than fighting bugs—but it just has to be done. I've had lots of calls about Pill bugs and sow bugs. Get a 50 percent DDT dust and sprinkle on the ground in your bed. This should take care of Mr. Pill.

One to two pounds of 6 percent Chlordane sprinkled on the lawn will get rid of ants and red bugs. Be sure to buy this chlordane by the pound. The one to two pounds will take care of the average size lawn.

For crawfish, use one pound 50 percent DDT wettable powder to 10 gallons of water. Put about a cup full in each crayfish hole. There are other poisons equally as effective, but that is the easiest one I've found. The North Side Garden Club members are having crawfish troubles.

Moth Control

EQ-53, a new insecticide containing DDT is very good for control of moths and carpet beetles. The chemical is used to put in the water for washable woolens, and can be bought here. Call our office for an instruction sheet before using. Our telephone number is 3-2251.

Mildew Proof Shower Curtains

I find there are some housewives who haven't heard that mildew proof plastic curtains are on the market. I find them only slightly more expensive than those that are covered with mildew in a month's time, so they're less expensive, aren't they?

Space is up. See you next Sunday in this same column.

PATTERN A799
A CABANA ORIGINAL
by Isabel Dobson

PROMINENT DESIGNER—The hit of Cabana's summer collection is a neckline that's the Nth degree of drama on a dress that's simple—and simply beautiful! You can make this dress in a day—waltz out in it that night (only three pattern parts). If the "ohs" and "ahs" that greeted the Original at the Cabana showing are any indication, you can't possibly be a wallflower in this. "The shoulders are elasticized," says inspired, young American designer Isabel Dobson, "so you can adjust them for a look that's demure by day—daring by night." Thanks to that elastic they stay put, too. Miss Dobson's Original is a flower-sprigged cotton. 'I like a cool, airy fabric for summer," she says. Of course, you, the home dressmaker, can choose your favorite fabric for your own exclusive copy of this Prominent Designer Original.

Pattern A799 is available in Misses' Sizes 10, 12, 14, 16 and 18. Size 16 requires 4¼ yards 35-inch fabric.

SOS!
Yes, we're calling for help!
You see, we bought a huge stock of furniture from one of North Louisiana's largest dealers and we must move it from its present location WITHIN THE NEXT THREE WEEKS!
Some of this stock is new—some but slightly used—a lot was repossessed but regardless, we have knocked down prices to move it quickly.
Matched sets for bedroom, Living Room, Dining Room, Kitchen—chairs, dressers, vanities, china closets, cedar chests, dinettes, baby beds, secretaries, desks, and studio couches are just some of the items offered.
This is truthfully a "MUST SELL" sale. Naturally, we have what we consider a low asking price BUT NO REASONABLE OFFER WILL BE TURNED DOWN!

SOS!
Yes, we're calling for help!
You see, we bought a huge stock of furniture from one of North Louisiana's largest dealers and we must move it from its present location WITHIN THE NEXT THREE WEEKS!
Some of this stock is new—some but slightly used—a lot was repossessed but regardless, we have knocked down prices to move it quickly.
Matched sets for bedroom, Living Room, Dining Room, Kitchen—chairs, dressers, vanities, china closets, cedar chests, dinettes, baby beds, secretaries, desks, and studio couches are just some of the items offered.
This is truthfully a "MUST SELL" sale. Naturally, we have what we consider a low asking price BUT NO REASONABLE OFFER WILL BE TURNED DOWN!

Miss Virginia Lee Becomes Bride Of Lt. George Lester

Impressive Garden Ceremony At Pointe-Aux-Chenes Unites Young Couple; Reception Followed In Drawing Room At Voonegate

In a beautiful garden ceremony at five-thirty o'clock Thursday, Miss Virginia Fontain Lee pledged her wedding vows to Lt. George W. Lester, Jr. Miss Lee is the daughter the late Mr. Lee of Ocean Springs, Miss. Lt. Lester is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Lester of this city.

The wedding was solemnized in the patio of Voonegate, the home of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Leavell, at Pointe-Aux-Chenes. The Rev. Harold H. Hetrick officiated in the presence of members of the families and a few close friends.

The improvised altar was flanked with pedestal baskets filled with magnolias and oleanders. A string orchestra provided background music.

Given in marriage by Mr. James Leavell, the bride was wearing a lovely white organdy patio-length dress trimmed in Irish lace with a bouffant skirt and finger tip veil. She carried a single magnolia.

Maid of honor was Miss Lloyd Lee, sister of the bride. She wore a white embroidered organdy model with a full skirt over yellow taffeta and a Juliet cap. Her bouquet was of daisies. Miss Kay Thompson, a cousin of the bride, served as junior bridesmaid. She was attired in a yellow dotted swiss and also carried daisies.

Mr. Lester was his son's best man.

The bride's mother wore a becoming garden dress of aqua batiste with gardenias. Mrs. Lester was attired in a taupe lace with green accessories and gardenias.

Following the ceremony, the bride's mother entertained with a reception in the drawing room of the Leavell's home. The bride's table was centered by a three-tiered wedding cake topped with gardenias. The punch bowl was surrounded by gardenias and greenery. Artistic arrangements of magnolias were placed at vantage points throughout the drawing room.

COL. CANYON, WE THOUGHT AT FIRST THAT YOU HAD SOME CONTACT WITH THE CHINESE REDS, BUT WHEN WE BROKE THIS CODE MESSAGE AND CHECKED YOUR RECORD YOU CAME OUT CLEAR...

I'M HAPPY TO KNOW THAT, GENERAL, BUT THIS CODE IS STILL ALPHABET SOUP TO ME!

IT WAS TO MR. NAYLOR HERE, TOO! AS A FAR EASTERN EXPERT HE WAS LOOKING FOR ANCIENT NATIVE SYMBOLS, BUT OUR CRYPTANALYSIS PEOPLE FINALLY SAW THAT IT IS STRAIGHT YANKEE — WITH INTERNATIONAL TRIMMINGS!

REMEMBER THAT IT WAS WRITTEN OUT IN BACK-COUNTRY CHINA...WITH ONLY THE COMPOSER'S MEMORY AND A COPY OF A U.S.A.F. PILOT'S HANDBOOK FOR THE EASTERN HALF OF THE U.S. AS REFERENCE SOURCES!

WE REALIZED IT WAS ADDRESSED TO YOU FROM THE "R.L.S." (WHICH IS THE WAY ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON SIGNED HIS NAME) PLUS THE CONTOUR MAP OF A DEEP VALLEY — OR CANYON, TOPPED BY THE MAP SYMBOL FOR AIRFORCE!

THE MESSAGE BEGINS WITH THE ODD SKETCH OF A FLOWER! BY ELIMINATION WE DEDUCED THAT THE BLOSSOM WAS THE WEATHER MAP SYMBOL FOR 'SNOW'! WE KNEW THERE WAS A PRINCESS SNOWFLOWER IN WESTERN CHINA BEFORE THE REDS MOVED IN, SO THAT CHECKS...

showers
hail thunderstorm fog
drizzle

NOW THE WRITER JUMPS TO THE REAL CODE! HE HAS FORMED AN ALPHABET BY USING THE PATTERN OF AIRSTRIPS IN THE PILOT'S HANDBOOK...THE FIRST FIELD STARTING WITH 'A' IS AKRON...ITS RUNWAYS WILL STAND FOR LETTER 'A'! FIRST LISTED UNDER 'B' IS BALTIMORE'S HARBOR FIELD — AND SO ON..

EAST U.S.

Akron
Oceana, Va.
Pamlico City, N.C.
Quantico, Va.
Raleigh, N.C.
St. Louis, Mo.

THE LETTER SYMBOLS ARE SHOWN IN GROUPS, AS IF THEY WERE TWO-LETTER INTERNATIONAL FLAG SIGNAL HOISTS... HENCE (A M) MEANS "REQUIRE A DOCTOR," (U O) "THE SICKNESS IS NOT CONTAGIOUS OR INFECTIOUS"... THE SIGNATURE IS A SKETCH OF A NAVAJO HOUSE — OR 'HOGAN'

A K

—FOLLOWED BY A NOSE PAINTED BLUE! DOES IT MAKE SENSE TO YOU, COL. CANYON?

DOAGIE HOGAN WAS A CASHIERED NAVY PILOT... BLUENOSE WAS OUR CODE NAME FOR AN ESPECIALLY BARREN AIRSTRIP IN THE MOUNTAINS...PRINCESS SNOWFLOWER IS EVIDENTLY ILL AT THAT PLACE...

IT MUST BE IMPORTANT TO KEEP HER ALIVE AS A SYMBOL OF THE RESISTANCE TO RED RULE — AND YOU ARE LOOKING FOR A VOLUNTEER TO TAKE A DOCTOR IN TO HER... RIGHT, SIR?

RIGHT! HOW LONG WILL IT TAKE YOU TO BE READY TO GO?

YOU SEE, SHE OVERHEARD A MAN TRY TO BLACKMAIL HIM RECENTLY BECAUSE OF $44,000 CLINKER HAD HIDDEN IN THE HOUSE...

BUT I SAW YOU TAKE A BOX FROM THE CELLAR AND BURY IT BEHIND A BUILDING EARLIER TONIGHT! WAS THAT YOUR SAVINGS, MR. CLINKER?

WHAT! YOU SAW- HMM! NO, OF COURSE IT WASN'T!

I THINK IT WAS! AND WE CAN SOON FIND OUT!!

SHOW US WHERE HE BURIED IT, AND WE'LL SETTLE THAT BEFORE WE GO ANY FURTHER!

BUT HOW COULD ANYONE BLACKMAIL HIM JUST BECAUSE HE HAD MONEY IN HIS HOUSE?

THAT PUZZLES ME TOO, OFFICER! HERE'S THE PLACE!

HERE'S TH' BOX, AWRIGHT! NOW WE'LL SEE— HMM! WOT'S THIS?
